SOLEMNIZATION OF SPECIAL MARRIAGES.

4. Conditions relating to solemnization of special marriages.—Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force relating to the solemnization of marriages, a marriage between any two persons may be solemnized under this Act, if at the time of the marriage the following conditions are fulfilled, namely:—

(4) If such certificate is not lodged within the time granted by the Marriage Officer under sub-section (1), or if the decision of the court is that the marriage does not contravene any of the conditions specified in section 4, the marriage may be solemnized by the Marriage Officer to whom the notice of marriage has been given.

(5) If the decision of the court is that the marriage contravenes any of the conditions specified in section 4, the marriage shall not be solemnized.

(6) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section, where an objection is made under section 7 to an intended marriage of which notice has been given to a Marriage Officer outside India, the Marriage Officer shall not solemnise the marriage but shall transmit a copy of the objection with such statement respecting the matter as he thinks fit, to the Central Government, and the Central Government, after making such inquiry into the matter and after obtaining such advice as it thinks fit, shall give its decision thereon in writing to the Marriage Officer who shall conform to the decision of the Central Government in this behalf.

9. Penalty where objection not reasonable.—If it appears to the court in which the suit is filed that the objection was not reasonable and bona fide, it may impose on the person objecting additional costs by way of compensation not exceeding one thousand rupees and award the whole or any part of that amount to the parties to the intended marriage.

11. Place and form of solemnization.—(1) The marriage may be solemnized at the office of the Marriage Officer, or at such other place within a reasonable distance therefrom as the parties may desire, and upon such conditions and the payment of such additional fees as may be prescribed.

(2) The marriage may be solemnized in any form which the parties may choose to adopt:

Provided that it shall not be complete and binding on the parties, unless each party says to the other in the presence of the Marriage Officer and the three witnesses,—"I, (A), take thee (B), to be my lawful wife (or husband)."

12. Certificate of marriage.—(1) When the marriage has been solemnized, the Marriage Officer shall enter a certificate thereof in the form specified in the Third Schedule in a book to be kept by him for that purpose and to be called the Marriage Certificate Book and such certificate shall be signed by the parties to the marriage and the three witnesses.

(2) On a certificate being entered in the Marriage Certificate Book by the Registrar, the Certificate shall be deemed to be conclusive evidence of the fact that a marriage under this Act has been solemnized and that all formalities respecting the signatures of witnesses have been complied with, but nothing contained in this sub-section shall apply to render a marriage valid which would otherwise have been invalid.

13. New notice when marriage not solemnized within three months.—Whenever a marriage is not solemnized within three calendar months from the date on which notice thereof has been given to the Marriage Officer as required by section 5, or, where the person objecting to the intended marriage has filed a suit in a court of competent jurisdiction and the decision of such court has been given, within three calendar months from the date on which the period allowed by law for appeal from such decision expires, or if there is an appeal from such decision within three calendar months from the date of the decision of the appellate court, or where a copy of the objection has been transmitted to the Central Government under sub-section (6) of section 8, within three months from the date of decision of the Central Government, the notice and all other proceedings arising therefrom shall be deemed to have lapsed and no Marriage Officer shall allow the marriage to be solemnized until a new notice has been given in the manner laid down in this Part.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill revises and seeks to replace the Special Marriage Act of 1872 so as to provide a special form of marriage which can be taken advantage of by any person in India and by all Indian nationals in foreign countries irrespective of the faith which either party to the marriage may profess. The parties may observe any ceremonies for the solemnization of their marriage, but certain formalities are prescribed before the marriage can be registered by the Marriage Officers. For the benefit of Indian citizens abroad, the Bill provides for the appointment of Diplomatic and Consular Officers as Marriage Officers for solemnising and registering marriages between citizens of India in a foreign country.

2. Provision is also sought to be made for permitting persons who are already married under other forms of marriage to register their marriages under this Act and thereby avail themselves of these provisions.

3. The Bill is drafted generally on the lines of the existing Special Marriage Act of 1872 and the notes on clauses attached hereto explain some of the changes made in the Bill in greater detail.

C. C. BISWAS.

NEW DELHI;
The 23rd July, 1952.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 1.—The Act is to have extra territorial operation so as to permit of marriages between citizens of India being solemnised outside India.

Clause 3.—Diplomatic and Consular Officers may be appointed as Marriage Officers outside India.

Clause 4.—Apart from the fact that the provisions of this Act, if passed, will apply to all persons marrying thereunder irrespective of the religion they may possess, the other changes of importance which have been made in this clause, as compared with section 3 of Act III of 1872, are the following, namely:—

(a) the addition of a new condition relating to idiocy and lunacy, as in sub-clause (b);

(b) the raising the age limit for marriage to 18 in the case of either party, subject to the obtaining the consent of the father or guardian where he or she has not attained the age of 21 years;

(c) the provision for marriages abroad between citizens of India;

(d) the re-statement of prohibited degrees in simpler terms.

Clauses 5 to 12.—Apart from minor drafting changes, these clauses correspond to sections 4 to 13 of Act III of 1872 except that in clauses 5 and 11 the period of 14 days now available is being increased to 30 days. Incidentally, in clause 8 a special provision is sought to be made for the disposal of objections in the case of intended marriages abroad.

Clause 13 is a new and useful provision on the lines of section 52 of the Christian Marriage Act, 1872.

Clauses 14 to 17 are new and provide for the registration under this Act of marriages solemnised in other forms, so as to enable the parties thereto to avail themselves of the benefits of this Act. No application for such registration can, however, be made unless it is signed by both the parties to the marriage.

Clauses 18 to 27 correspond to sections 22, 23, 25, 26, 17, 24, 19, 15, 16 and 21, respectively of Act III of 1872. With respect to clause 19, the Caste Disabilities Removal Act, 1850, provides that so much of any law or usage as may be held in any way to impair or affect any right of inheritance of any person by reason of his or her renouncing or having been excommunicated from the communion of any religion or being deprived of caste shall cease to be enforced as law. In clause 21 it is now provided that the mother also, if otherwise entitled, may adopt a son.

Clauses 28 to 33.—Although some of these clauses are new, they are self-explanatory and do not call for any comment.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In pursuance of a recommendation of the Conference of the Local Self-Government Ministers of States held on the 7th August, 1948, the Government of India set up the Central Committee on Cantonments under the Chairmanship of Shri S. K. Patil. The Committee inter alia reviewed the working of the Cantonments Act, 1924 and after taking into account the views and suggestions of State Governments, Local Bodies, Associations and individuals, made certain recommendations for amending the Act. The amendments proposed in this Bill are mainly based on the recommendations of that Committee. The amendments aim largely at increasing the efficiency of administration of Cantonment Boards and to bring the system of election in line with general principles adopted for Parliamentary and Municipal elections. It is proposed to abolish communal reservation on Boards and also to provide that one person should not be allowed to be a member of two Local Bodies at the same time. Certain consequential changes have also been made as a result of the introduction of adult franchise. Power has been taken by the Government to fill up short term vacancies in the office of the Executive Officer by Military Officers when officers of the Military Land and Cantonment Service are not readily available. Boards have been vested with greater powers in respect of recovery of dues and other matters for the sake of improving the efficiency in the administration. Certain amendments are intended to clarify some doubts about the application of certain sections. The Bill also deals with some minor difficulties disclosed by the working of the Act.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL WEST BENGAL, 8, LYONS RANGE, SECOND FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

In the matter of reference No. 172Dis./10L-21/51, dated 19th October 1951, as amended by orders Nos. 213Dis./10L-21/51, dated 5th February 1952, and 750Dis./10L-21/51 of the 3rd April 1952 of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, and in the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. National Carbon Co. (India), Limited, 5, Rustomjee Parsee Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Paresh Nath Thakur and others, C/o National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., 5, Rustomjee Parsee Road, and in the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, and in the matter of Deoballav Rout and 10 other employees of the National Carbon Co. (India), Limited (Case No. 21 of 1952).

PRESENT:

SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the complainant: Sri Panchanan Bhattacharjee.

For the opposite party: Dr. J. K. Bose, Labour Adviser, Indian Engineering Association.

AWARD.

Pursuant to the order of reference No. 172Dis., dated the 19th October 1951, for adjudication of an industrial dispute between Messrs. National Carbon Company, (India), Limited, and their workmen, proceedings were started immediately on receipt of the order of reference and the award was submitted to the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, on 26th July 1952. The award has not yet been published as required by section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The proceedings shall accordingly be deemed to be still pending.

The present complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act was filed by 11 employees of the National Carbon Company (India), Limited, headed by Deoballav Rout on 24th April 1952. Admittedly the proceedings before this Tribunal were pending then.

The complaint is that "employers want to close the factory for various days which act will mean loss of earnings to the employees". It may be noted that the Company has not obtained any permission from this Tribunal to close the factory.

The Company opposes the present application. It claims to have contravened section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act.

Section 33 of the amended Act prohibits, during pendency of any conciliation proceeding or proceedings before a Tribunal in respect of any industrial dispute, alteration, to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in such dispute, of the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of such proceedings or discharge, or punishment, by dismissal or otherwise, of any workman concerned in such dispute except with the express permission in writing of the Conciliation Officer or the Tribunal as the case may be. Section 33A of the amended Industrial Disputes Act authorises the Tribunal to assume jurisdiction over an industrial dispute arising out of the violation of the provisions of the section 33 of the Act as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, without a formal reference from the appropriate Government under section 10 of the Act. This is a special provision and the conditions under which this special provision may be invoked must be fulfilled before the Tribunal can assume jurisdiction over an industrial dispute, without any order of reference from the appropriate Government as contemplated by the general section (section 10 of the Act). The conditions are:—

(i) That the adjudication proceedings must be pending before the Tribunal.

(ii) That during pendency of the proceedings, the employers have contravened the provision of section 33.

(iii) That such contravention is in respect of the workman or workmen who are concerned in the dispute, pending for adjudication.

(iv) That the contravention is to the prejudice of the workman or workmen concerned.

In the present case the act complained of had not been completed when the petition of complaint was filed. The employers are said to have intended to close the factory on various days. Mere apprehension does not bring the intended act within the scope of section 33 of the amended Act and does not amount to a contravention of the provisions of the said section, and hence does not authorise the Tribunal to assume jurisdiction over the mere apprehension of the employees.

Assuming that this Tribunal can assume jurisdiction over an apprehension of the employees, a question arises as to whether the Tribunal can give any relief to the employees for the apprehended closure of the factory. It has not been made clear in the petition of complaint, the nature of the intended closure except that it was intended to be temporary. It may be a lock-out or a closure on account of breakdown of machineries or shortage of raw material causing involuntary unemployment of the employees. It has been settled that a lock-out is not hit by section 33 of the amended Act. Temporary closure of the factory on account of a breakdown in the machineries or shortage of raw material or under such circumstances as are beyond the control of the management is a necessary incident of an industry. The management has inherent right to close down the factory under circumstances beyond its control. It could not have been and has not been prohibited by any legislation. If this right cannot be denied to the management, the consequence which follows cannot be avoided by any legislation. However, as a gesture of good feelings the employers pay some compensation to the employees who are thrown out of employment temporarily under circumstances beyond the control of the management. With a view to maintain good feelings between employers and employees and with a view that the employers may utilise the services of such employees when the employers are in a position to carry on their business, the Tribunal Judges recommended some compensation to be paid to the having appointed himself to be his election agent at the said election, has, in accordance with the decision given by the Election Commission under sub-rule (4) of the said rule, failed to lodge the return of election expenses within the time and in the manner required and has thereby incurred the disqualifications under clause (c) of section 7 and section 143 of the Representation of the People Act, 1951 (XLIII of 1951), is hereby published:—

No. WB-LC/52(9).—In pursuance of sub-rule (5) of rule 114 of the Representation of the People (Conduct of Elections and Election Petitions) Rules, 1951, the name of the person shown in column 1 of the Schedule below who, having been nominated as a candidate for election to the West Bengal employees. This is an equitable relief. Involuntary unemployment under circumstances beyond the control of the management is one of the terms and conditions of service of the employees and does not amount to an alteration of the terms and conditions of their service. In any view of the case the complaint is not maintainable and must be rejected. This is my award.

Such allowance during leave shall be calculated on the basis of the leave salary actually drawn and at the rate at which it was admissible immediately before the Commissioner proceeded on leave.

PART X—GENERAL PROVISIONS.

24. In respect of any matter for which special provision is not made by these rules, the conditions of service of a person serving as a member of the Commission or on the staff thereof shall be governed by the rules and orders for the time being applicable to such classes of Government servants as shall be specified by the State Government.

PART XI—PROCEDURE OF THE COMMISSION.

25. If the Chairman is unable to be present at a meeting of the Commission, one of the members appointed in this behalf by the Chairman shall act for him, and shall have all the powers of the Chairman at that meeting:

Provided that, unless the Chairman otherwise directs, no action shall be taken upon any decision arrived at in a meeting at which he was not present until he has been informed, of such decision; and upon being so informed, he may direct that any such decision shall be reconsidered at a meeting at which he is present.

26. No proceedings of the Commission shall be invalidated merely by reason of any vacancy in the office of the Chairman or a member.

27. The quorum for a meeting of the Commission shall be two, but the Chairman or any member acting for him may adjourn any business at a meeting if he is of opinion that the business cannot be conveniently transacted owing to the non-attendance of any member or of the Chairman, as the case may be.

28. All decisions of the Commission shall be recorded by the Secretary.

29. Whenever under these rules or under the Act, the Commission is required to give advice or submit proposals to, or be consulted by, the Corporation or the Commissioner, the decision of the Commission shall be communicated in a letter signed by the Secretary, and in a case where the decision is not unanimous, neither the fact of, nor the ground for, dissent shall be communicated unless the Chairman so directs.

30. The Commission may refer any matter to an individual member or to the Chairman or to a Committee, consisting of the Chairman and such of the members and such other persons, if any, as the Chairman may appoint, for consideration and report to the Commission.

31. The Chairman or, in his absence, a member nominated by the Chairman in this behalf may deal with any urgent matter appearing to the Chairman or such member, as the case may be, to require immediate action. Such action shall, if taken by the Chairman, be reported to the Commission at its next meeting, and, if taken by another member, be reported to the Chairman and by him to the Commission at its next meeting.

32. In matters for which no provision is made by these rules, the Commission may regulate its proceedings in such manner as it thinks fit.

33. (1) The Commission may at any time call for any record, report, or information, which may in its opinion be necessary to enable it to discharge its functions, from the Corporation, or from the Commissioner or from any head of a department or other authority subordinate to the Corporation or the Commissioner; and such record, report or information shall be forwarded to the Commission without undue delay by the Corporation or the Commissioner or the authority concerned unless the Corporation certifies that the same—

(a) cannot be forwarded without undue labour, or

(b) should be withheld in the public interest, or

(c) is not necessary to enable the Commission to discharge its functions.

(2) If the Corporation gives a certificate as mentioned in sub-rule (1) in respect of any record, report or information called for by the Commission under that sub-rule, the Commission may refer the matter to the State Government whose decision shall be final.

PART XII—THE MANNER IN WHICH THE DUTIES OF THE COMMISSION SHOULD BE PERFORMED.

34. When any examination is to be held by the Commission under sub-section (3) of section 81 of the Act for the purpose of recruitment to any post or posts under the Corporation, the Commission shall—

(b) If the Commission decides that the vacancy should not be filled by promotion but should be filled by direct recruitment, the Commission shall invite applications and take such other steps as it may consider necessary for the purpose of recommending candidates for appointment to the vacancy.

(c) If the Commission considers that the vacancy may be filled by promotion, the Commission shall consider the claims of such officers as may be recommended by the appointing authority for promotion to fill the vacancy and may, after obtaining from the appointing authority the necessary particulars in respect of all other officers possessing the qualifications prescribed for the posts, also consider the claims of such other officers as in their opinion are eligible for promotion to that vacancy and thereafter advise the appointing authority in respect of each of the officers recommended by the appointing authority and of the other officers whose claims are considered by the Commission, whether his qualifications are sufficient and whether his record proves him to have the character and ability requisite for the post to which it is proposed to appoint him on promotion and arrange the officers recommended by the Commission for promotion in order of preference.

36. In any case in which the advice or recommendation of the Commission is sought, the record of the case shall be forwarded to the Commission and the opinion given or recommendation made by the Commission shall form part of the record of the case.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDER.

No. 2499Dis./11-196/52.—5th September 1952.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1819Dis./D/11L-246/52, dated the 7th July 1952, the industrial dispute between San Equip, Ltd., Choramara, Serampore, Hooghly (Managing Agents, Messrs. S. K. Chakraborty, Ltd., 1/1B, Mission Row, Calcutta), and their workmen represented by San Equip Mazdoor Union, 2, Netaji Avenue, Serampore, Hooghly, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Fourth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Fourth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

Industrial dispute between San Equip, Ltd., Choramara, Serampore, Hooghly (Managing Agents: Messrs. S. K. Chakravarty, Ltd., 1/1B, Mission Row, Calcutta), and their workmen represented by San Equip Ltd. Mazdoor Union, 2, Netaji Avenue, Serampore, referred to under Government orders Nos. 175Dis./11L-246/51, dated the 19th October 1951 and 1819Dis./D/11L-246/52, dated the 7th July 1952.

* * * * * *

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SRI S. C. MUKHERJI, District Judge, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri B. K. Ghosh, Pleader.

For the Union: Sri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate instructed by Sri Bishnu Charan Banerji, President of the Union and Sri Dulal Chandra Das, Secretary of the Union.

AWARD.

By order No. 175Dis./11L-246/51, dated 19th October 1951, the Government of West Bengal have constituted a Tribunal of one Judge under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), and referred the said dispute originally to Sri M. C. Banerji for adjudication.

Reference was received on 20th October 1951. The Union filed written statement on 12th November 1951. The Company filed written statement on 26th December 1951. Issues referred to for adjudication were the issues framed by this Court and they are as follows:—

(1) Question of reinstatement of those persons who were retrenched on 2nd September 1950 and have not yet been taken back.

(2) Gratuity and/or other compensation payable to these men.

Subsequently on 21st May 1952 an additional written statement was filed by the Company. The same dispute was thereafter referred to me by Government of West Bengal order No. 1819Dis./D/11L-246/52, dated 7th July 1952, and the proceedings have continued before me under section 8 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The case was taken up for hearing and was argued on 21st July 1952 and continued till 22nd July 1952. Neither party adduced any oral evidence. At the desire of the parties I inspected the Factory on 25th July 1952. Arguments were again heard and now I proceed to give my Award.

The case for the Union is that the Company aforesaid are manufacturing sanitary equipment such as tanks, pipes, etc., and had originally its two departments—(1) Foundry Department and (2) Fitting Department. In February 1950 the abovenamed Company closed down its Foundry shop; and in consequence an industrial dispute arose which was referred to Sri G. Palit, Tribunal Judge, for adjudication. Sri G. Palit made an Award on 28th June 1950 and this was published in the Calcutta Gazette on 27th June 1950, thereupon on 28th of August 1950 the abovenamed Company illegally and with an ulterior motive issued notice intimating to close down the Fitting Shop with effect from 3rd of September 1950 and thereby locked out 48 workmen whose names and periods of service are given in Annexure attached to the application. It was followed by conciliation proceedings before the Labour Commissioner and by the last week of September 1950 the Company again reopened the Fitting Shop and allowed only 15 workmen out of those locked out to rejoin. They also re-employed three more workmen belonging to the Foundry Shop Department and previously retrenched. Since then the abovenamed Company up till the date of filing the written statement appointed 30 new hands (these rose to 65 at the date of the trial) and the Company deliberately and with a view to disorganising the Union did not take back any of the remaining locked out workmen. The Union, therefore, prays for reinstatement of the workmen so locked out and also prays for an order directing the Company to grant gratuity or other compensation that may be found due and proper.

The Company in their written statement stated that due to the extreme financial stringency the Management had to close down the Factory, as the workmen could not be paid their wages, that at the time of the reopening the Management put as many hands as possible from its retrenched staff, that the Management had no other alternative but to close down the Factory and it had no vindictive motive behind.

Subsequently the Company filed the other written statement and pleaded that they opened altogether a new department to prevent expenditure out of pocket and to keep up the Factory in good condition, that the remaining old hands who had not the technical skill to keep up with the new trend of work could not be taken in, that they have, however, no objection to take in men numbering 1 to 8 as soon as they secured adequate work provided they are found suitable for the type of work at the hand of the Management. Regarding persons Nos. 9 to 29, Company's case is that these coolies went home and were not available at the time of recruitment and hence they were left out. The Company has, however, the desire to take the best opportunity to get them back when work increases and their resources improved. Regarding men numbering 30 to 47 their case is that these people had already been taken in with the exception of No. 39 who had joined Police Department leaving service of the Company after his fresh recruitment.

I next proceed to record my decision on the issues referred to me for adjudication.

DECISION.

Issue No. 1.

In the case of B. & C. Mills, 11 L.L.J.; page 314, the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal observed:

"In the case before us, the standing order provides for three types of cases in which the services of an employee can be terminated, namely, (1) automatic termination for absence without leave for a stated period, or for overstaying leave without satisfactory explanation; (2) discharge on notice or in lieu thereof payment of wages for a certain period without assigning any reason and (3) dismissal for misconduct.

* * * * * *

In all these types, the requirement of bona fides is essential. The termination of service in colourable exercise of the power or as a result of victimisation or unfair labour practice or of caprice, should be prevented, as otherwise some of the fundamental rights and principles which we have noticed above would be violated. Arbitrary conduct or unnecessary harshness on the part of the employer, judged by the normal standard of a reasonable man, may be cogent evidence of victimisation or unfair labour practice.

* * * * * *

In the second type of cases (with which we are concerned), even when the standing order authorises discharge on notice without assignment of reason the scope of enquiry would be similar. If the termination of service be held to be justified no further question would arise, though in exceptional cases there may be scope for giving compensation. On examining the cases with this approach if the tribunal finds the termination to be unjustified the question of relief—reinstatement and/or payment of compensation—will arise and in dealing with that question the considerations arising in cases of wrongful dismissal would be applicable."

It has been also held in that case by their Lordships:

"The normal rule in such cases should be reinstatement; but in so ordering, the tribunal is expected to be inspired by a sense of fairplay towards the employee on one hand and considerations of discipline in the concern on the other.

* * * * * *

It is not possible to lay down the rules which could be regarded as exhaustive on the subject. Each case would have to be considered on its merits, but within the general framework of the principle indicated above."

It was contended by the Union that the story of the Management that they opened a new department and this was entirely a new type of work, was an afterthought stated for the first time on 2nd May 1952. In their original written statement filed on 26th December 1951 no such story of new enterprise being opened is to be found. On the contrary, the Management admitted its obligation and asserted that at the reopening it has taken as many as possible from its retrenched staff. The story of the Management that the remaining workers had not got the technical skill to cope up with new trend of work is not also to be found in the first written statement, wherein it was simply stated that the Management appointed its workmen from its retrenched workers mostly who were essential to the Factory for the present, and that regarding the balance of men numbering 1 to 8 in the Annexure "A" they have no objection to take them back as soon as they have greater fund resources and adequate work provided they are suitable for the type of work at their hand. That the Union had this obligation was not denied by the Company but it was contended that the obligation was not legally enforceable. However, I will discuss this point for the purpose of finding out the legal force behind it. The standpoint of the Company taken for the first time by their written statement filed on 2nd May 1952 is that due to financial loss they had closed down their former business and have started a new enterprise. No doubt the balance sheets of the Company of the years 1949 and 1950 disclose that in 1949 the Company suffered a loss to the extent of Rs. 85,005-1 and in the year 1950 by a further loss of Rs. 1,08,682-10, and this may give the Company an incentive to close down some of the departments. But whether the closure was a bona fide or only a colourable one is to be looked from the circumstances of the case. It is nowhere the Company's case even in the belated written statement that there was a complete closure of the Fitting Department for good. The version of the Company is that in its good days it was doing the work of Keymer Bagshowe & Company (India), Ltd., and also of other companies and subsequently after it has closed down they were emboldened to start anew being financed by the said Company and for doing exclusively their work. Even if this position is accepted, still the Management and everything remaining the same—as I find from the Company's papers as also from the impression which I gathered having a look round the Factory itself—it is practically the same business continuing and the Company had its legal and moral obligation to employ its old workers as far as practicable. It has been previously held:

> "Where the employer closed the factory in order to avoid the payment of wages at a higher rate and subsequently reopened the Factory while the same circumstances were continuing the Labour Appellate Tribunal held that the closure amounted to unfair labour practice" [1951(2): L.L.J. page 509.]

In the present case the closure was due to the fact that the Company was unable to pay the wages of its workers regularly, and in my opinion, the same principle would also apply to this case. So I do not, however, propose to place the Company's case so low as that. But I hold that the Company here has restarted the same business on a smaller scale on account of financial difficulties with some of the same set of old workers. Regarding the others who are surplus, Company must therefore follow the principle as laid down in the Government of India Rules in connection with principle of retrenchment of the surplus staff. In such cases the Government of India Rules provide that the Company is bound to maintain a list of discharged workers and in filling future vacancies a preference should be given to the discharged persons. This is the principle which should be applied everywhere, where the employees have been retrenched for no fault of their own. But in this case the Company while admitting its obligation had not followed the aforesaid rule of giving priority to its old workers as it will appear from the following discussions and as a result the Company has been unjust and unfair to its employees. It is not controverted that Dulal Chandra Das being No. 1 of the Annexure "A" is the Secretary of the Union, of which the other persons named in the Annexure are members But the Company's case is that they had no ulterior motive as they had no information about these facts. In the absence of evidence that the Company was disgusted with them for Union activity, they therefore cannot be said to have been victimised. If the Company intended to disorganise the Union it would have sacked all the office bearers on a mass scale. But this is not the case here. So the unfair and unjust treatment meted out to them cannot be taken as instance of victimisation. I next propose to point out how the Company had been unfair to these persons and I would deal with their cases one by one.

With regard to Dulal it is found that he has been described in the Company's book as a Fitter and it is further found there that in the "Fitting Shop General" the Company has taken in one Sri Tarapada Das who is also a Fitter, and in the Structural Department they have taken in one Sufal Kotal who was engaged on 26th September as a Fitter and one Brij Rabidas who was also engaged as a Fitter on the same day and Krishna Bhaduri was employed subsequently in March 1952 at first as an unpaid helper and later as a Fitter. It does not appear that Dulal or the other man No. 8 Markanda Roy of the Annexure who is also described in the Company's book as a Fitter were given a fair trial. On behalf of the Company it was contended that Tarapada was an old man, but I cannot agree with this contention as he was admittedly not on the muster-roll on 2nd of September when the Fitting Department was closed down. He was in service some time before 1950 March when he left Company's employment of his own accord. I think his case cannot stand on any better equitable consideration in presence of Dulal No. 1 and Markanda No. 8 in the Annexure. Those who were on the muster-roll on the date of closure had certainly better equity than those who were on the Company's employ previously but were not on the muster-roll on the date of closure.

As regards Sufal, Brij Rabidas and Krishna Bhaduri it was sought to be contended that they were Contractor's men. But in any view of the case they cannot have better equity than the locked out workmen. I, therefore, hold there had been unfair treatment to No. 1 and No. 8 as no fair trial was given to them at the time of appointment of Fitters named above.

As regards No. 2 Kartick Chandra Ghosh I find that he is a Drillman. The Company has engaged Sri Narayan Chandra Mukherji who is an old hand and had been on the muster-roll on the date of closure. The Union admitted that he had better equities than Kartick. Kartick's case therefore will stand on a different footing and I will hold that he had as yet nothing to complain against the Management.

Next I shall consider the case of No. 3 of the Annexure Phanindra Nath Karmakar. He has been described as a Blacksmith in the Company's book and it appears that his case was not considered when in the Blacksmith's Shop a new man of the name Muneswar was appointed by the Company. In his case also the Company pleaded that this man was an old hand. But inasmuch as he was not on the muster-roll on the 2nd of September when the Fitting Department was closed down, he cannot have better equities than the persons named above. In his case I hold that he had been aggrieved as his case was not considered at the time of appointment of Muneswar in the Blacksmith's shop.

Next I shall take up the case of No. 4 Dhoura Bhar who is a Machineman. I find that he was not in the roster on the 2nd September, i.e., on the date the Fitting Department was closed down. So the Union has admitted that they have no case so far as No. 4 is concerned.

Next I will take up the case of No. 5 who is a cooli and not mistry and so he will share the lot of other coolies numbering 9 to 29 and I will consider his case along with them.

As regards No. 6 Paresh Chandra Mazumdar who is a Carpenter I find that the Company has employed one Tarak Biswas, an old hand, who was on the Company's muster-roll on the date of the closure. So there was no unfair treatment. His case will stand in the same footing as of No. 2.

As regards No. 7 Sudhir Chandra Chakravarti who is described in the Company's book as a Machine Boy. The Company has engaged one man in the Machine Shop, viz., Harish Das who is a new man and also another man Banamali Giri who is again a new man in the Structural Fitting and Non-Ferrous Casting Department, and when these persons were appointed no fair trial was given to Sudhir Chandra Chakravarti, a Machine Boy. It was contended on behalf of the Company that they had to take in Harish Das on the demand of their customer Keymer Bagshowe & Co. to be an attendant on the new machine supplied by them. Letter addressed by the Keymer Bagshowe & Co., was shown to me. But that letter is only recommendatory and it was never a condition precedent to the supply of the machine that this man is to be taken in as an attendant to the new machine. So he cannot outweigh equities in favour of Sudhir Chandra Chakravarti. I may also point out that he had also better equities to the new hand Banamali Giri. The Company urged that Banamali is a worker of a better calibre. The muster-roll of the Company shows that he has been described as a Semi-Structural Fitter. But it is not possible in the absence of expert evidence to say that Semi-Structural Fitter would be a man of a better calibre than the Machine Boy Sudhir Chakravarti. The Company has not adduced definite evidence on the point but a reference to their wages discloses that Sudhir Chakravarti who was getting 4 annas per hour was a man of the calibre as the new man Banamali who was also getting annas 4-6 pies per hour. I, therefore, think that under these circumstances Sudhir Chandra Chakravarti had better case as against them. But inasmuch as Sudhir Chakravarti was not given a fair trial at the time of appointment of either of Harish Das or of Banamali Giri, his case stands in the same footing with those of Nos. 13, 1, 3 and 8.

Next I will consider the case of coolies Nos. 9 to 29 as also of No. 5. The Company's muster-roll discloses that they have employed in all 21 coolies. The Union admitted that of these 21 coolies two were old hands, but they contended that the remaining 19 posts should have been offered to the 22 coolies whose case the Union represented and inasmuch as this was not done they have been victimised. In the Company's register there are six other persons without designation, but the Union has not urged that these persons were coolies as they were drawing higher wages. On behalf of the Company it is urged that at the time of appointment of these 21 coolies—the Union coolies were not available as they had gone to their home after being satisfied with the wages for the notice period. I must also point out here that the case of these coolies with the exception of Nos. 5 and 9 of the Annexure "A" stands on a quite different footing. Before the Conciliation Officer the Union only pleaded for re-employment for 20 workers including workers 1, 3, 7, 8 and coolies 5 and 9. This leads to the inference that the remaining coolies were satisfied with the compensation they got and it is thus possible that they left for home as stated by the Company. These coolies do not come to pledge their oath before Court to prove their case. Under the circumstances I am constrained to hold that the coolies Nos. 10 to 29 were not entitled to re-open the question whether the closure was bona fide or not. The absence of representations about their case during conciliation proceedings is a proof positive in support of the Company's case that these coolies went home on the closure of the Factory after receipt of their dues from the Company and by their conduct they were estopped to re-agitate the issue over again. The coolies have also failed to prove for what period, if any, they remained unemployed. I, therefore, hold that only in the case of coolies Nos. 5 and 9 there was discrimination and preferential treatment and they are entitled to compensation as in case of workers Nos. 1, 3, 8 and 7, and as regards the rest they have no grievance and their case stands in the same footing as Nos. 2 and 6.

In these circumstances, the remedy of workers 1, 3, 7 and 8 and coolies 5 and 9 will be to get compensation instead of reinstatement. I would not order reinstatement in their cases because of the fact that other complications had intervened in the meantime, viz., the interest of innocent third parties is likely to be jeopardised by such order of reinstatement. I would further refrain from taking that step in consideration of the fact that this is likely to create another industrial dispute which, if possible, should be avoided instead of fomenting it in order to settle the existing industrial dispute. After all, the ultimate aim of this Tribunal would be to establish social justice and peaceful industrial relation. Even in the case of B. & C. Mills their Lordships observed that each case would have to be considered on its merits. Sri S. N. Modak in his Award in the industrial dispute between National Iron & Steel Co., Calcutta, and their workmen, enforced under Government of West Bengal, order No. 860Lab., dated 25th February 1949, observed that "in cases of discharge not only under circumstances mentioned therein on the ground of unfair labour practice, etc., but also in case of discharge under circumstances of closure of the concern, retrenchment, etc., the industrial tribunal is entitled to exercise its powers in the interest of social justice and peaceful industrial relation and may award compensation such as ordinary Court of Law would not be entitled to do". The Labour Appellate Tribunal also in the case reported in 1951(2): L.L.J. page 483 laid down that:

> "when an employee is unjustifiably dismissed the normal relief would have been reinstatement; but the normal remedy could be departed from when other circumstances are present. In granting relief the matter is not to be viewed altogether subjectively from the point of view of the employer or the employee, but also objectively in the interest of the industry for bringing about harmony in the relationship between the two. Where there would be no harmonious relationship if an order for reinstatement were made, there should be no reinstatement; and if the employee had been victimised a heavy penalty in the shape of compensation alone ought to be imposed upon the employer".

The question now is what should be the proper amount of compensation and whether I should declare that their claims should be considered in case of subsequent recruitment by the employer. The Company in their written statement desired to take in its workers in their midst at the first opportunity. I have already shown that this obligation of the Company is enforceable both in law and in equity. I should, therefore, declare that the Company must maintain a list of their retrenched workers and I think that they must have a preferential claim at the time of future recruitment.

Issue No. 2.

As regards amount of compensation Hon'ble Justice K. C. Sen in an appeal before the Industrial Court, Bombay, cited and relied on the two English Cases—Elderton v. Emmeus as also Beckham v. Drake. In the former case it was held that:

> "where a servant seeks compensation for the injury he has sustained by a discharge amounting to justifiable repudiation of a contract, the measure of damages would be the actual loss which may be much less than wages, where another employment may be easily obtained".

In the latter case the same view is expressed in another way, viz., that:

> "measure of damages would be obtained by considering what is the usual rate of wages for the employment contracted for, and what time would be lost before a similar employment could be obtained".

In the case reported in 1951(1) L.L.J. page 24, the Company retrenched 117 workers for bona fide reasons. There was a contract between the parties that the Company shall be entitled to retrench the workers on serving them with 14 days' notice or payment of wages for 14 days in lieu of notice. That part of the contract was kept. But the Union claimed compensation on the ground that the retrenched employees who are permanent workers who had put in 2 to 4 years' service and that they had suffered considerable hardship as most of them had not found employment elsewhere. The Company put the Union to strict proof of this allegation. The Union produced 4 or 5 workers who stated that they were unemployed. The Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal held that "when the Union was put to strict proof it was bound to show the period for which these 117 workmen were unemployed. There can be no legal presumption that they had not found employment elsewhere. In the absence of evidence to show as to whether all or any of the retrenched workmen remained unemployed and what period, it would not be just or equitable to award compensation to all of them". In the present case the Union simply prayed for reinstatement but adduced no evidence to show whether the workmen remained unemployed, and if so, for what period. I cannot persuade myself to believe that these mistries or these coolies spent their days idly and made no earning during the entire lockout period. That being so, their claim for wages for the entire lock-out period cannot be awarded. Besides, I have already referred to the financial condition of this Company. It had suffered a heavy loss in the year 1949 and a further heavier loss in the year 1950. The Company is negotiating for loans with the idea of expanding business. A heavy liability placed on the Company in the circumstances would amount to a denial of the opportunity. With this is to be considered the fact that these workmen have been unjustly locked out for the period from 2nd September 1950 till now and also the fact that before the Conciliation Officer the Union simply pressed for gratuity at the rate of 15 days a year and even then the Company was not pleased to accept their demand.

The Union also pressed for other leave and holidays, etc. They have also pressed for gratuity before me, but I think the interest of justice will be met if the workers who have been aggrieved, viz., Nos. 1, 3, 7 and 8 and coolies Nos. 5 and 9 are awarded additional compensation for 7 days' wages for those who have put in service up to 3 months and for 15 days for those who have put in service up to 6 months and at the rate of 15 days for service of each successive 6 months or a part thereof. As regards the workers Nos. 2, 6, and the remaining coolies numbering 10 to 29, I would only leave a direction that they will have a preferential claim at the time of next recruitment during expansion of business if the hopes of the Company are realised. The claim of worker No. 4 is rejected as he was not in the muster-roll of the Company on the 2nd of September when the Company closed its Fitting Department.

In calculating compensation awarded, the basic pay and dearness allowance last drawn by the workers including coolies will have to be taken into consideration. The amount so awarded is to be paid half within one month from the date when this Award becomes enforceable and the other half within the next one month.

ORDER.

No. 2496Dis./D/11L-53/52.—5th September 1952.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1503Dis./D/11L-53/52, dated the 28th May 1952, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Brahmachari Research Institute, 82/3, Cornwallis Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Brahmachari Research Institute Karmachari Samity, 82/3, Cornwallis Street, Calcutta, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the First Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said First Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, 8, LYONS RANGE, SECOND FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

In the matter of reference No. 1503Dis./D/11L-53/52, dated the 28th May 1952, as amended by order No. 1561Dis./D/11L-53/52, dated the 3rd June 1952, of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, and in the matter of an Industrial Dispute between Messrs. Brahmachari Research Institute, 82-3, Cornwallis Street, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by Brahmachari Research Institute Karmachari Samity, 82-3, Cornwallis Street Calcutta.

PRESENT:

SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Institute: Sri S. Sen, Advocate, instructed by Dr. N. K. Brahmachari, Director and Partner of the Institute.

For the workmen: Sri Sumati Majumder, Pleader, instructed by Sri Niranjan Bhattacherjee, Secretary of the Samity.

AWARD.

The dispute under reference relates to introduction of Provident Fund System.

The Institute has no Provident Fund Scheme. It has a Gratuity Scheme which is Annexure "A" to this award. The Institute has filed the balance-sheets for the last 3 years. The financial year of the Company is from 1st of April to 31st of March of the following year. The Institute is passing through a crisis. This will be clear from the following details:—

Year.	Profit.	Loss.
		Rs. a. p.
1949-50	Nil	1,06,558 6 3
1950-51	Nil	5,240 6 0
1951-52	Nil	80,038 13 3

I could understand that the employers and the workmen of the Institute are on best of terms. Although the workmen cannot be paid fair wages as compared with comparable industries in the neighbourhood, the workmen generally have not, up till this time, the intention to leave the Institute. I am told that the employers also feel for their workmen who cannot be paid handsomely. They do not consider the demand of the workmen for Provident Fund Scheme unreasonable, but they plead financial inability to undertake any scheme involving financial commitment in the present crisis of the Institute. If any Contributory Provident Fund Scheme is started, the Institute will have to set apart about Rs. 10,000 for the employers' contribution to the Provident Fund at 6¼ per cent. of the wages of the employee. This the Institute is not at present able to do. The employers are, however, agreeable to make some improvement on the Gratuity Scheme. It has been represented to me that for the Gratuity Scheme, the employers are to secure money which is just required for gratuity to the workmen whose services are terminated either by resignation or by discharge (except for misconduct) or retrenchment or retirement which is expected to be gradual, and the Institute is not expected to meet the demand of all the workmen for gratuity at one and the same time. The employers are always ready to improve the service conditions of the workmen including retiral benefits, if they find any new avenue to raise the industry and to increase its revenue. Having considered the financial position of the Institute, I do not consider it expedient to throw any sudden additional burden on the finance of the Institute. Hence I am not in a position to recommend any Contributory Provident Fund Scheme for the workmen of the Institute just at present. However, I recommend the following modifications in the existing Gratuity Scheme. The modified Gratuity Scheme shall be for cases of retrenchment or termination of service by the Company for any reason other than misconduct or for cases of resignation with the consent of the management. The gratuity will be paid up to a maximum of 15 months' basic pay at the following rates. The period of service to qualify for the gratuity shall be one year. Consistently with the modification about the minimum qualifying service, the basic pay for the purpose of gratuity shall be the average of the last 12 months' basic pay drawn by the workmen concerned.

(a)	On completion of 15 years' service or over.	..	15 days' basic pay for each completed year of service up to a maximum of 15 months' basic pay.
(b)	On completion of 10 years' service but less than 20 years' service.	..	10 days' basic pay for each completed year of service.
(c)	On completion of year's service but less than 10 years' service.	..	7 days' basic pay for each completed year of service.
(d)	Before the completion of year's service.	..	No gratuity will be paid.
(e)	Persons discharged at any period of service for misconduct.	..	No gratuity will be paid.
(f)	In case of death of an employee his widow or children or other dependants will be granted gratuity on the above basis.

I may note here that the employers have conceded to the modifications.

Judge Industrial Tribunal.

ANNEXURE "A".

Scheme of Gratuity.

In the case of retrenchment or termination of services by the Company for any reasons other than misconduct, or resignation with the consent of the management, gratuity will be paid up to a maximum of ten months' basic pay at the following rates, the average basic pay during the last four preceding years at the time of termination of services being taken as the basis of calculation :—

(a)	On completion of 20 years' service or over.	..	15 days' basic pay for each completed year of service up to a maximum of ten months.
(b)	On completion of 10 years' service but less than 20 years' service.	..	10 days' basic pay for each completed year of service
(c)	On completion of 3 years' service but less than 10 years service.	..	7 days' basic pay for each completed year of service.
(d)	Before the completion of 3 years' service.	..	No gratuity will be paid.
(e)	Persons discharged at any period of service for misconduct.	..	No gratuity will be paid.
(f)	In the case of death of an employee, his widow or children or other dependants will be granted gratuity on the above basis.

ORDER.

No. 2486Dis./D/11L-41/52.—5th September 1952.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 228Dis./D/11L-133/51, dated the 12th November 1951, the industrial dispute between Great Eastern Hotel, Ltd., Old Court House Street, Calcutta, and their workers as represented by the General Secretary, Great Eastern Hotel Workers' Panchayet, 121/2D, Surendra Nath Banerji Road, Calcutta, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Third Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal, Sri Jagannath Pandey, the General Secretary, Great Eastern Hotel Workers' Panchayet, on behalf of three of the workers of the said Company, viz., Tafazal Chokra, Sk. Aziz and Jitu Ram, made a complaint in writing to the said Tribunal alleging that the said Company had discharged the said workmen, concerned in the said dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government:

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute under Government order No. 228-Dis./11L-133/51, dated 12th November 1951, between the Management of the Great Eastern Hotel, Ltd., of 1, 2 and 3, Old Court House Street, Calcutta, and their workers represented by the General Secretary, Great Eastern Hotel Workers' Panchayet, 121/2D, Surendra Nath Banerjee Road, Calcutta, and in the matter of a petition under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by Sri Jagannath Pandey on behalf of (1) Tafazul Chokra, (2) Aziz Chokra and three others.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT :

SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, District Judge (Retd.), Chairman, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri S. C. Sen, Pleader, Sri B. K. Roy, Director of the Company, and Mr. C. Green, Director of the Company.

For the Panchayet: Sri Jagannath Pandey, General Secretary of the Union.

AWARD.

The case of the Union is that Tafazal Chokra, an employee of the Great Eastern Hotel, was handed over a discharge letter, dated 26th November 1951, and that he had been dismissed summarily and without any charge-sheet or notice, and without any permission from the Tribunal, though proceedings were pending before the Tribunal at the relevant time.

It is alleged that one Sk. Aziz was similarly given a dismissal notice on 22nd November 1951, without any charge-sheet detailing the allegations against him, nor was he given any opportunity to explain his conduct; no permission from the Tribunal was taken in his case too.

It is alleged that one Jitu Ram, a Line Bearer, was handed over a dismissal letter containing the allegations on the basis of which he was dismissed, but he had been given no charge-sheet and no opportunity was given to him to explain and defend his conduct and there was no formal inquiry into the alleged misconduct. No permission from Tribunal had been obtained by the employer though proceedings were pending at the relevant time.

With regard to others, none appeared during hearing, and as such, their cases were not represented by anybody during the hearing of the proceedings.

The Company submitted a written statement alleging that all of these workers were dismissed for misconduct and for reasons stated in the pleadings of the Company.

ISSUES.

(1) Is the application, not signed by the discharged employees, maintainable in law?

(2) Has there been any contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act?

(3) Are the discharged employees liable to be reinstated?

Issue No. 1.

The petition is not signed by any of the discharged employees but presented by one Jagannath Pandey, who describes himself as the Secretary of the Great Eastern Hotel Workers' Panchayet. He does not produce any authoritative letter on behalf of the discharged employees. Now on reading section 33A, it is clear that "Where an employer contravenes the provisions of section 33 during the pendency of proceedings before a Tribunal, any employee aggrieved by such contravention, may make a complaint in writing, in the prescribed manner to such Tribunal, etc." This section contemplates that the complaint should be made by the discharged employee. Even if it be argued that under section 36 a workman may be represented by an officer of a registered trade union of which he is a member, there is no evidence that any of these discharged persons were members of the Union. In this case, the petition is filed and signed by one Jagannath Pandey, who describes himself as the General Secretary of the Union. Even when the Company asserted in the written objection that the application is not maintainable on the ground that the employees themselves have not presented the petition, there is no evidence adduced to the effect that Sri Pandey had any authority to represent these employees nor that the employees were members of the Union. The application, in my opinion, is not maintainable in law.

Issues Nos. 2 and 3.

Presumably the discharge has occurred during the pendency of the original proceedings, referred to this Tribunal under order No. 228Dis./11L-133/51, dated 12th November 1951, without any permission of the Tribunal, and as such, palpably there has been contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. But the mere contravention of section 33 will not entitle an applicant to be reinstated. In an application under section 33A, a Tribunal is required to make full investigation into the matter, and as such, the evidences adduced by both sides are to be considered and it is to be seen if the discharge is justified, and if it is found that there is ample justification on the part of the Company to discharge these workers, the mere violation of section 33 and the fact that no permission from the Tribunal had been obtained will be of little avail to the workers. I shall take up the case of each of the workers separately.

Tafazul Chokra.—According to the Company, he was employed on a temporary basis on 1st July 1951, and the charge against him is that he was caught in doing his own private business by selling cigarettes, newspapers and matches to residents and other customers of the Company inside the Company's dining room, and that he had been doing this business for quite a long time. On this point, the Company has examined the Head Butler, and he proves that Tafazul was selling cigarettes, etc., which is forbidden according to the rules of the Company. It is in evidence that residents are put to great inconvenience on account of this, as cash money is wanted by these workers and complaint had been made by one of the residents. He was not a permanent hand but only a temporary incumbent and had also been previously warned. In my opinion, his dismissal was quite justified.

Aziz Chakra.—The charge against him is that he changed a bill of Rs. 2 into Rs. 4 and demanded this money from a customer, who reported the matter to Sk. Nissar, the Head Butler, O.P.W. 1. The carbon copy of the bill, Exhibit 1, has been produced, which shows that the original bill is for Rs. 2 only, but its counterpart has been changed into Rs. 4 (Exhibit A). The Head Butler took him to the Bill Clerk, when Aziz ran away and did not come for three days. A written report had been made by the Head Butler to the Managing Director, Exhibit B, whereon action had been taken. The evidence is proved to my satisfaction, and as such, the dismissal is upheld.

Jitu Ram.—He was a temporary worker as an Air Line Bearer on a daily rate of pay. His service record is bad. He was found to be lazy and quite unfit for the job of an Air Line Bearer and the tea trays under his charge were never arranged in time for the early morning tea. The Head Air Line Steward reported against this worker several times. Exhibits C and C-1 are the reports made by the Steward Mr. Vedivelu, O.P.W. 3, and a letter of warning had been issued, as a result of the complaint by Sri Roy, one of the Directors (Exhibit D). The incident relating to his discharge is that by the first week of July 1952, a tin of Nescafe was given by Hiralal, one of the Air Line Bearers, to Jituram, the discharged worker, for delivering the same to a B.O.A.C. representative, but it was not given to the latter. On the next day, when Hiralal questioned him about it, he shouted and disturbed the passengers and crews who were resting at that time. So, a complaint had been made to the Management and he was dismissed. The Management has examined Hiralal, who is proved to have handed over the tin of Nescafe to Jitu. On this point, Hiralal was not cross-examined. Mr. Vedivelu corroborates Hiralal and also deposes that Jitu shouted and disturbed the visitors to the Hotel when questioned about Nescafe. On these proved facts, he had been discharged. It appears that his service record is bad and that he had been previously warned for refusal to obey the instructions of Air Line Steward (Exhibit D). It also appears that the Hotel authorities had treated him all along with consideration, for he was previously dismissed for refusing to carry luggages, but was reinstated on re-consideration on 22nd January 1951. This shows that the Hotel authorities were not vindictive, but had condoned his laches in the past. The present offence comprises a serious dereliction of duty and misconduct in not handing over a tin of Nescafe to the customers and, moreover, he created a row. In my considered opinion, the Hotel authorities are not very wrong in dispensing with his services. His dismissal is upheld.

With regard to other workers, they have not been examined; nor their cases have been represented before the Tribunal. So, they go out of picture.

In the matter the application under section 33A fails and stands rejected. The dismissal of the workers mentioned in the petition is upheld. I make an award accordingly.

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal, a complaint was made in writing by Sri Tara Sankar Roy before the said Tribunal alleging that the said Company had discharged the said workmen concerned in the said dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, 8, LYONS RANGE, SECOND FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

In the matter of reference No. 1503Dis./D/11L-91/52, dated 28th May 1952, as amended by order No. 1561Dis./D/11L-53/52, dated 3rd June 1952, of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, and in the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Brahmachari Research Institute, 82-3, Cornwallis Street, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by Brahmachari Research Institute Karmachari Samity, 82/3, Cornwallis Street, Calcutta, and in the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal), Act, 1950, and in the matter of Sri Tara Sankar Roy (Case No. 91/52).

PRESENT:

SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the complainant: Sri Sumati Majumder, Pleader, instructed by Sri Niranjan Bhattacharjee, Secretary of the Institute.

For the opposite party: Sri S. Sen, Advocate, instructed by Dr. N. K. Brahmachari, Director and Partner of the Institute.

AWARD.

The proceedings started by the Tribunal pursuant to the Order of Reference No. 1503Dis., dated the 28th March 1952, of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, for adjudication of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Brahmachari Research Institute and their workmen represented by Brahmachari Research Institute Karmachari Samity, have not as yet concluded. The proceedings are still pending.

Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, prohibits during pendency of any proceedings before a Conciliation Officer or a Tribunal or in respect of any industrial dispute, any alteration, to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in the dispute, of the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of such proceedings or discharge or punishment, by dismissal or otherwise of any workman concerned in such dispute except with the express permission of the Conciliation Officer or Tribunal as the case may be.

In the event of any contravention of the provisions of section 33 during pendency of the proceedings before an Industrial Tribunal, the aggrieved workman or workmen may file a complaint under section 33A of the Act as amended against such contravention before the Industrial Tribunal before whom the proceedings are pending, and section 33A of the Act authorised the Industrial Tribunal to assume jurisdiction over the industrial dispute arising out of the contravention of section 33 as amended, without a formal reference from the appropriate Government under section 10 of the Act and to adjudicate upon the dispute and to give an award.

Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act lays down the general law as to how an Industrial Tribunal can assume jurisdiction over an industrial dispute and section 33A is a special provision and the condition under which this special provision may be invoked must be fulfilled before the Tribunal assumes jurisdiction over an industrial dispute, without any Order of Reference from the appropriate Government as contemplated by General Section (section 10 of the Act). The conditions are:—

(1) That the adjudication proceedings in respect of an industrial dispute must be pending before a Tribunal.

(2) That during pendency of the proceedings, there has been a contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Act by the employers to the prejudice of the workmen.

(3) That such contravention is in respect of workmen concerned in the dispute pending for adjudication.

The complainant's case is that on 26th May 1952, the opposite party discharged without any justification the complainant without permission of the Tribunal in contravention of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The opposite party pleads that the action complained of took place prior to the date of the Order of Reference No. 1503Dis., dated 28th May 1952, and as such is not hit by section 33 of the amended Industrial Disputes Act. According to section 20(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, proceedings before Tribunal are deemed to have commenced on the date of reference of the dispute for adjudication. Thus it is amply clear that on the 26th May 1952 on which date the employer's act complained of took place, there was not pending before this Tribunal any adjudication proceeding in respect of any industrial disputes concerning the workmen of the Brahmachari Research Institute including the complainant. The complaint is not, therefore, maintainable, as much as the act complained of did not take place during pendency of any adjudication proceedings concerning the complainant before this Tribunal. The petition of complaint shall accordingly be rejected. This is my award.

33½ per cent. in almost every month. Consequently the company was justified in laying its axe on the four persons of the Sealing and Filling Section, necessarily also at least one person from the Packing Department — one from the Audit Department. No attempt was made by the union — show before me that thereby any workload, as defined in the case of Kashi Iron Foundry, Labour Appeal Cases for July, page 359, was increased. The last man retrenched from this department is one Muhammad Ali. The union contended that this man was the Head Syce and put in about 13 years service. The figures regarding stock of horses in 1357 B.S. as compared with that of 1358 B.S. shows that there was justification of retrenchment of one Syce. In Sraban 1358 B.S. the company purchased 6 horses, since then there has been no purchase of horses during the following 8 months. The maximum stock of horses in the year 1358 B.S. was 44 in the month of Sraban and it came down to 31 in the end of that year. Therefore, in Aswin the company was justified in effecting economy by retrenchment of one Syce on account of the general fall of sale and demand of the Biological goods. On the question why this senior Head Syce was retrenched in preference to junior ones, the resent for the Association: Sri B. Chowdhury, Counsel, assisted by Sri Jiten Banerjee, General Secretary of the Association.

EFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Tribunal.

esent for the Company: Sri S. C. Sen, Advocate, assisted by Sri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate, and Sri R. C. Dutt, Agent of the Company.

1. By an order No. 210Dis./11L-241/51, dated the 3rd November 51, the Government of West Bengal had constituted a Tribunal of one dge under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), d referred the said dispute for adjudication under section 10 of the said was divided into many lots. Normally, one Naib was in charge of one lot. These Naibs were subordinate to the Agent who had his Sadar office at Canning Town. Besides the Naibs the Company employed Amins for measuring lands for settlement and also for keeping record thereof. Sri R. C. Dutt was the Agent at Canning Town at the relevant time. Sri Biren Bose, the Naib of lots Nos. 134 and 132, was discharged on the 15th January 1951 while Sri Nalini Kumar Biswas, another Naib of lot No. 49, was discharged on the 1st November 1949. Another Amin, named Sri Nakuleswar Ganguly, was discharged on the 19th January 1951. According to the Association, these persons were discharged because of their Union activities and also for personal grudge. In September 1949 the Union of the employees was formed and it was registered in December 1949. The Company, on the other hand, contends that these employees were discharged for their misconduct. The Company also enters legal objection regarding the form of the Reference. The Company argues that all disputes with the employees were settled under section 12 of the Industrial Disputes Act by an agreement, dated 7th July 1950. As such, the present Reference is said to be untenable. During the argument the learned Advocate of the Company further contended that the three employees in question were not, strictly speaking, "workmen", as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

5. Coming to the legal objections set up by the Company I must state that they do not carry much conviction. The agreement in question was admittedly dated 7th July 1950. The discharge of Sri Biren Bose took place on 15th January 1951 while that of Sri Nakuleswar Ganguly took place on 19th January 1951. So these two cases of discharge cannot conceivably be covered by the aforesaid agreement which was long prior to it. The only case which could be said to have been covered by the aforesaid agreement was that of Sri Nalini Kumar Biswas whose discharge took place on 1st November 1949. About this I shall comment in its proper place.

Regarding the other objection that these employees are not "workmen", I must say that the contention is equally hollow. These employees are Naibs and Amin on a very poor pay. They practically carry out the orders of the Agent very much like a clerk without any freedom of action. If they settle any lands they do so subject to the Agent's approval. They also keep accounts of income and expenditure very much on the lines of an Accountant. So, practically they are entirely under the thumb of the Agent without any initiative of action of their own. Their work is substantially of a clerical nature. That being so, it cannot be said that they are outside the category of "workmen", as defined in the Act. The learned Advocate of the Company also did not seriously press this objection and that for obvious reasons, as set forth above.

6. Next, I come to the individual cases in issue. I first take up the case of Sri Nalini Kumar Biswas for its uncomplicated nature. He was mainly hauled up on the complaint of one Kafiladdi Gharami dated 18th February 1949 marked Exhibit F. Kafiladdi Gharami served under the Company but did not get his salary for the months of May, June and July 1948 and also for the months of December 1948 and January 1949. The total amount due to Kafiladdi Gharami was found to be Rs. 76 as per report of Sri Bhabesh Chandra Choudhury, Inspector,—marked Exhibit F(1)—Part 2(a). In the explanation submitted by Sri Nalini Kumar Biswas—marked Exhibit F(3)—he wants to say that he had several dues owing to him by Kafiladdi Gharami. This does not, however, appear to exonerate Sri Nalini Kumar Biswas fully for non-payment of the legal dues of Kafiladdi Gharami. If we take this matter in the context of non-payment of dues to other employees by the said Naib, which was also enquired into, it appears that such withholding of wages was almost habitual with this Naib. By Exhibit F(13) the Naib was asked to pay Rs. 69 and odd to Kafiladdi Gharami which he did not comply. In the meantime there was an agreement—marked Exhibit G—by which the disputes between the Company and the Association were settled. The case of Sri Nalini Kumar Biswas was left to be dealt with by Mr. C. R. M. Tippet, Chairman, Board of Directors [vide Exhibits F(11) and F(9)]. But Mr. Tippet, as per Exhibit F(14), rejected the claim of this man as he refused to make good the payment which he drew from the Company in the name of Kafiladdi Gharami. Thereafter the Company issued the letter of discharge as per Exhibit F(5). I am not very much concerned with the decision of Mr. Tippet in the present matter, so far as the payment of gratuity is concerned. I am only concerned with the propriety of the order of discharge just to see whether the said order was perverse or mala fide. I find on the evidence on record that it was perfectly justified or at all events a possible view on the evidence adduced. If a certain Naib draws a salary on behalf of a particular employee posted under him but withholds disbursement to him, that certainly constitutes an offence which may be akin to misconduct or dishonesty. Sri Nalini Kumar Biswas was found to be guilty of such misconduct. Exhibit F(16) was the notice of the enquiry held by the Inspector. Regarding X(1) Nalini Biswas admits that he did not personally sign. Exhibit F(2) asked Sri Nalini Biswas to face the charges against him. Exhibit F(3) purports to be his explanation. So it is clear that he got ample opportunities to defend himself. So there was no hardship to him on that score. If a Company refuses to keep in its employ a man whose fidelity is not only under suspicion but is almost proved, it is not for the Tribunal to intervene in and interfere with the action taken. Rather I find that the Company was very much cautious in the matter of discharge of this man. The decision that it arrived at after full enquiry was one which was warranted by the facts of the case. So the dismissal of Sri Nalini Kumar Biswas was in order and he is entitled to no redress at my hands. He has hardly any Union activities to his credit. Besides, even if there was any Union activity on his part that could never have shielded him from punishment in such circumstances. The plea of personal animosity has no legs to stand upon.

7. I next take up the case of Sri Nakuleswar Ganguly. He was appointed as an Amin in 1945 at a total remuneration of Rs. 38 per month. He was a passed Surveyor. At the time of his discharge he was getting Rs. 68 per month. Quite a lot of charges has been made against him. He was discharged on 19th January 1951 by a notice—Exhibit J(21). He was placed under suspension on 8th January 1951—Exhibit J(18).

The first charge against him is that he tampered with a cash memo. for purchasing a copy of the Final Report on the Survey and Settlement Operations in the district of 24-Parganas. He took an advance of Rs. 46 for this purpose. The price of the book was Rs. 15-4 and sale tax was 11 annas 6 pies [vide Exhibit J(1)]. He, however, managed to get a bill passed for Rs. 47-6-6 as per Exhibit J. But the bill was cancelled because the cash memo. bore marks of eraser (Exhibit J). This was dated October 1949. As it was his first offence, it was condoned with a warning. The learned Counsel on behalf of the employee contends that the cash memo. should have been produced by the Company. But it is the case of the Company that Sri Nakuleswar Ganguly took back this cash memo. from office. Be that as it may, that is not the charge on which he was discharged.

It came to the notice of the Company that the Amins were drawing money on false bills being submitted. So an order was passed to check the bills with reference to the diaries. Sri Nakuleswar Ganguly was caught in this affair and his bill was reduced on the report of the Internal Auditor Sri Dinesh Chandra Shome. Sri Ganguly was also warned for making false entries in the Attendance Register. His tour diary and the Attendance Register did not tally and his salary for 5 days was retrenched. He was given a warning as per Annexure N. He was also found to be noting false timings in the Attendance Register. He came late and went early but noted the regular time in the Attendance Register. He was detected by the Agent himself. He was asked to explain as per Annexure C. He stated that there was no clock in the office and so he could not record the correct time. But there was a timepiece in the office and he later on admitted this. There was an inquiry by the Assistant Agent and he was found guilty. That was in December 1950. Just then he applied for a fortnight's leave on medical certificate. The Doctor's certificate recommended leave till recovery. As it was indefinite, the Agent sent Sri Dinesh Chandra Shome on 6th January 1951 with a letter to the Doctor. On 6th January 1951, while Sri Dinesh Chandra Shome was waiting for the Doctor in the Mirzapore Street, he was assaulted by Sri Nakuleswar Ganguly. Sri Dinesh Chandra Shome made a report as a result of which Sri Nakuleswar Ganguly was suspended. Each part and link of this story has been corroborated by documentary evidence. That Sri Dinesh Chandra Shome was assaulted on 6th January 1951 in the evening is proved by the medical certificate—Exhibit K(1)—(latter part). This was reported by the Agent to the Doctor as per Exhibit J(16). The Doctor apologised as per Exhibit J(17). Sri Nakuleswar Ganguly was given a charge-sheet—Exhibit J(18). His explanation—Exhibit J(20)—is half-hearted and evasive. Now this is the man whom the Company had discharged. His defence is that the Agent was prejudiced against him as well as Sri Dinesh Chandra Shome. The Agent is said to have been displeased with him because he refused to give preference to his private work over the work of the Company in connection with lands in lot No. 132. That this is a plea set up for the purpose does not require much scrutiny. Sri Nakuleswar Ganguly does not appear to be an officer who has conscientious scruples about his work or duties to the Company. Had he been so, he would not have made false entries about timings in the Attendance Register or about his absence on tour in the mofussil, etc. It is an explanation for the sake of explanation and nothing more. So I am at one with the decision of the Company regarding this man, so far as his discharge is concerned. His dismissal was called for by the circumstances of the case. The Company, however, granted him one month's pay even after the date of his suspension as per Exhibit J(21). This was an act of clemency which this employee is hardly entitled to or can legitimately claim. So I leave the order of discharge as it is.

8. The last case is that of Sri Biren Bose, the Naib of lots Nos. 134 and 132. He was discharged on 20th January 1951, as per Exhibit A(14). The charge-sheet is dated 20th December 1950—marked Exhibit A(10). The Assistant Agent inquired into the allegations against this Naib. He submitted a report as per Exhibit B. He states that he made the inquiry in the presence of the said Naib and other members of the Kutcherry staff. The Internal Auditor Sri Dinesh Chandra Shome and the Sub-overseer Sri Barada Kanta Deb Choudhury were also present during the investigation. The explanations of the Naib are in Exhibit B—papers marked 6(a). The first allegation against the Naib was that he cultivated khas lands without the knowledge of the office with a view to misappropriate the crops. There was a piece of land, about 11 bighas, near the Dhankikhali Sluice Gate. This was shown as Patit by the Naib. It was found on inquiry that this land was being held by Bhagchashis since 1352 B.S., i.e., since the time of the previous Naib who was the uncle of this Naib (vide Exhibit A7). In course of the investigation it was revealed that the Naib received 2 maunds of rice every year from another piece of khas land measuring about 1 bigha near the 4 Sluice Boxes at Kalukhali. The sale-proceeds were not credited to the Company. The Naib cross-examined the witnesses with no results. The Naib was also charged with secret settlement of the Fishery at Pakurtala Khal. The Naib, of course, denied it. Some of the persons alleged to have taken settlement denied it while others admitted it. I find this alleged settlement rather doubtful on going through the evidence on record. The third charge against him was about Katrakhali Ferry Ghat. He is said to have misappropriated the Ghat Manjhi's wages having drawn the same from the Company. The defence of the Naib is that he submitted bills regarding the Ghat Manjhi but was not careful about the genuineness of the thumb impressions on the said bills. As it was the previous practice that the Company would make payments to the Manjhi if the total collection from the Ghat was in excess of Rs. 400 per year and as it was so, he submitted those bills. On the other hand, during the inquiry it was revealed that the Naib entered into a secret arrangement with the Ghat Manjhi. The Ghat Manjhi used to pay him Rs. 42 per month and took the rest of his realisation in lieu of his remuneration. The Ghat Manjhi has spoken about this as also a Durwan. Now whether the secret arrangement between the Naib and the Ghat Manjhi was proved beyond suspicion or not, the Naib was certainly guilty of submitting faked bills with spurious finger impressions of that Ghat Manjhi to the Company. If he drew this money on the score of the Ghat Manjhi's wages, certainly there was no justification for not paying the same to the Ghat Manjhi. His non-payment of this amount to the Ghat Manjhi indicates either misappropriation or secret arrangement with the Ghat Manjhi as alleged. In either case he is guilty. Simply because the previous Naib was guilty of questionable tactics, that cannot stand him in good stead by taking that as a plea. The Company rightly suspected him of dishonesty. The Agent's suggestion to transfer him was perfectly justified. As this suggestion hit this man in his pocket or stopped the source of his illegal gain he was so much agitated over this matter of his transfer. That is why he went on leave immediately on making over charge. He may have some family quarrels with his uncle, the previous Naib. The previous Naib, out of grudge, may have supplied the secret information to the Agent. But the information that he supplied to the Agent was found to be true. So because the information was supplied out of grudge, that does not make his guilt any the less, if he was found in fact to be guilty. That he was making secret gain over this Ghat affair will clearly appear from the fact that this very Ghat Manjhi auction purchased the Ghat at an amount very much over the previous amount in the last open bid. So, considering the case of discharge of this employee in all its bearings and with reference to the documentary evidence on record, I have hardly any room for doubt that the punishment of dismissal was merited. The plea that he was victimised for his Union activities or as a result of conspiracy between the Agent and his uncle is not at all convincing. The decision of the Company in dismissing this Naib is certainly not either perverse or tainted with any mala fides. So I refuse to interfere. The Company gave him one month's pay from 20th January 1951 in lieu of notice. That was quite enough in the circumstances. So no more redress or relief can be given to him.

9. So the dismissal of all these three employees is found by the Tribunal to have been merited by the persons concerned. No more relief than what has been given by the Company is granted by this Tribunal.

After I joined as Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal, the same dispute was referred to me by Government of West Bengal by Order No. 1821-Dis./D/11L-6/52, dated the 7th July 1952, and the proceedings continued before me under section 8 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The case was taken up for hearing on 21st July 1952, and I inspected the factory on 29th July 1952. The hearing continued till 5th August 1952. Neither party adduced any oral evidence.

The case for the union is that the aforesaid company is a well-known Chemical and Pharmaceutical concern in India that originally the company was paying a very small wage to its workers, that by an agreement, dated 22nd September 1948, the emoluments were slightly raised, that thereafter by an award published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated June 29, 1950, the wage was increased by a flat rate of Rs. 5 and the minimum emolument was fixed at Rs. 47 per month, that on 30th July 1951 the union placed a fresh charter of demand and the company replied to it by a threat of termination of the said award on the same date, that during the pendency of the conciliation proceedings the company also laid off its workers of the Biological Department on and from 6th of August till 19th August on the allegation of scarcity of raw goods, that while the conciliation proceeding was still going on the company closed down the Surgical Cotton Section by a notice, dated 29th September 1951, on a false pretext and thereby put 48 men of the Annexure "A" into sufferings, that the company also discharged 13 of its employees of the Annexure "B" of the Biological Department and gave extremely vague justification that this was made with an ulterior motive to crush the union, that one Sachin Das Gupta was discharged from the Audit Section by way of unfair labour practice without any bona fide trade reason, that in effecting retrenchment the Company acted arbitrarily in picking up the important workers of the union and juniors having been allowed to continue in service while seniors were discharged, that the most glaring specimen of such unfair labour practice is the transfer of Sri Nonigopal Karmakar, Assistant Secretary of the union and Arjun Kumar Shaw, Vice-President of the union from the Surgical Cotton Department to the Toilet Department and ultimately discharging them as member of the said Toilet Department though these gentlemen have worked in the Surgical Cotton Department for 9 years and 13 years, respectively. The union accordingly pressed for restoration of the increment allowed by the previous Award. They also claimed full wages for the period of forced unemployment in the Surgical Cotton Section as according to them it is an instance of victimisation and unfair labour practice. They also prayed for re-instatement and full wages for the period of unemployment of the 13 discharged persons as their discharge amounted to victimisation and unfair labour practice, and lastly they also claimed 75 per cent. of the wages as involuntary unemployment wages for the closure of the Biological Department during the period 6th August 1951 to 19th August 1951.

The case for the company is that the charter of demand, dated 30th July 1951, was got up by the union after it had received the company's notice, dated 30th July 1951, terminating the above-mentioned award on the ground of financial difficulty, that after the termination of the conciliation proceedings on 24th September 1951, the company issued notice, dated 29th September 1951, to close down its Surgical Cotton Section due to huge accumulation of unfinished cotton products and its failure to dispose of the same and also, for its critical financial difficulties, that the company agreed to give the workers some weekly allowance on condition that they would give attendance in the company's office, that the related workers refused to give attendance, that as such they are not entitled to any allowance, that for a considerable time the demand for company's Biological product had been diminishing and the company could not afford to maintain the rate of production of the Biological products, most of which were perishable and as such they were compelled to effect retrenchment, that the company believes that the discharged employees of the Biological Department had never any connection with the union or had ever shown any union activity to the knowledge of the company, that the company had to consider efficiency of the worker along with the period of service in effecting retrenchment and acted in good faith, that Sachin Das Gupta was an ordinary clerk and was working as a surplus hand and the company had to terminate his service as maintenance of surplus hand was not possible, that after the workers of the Surgical Cotton Section were laid off on and from 6th of June 1951, Arjun Kumar Shaw and Nani Gopal Karmakar of the said department verbally applied for being transferred to the Toilet and Tablet Section on and from 14th June 1951 and their prayers being granted they were transferred and they worked there till the said Section was abolished in October 1951 without any objection, that due to appreciable fall of sale of toilet goods and loss of the company in dealing with those products the company decided not to carry on the business of manufacturing of the same goods and as such abolished the Toilet Department after duly serving a notice to that effect, that the company had to close down some Section of the Biological Department for irregular and insufficient supply of coal gas and for this Labour Commissioner recommended payment of half pay and dearness allowance for the period of closure and the company accepted the said recommendation and gave effect to it.

With this background I now proceed to record my decision on the issues referred to me for adjudication.

DECISION.

Issues Nos. 1 and 2.

The company's case is that due to its financial difficulties it was not possible for the company to further implement the award of Sri S. C. Chakravarty after its period of operation was over and hence it terminated the award by notice. The union contended that this act of the company was a reply to the charter of demand formulated by the union on 30th July 1951. The fact, that the company was unwilling to further implement the award on account of the fighting attitude of the union, is evident. The matter will, however, not end there, for the question, whether the company will implement the said award or not, will depend upon its financial condition. The company must show that its financial condition has further deteriorated from the date of the said award as a justification for the present action. It is useless for the company to reiterate its financial commitments prior to the date of the award. For this was fully considered by Sri S. C. Chakravarty while giving his direction to raise the total emolument by Rs. 5 at least. Sri Chakravarty pointed out that the minimum salary given by this company was far below the minimum salary given by the neighbouring Pharmaceutical Works. He pointed out that on account of the rise in the cost of living the expenditure under all the other heads in the company's budget has increased. Particularly there has been an increase under the head "other wages" and "cost of propaganda". Further the money will be available for extra expenditure occasioned by the award, if one be applied judiciously in other departments. The company has not been able to satisfy me that they have laid axe on other departments to any appreciable extent. On the other hand, it appears that it has not yet given effect to the Provident Fund scheme though deduction on that head had been continuing all the time. It appears from the provisional balance sheet of the company that was filed before Sri S. C. Chakravarti of the year 1356 B.S. up to the time of the award that the loss amounted to Rs. 2 lakhs 53 thousand and odd. In the end of 1356 B.S. this rose to Rs. 4 lakhs 30 thousand and odd. But in spite of the effect of the award the company managed to turn the tide and in the end of 1357 B.S. it was able to show a net profit of Rs. 30 thousand and odd and thereby it showed a considerable improvement of the business from the position of a loss of Rs. 4 lakhs 30 thousand to a position of the profit of Rs. 30,000 and odd. No doubt Sri S. C. Chakravarti observed in passing that it should be studied how the company adjusts itself with the increments, and the company had been all the time progressing satisfactorily and actually had no reason to murmur during any part of the year 1357 B.S., corresponding to 14th of April 1951. The company has produced a provisional balance sheet for the year 1358 B.S. This balance sheet is unaudited. The company furnished similar unaudited balance sheets at the time of the previous trial before Sri S. C. Chakravarti and Sri S. C. Chakravarti found it faulty. However, even this unaudited balance sheet gives us no assistance because it does not show the exact financial position of the company on 30th July 1951, corresponding to Ashar 1358 B.S. The comparative figure about sale up till the month of Ashar 1358 B.S. also does not show any such appreciable loss of business which would justify the company to terminate the effect of the award. It was contended that there was appreciable fall of sale in the second quarter of 1358 B.S., as a result the company had to curtail some of its department and closed down others but in adopting this procedure the company had adjusted itself from the apprehended fall. The unaudited balance sheets show that in the first half of 1358 B.S. the company's loss was calculated to a figure of Rs. 73,000 and odd, but the next half of 1358 B.S., the loss was much less than this figure, viz., Rs. 55,000 and odd. In the case of J. K. Hosiery Factory, Ltd. vs. their workmen, the award was published on April 27, 1950. The increment of wages was allowed by two awards—one made by Sri S. C. Dutt Gupta and the other by Sri S. C. Chakravarti published in the Calcutta Gazette, respectively, on 18th of June 1948 and 3rd March 1949. Under these awards the dearness allowance of the machine workers were raised from Rs. 16 to Rs. 35, that of all the other time-rated workers from Rs. 16 to Rs. 30. In that case the company filed accounts from 19th April 1948 to 6th April 1949 and again from 7th April to 30th November 1949. They disclose a net profit of Rs. 12,000 and odd up to 6th April 1949, i.e., during the period of the awards and a loss to the extent of Rs. 81,000 and odd during the period 7th April to 30th November 1949 (notice terminating the award was dated 25th July 1949). Sri A. Das Gupta in discussing the reasons for the loss observed—

> "that the company should have foreseen these reasons. The employees were not responsible for the position, and I believe that the situation in which the company is is only temporary. The situation is likely to be eased if the business is managed with a little more foresight. The company has not adduced any evidence to show that all the Hosiery Factories have been reduced to similar position. The workers were given the minimum basic salary and dearness allowance having regard to the skill required for different jobs. They were given only such salary as would keep them just above the poverty line. The dearness allowance and the basic salary of the different workers cannot, therefore be reduced with any justification."

This argument was very aptly adopted by the learned Advocate for the union and I agree with the reasonings contained therein. The company has already recouped from its tendency towards loss and is therefore in a better position than J. K. Hosiery, Ltd., and I hope that the situation is temporary and it can be eased and is likely to be eased shortly on account of the effective steps already taken by the company. The company has not adduced any evidence to show that other Pharmaceutical Works have been reduced to similar position. The dearness allowance of this concern together with the basic salary was the lowest and is still the lowest in the neighbouring Pharmaceutical Works. They have been given only such salary as would keep them just above the poverty line. The dearness allowance of the different workers cannot, therefore, be reduced with any justification. Some contention may be raised as to whether I should give retrospective effect to my order. On this point Sri A. Das Gupta in his award stated—

> "I accordingly direct that the basic wages and the dearness allowance and the privilege leave as awarded by Sri Dutta Gupta and Sri Chakravarti shall be restored to the workers. If a deduction has been made in terms of the notification, dated 25th July 1945, the amounts so deducted shall be refunded to the different worker. There shall be no curtailment of leave."

In the present case also my order will be to the same effect not only with respect to the dearness allowance but also with respect to leave, gratuity and other matters terminated by the said notice. The question similar to this also came up for consideration before the Appellate Tribunal in the case of the Bengal Water Proof, Ltd., Calcutta, vs. their workers. The issue was regarding the yearly increment that had fallen due during January 1950. The company contended that this yearly increment was provided under the award of Sri N. C. Chakravarty published in the Calcutta Gazette in May 1948. So it must have spent its force in last May 1949 that the company has thus no further obligation to pay this increment. They also pleaded financial inability to allow the increment. Sri G. Palit in giving the award observed—

> "Of course the operative period of the award was elapsed, but the wage structure formulated by that Tribunal is based on a long term plan, and the company can show that there has been since a distinct change for the worse such that the wage structure can no longer be sustained and it is only then that the Tribunal will have it worthwhile to revise it, that in the present case I have shown the circumstances of the company have not much deteriorated. So I award the increment due to the workers in January 1950 on the lines of the previous award. As this increment fell due in January 1950 I direct that my award will have retrospective effect."

In appeal the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal also observed that—> "the only point for consideration is its present financial position which according to the company has considerably deteriorated. This is, in substance, also the manner in which the question has been considered by the Tribunal. * * *

> There is no tangible evidence which will lead to a reasonable inference that there would be a sudden and heavy fall in the income of the company in 1950. If there be some fall that would not in our opinion affect the financial position of the company to such an extent as to make the payment of the increment for the year 1950 burdensome or affect the reasonable return of capital."

I have already discussed that the financial position of this company has not been much gloomier in these respects than what was noticed by Sri S. C. Chakravarty. In view of the legal position formulated above and the observations of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal regarding the scope of enquiry about the financial position of the company I am fortified in my finding above that the company has failed to show that its financial position has so deteriorated that it would cease to give its workers the living wages and the other facilities granted to them by the previous award. I, therefore, decide these issues accordingly.

Issue No. 3.

Exhibit D is the notice by which the workers of the Surgical Cotton Section was laid off for the period from 1st of October 1951 till it reopened on or about 18th of December 1951. The grounds stated are: "Huge accommodation of stock of finished cotton products and non-sale of the same due to dullness of the market". Counterpart of this notice was filed by the union and it shows that it is dated 29th of September 1951. On 1st of October 1951 the company also gave individual notices (Exts. B to B5) to the six workers of the Biological Department who were working in the Sealing and Filing Section and the notice (Ext. B6) to the worker who was in the Audit Section of the company. Exhibit C is the notice, dated 1st of October 1951, by which the company closed its Toilet and Tablet Department. It was contended that notices were illegal inasmuch as they were served during the pendency of the conciliation proceedings. The company contended that under the law the report has to be submitted within 14 days from the commencement of the conciliation proceedings or within such sort of period as has been fixed by the appropriate Government. The learned Advocate contended that 14 days after commencement of the proceeding it has an automatic termination according to law. On this point the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal in the case Colliery Mazdoor Congress, Asansol vs. Birbhum Coal Co., observed—

> "In our opinion that provision has to be taken along with sub-section (4) and so must be taken to enjoin that conciliation proceedings are to be carried on with expedition and to be closed within a fortnight of its commencement if that was possible or practicable. If there is a breach of duty on his part by not sending the report within 14 days of the commencement of the conciliation proceedings the matter is between him and the higher authority. The conciliation proceedings would not in law automatically terminate by such failure."

The heading of the section 20 of the Act defines the period of pendency of the conciliation proceedings. Regarding commencement and concluaion of the proceedings sub-section (2) lays down that a conciliation proceeding shall be deemed to have concluded (a) where settlement is arrived at when the memorandum of settlement is signed by the parties, (2) when no settlement is arrived at when the report of the officer is received by the appropriate Government. In the present case it cannot obviously come under clause (a). The company no doubt contends that it accepted the recommendation of the Conciliation Officer regarding payment of wages for the lock-out period but at the same time admitted that they did not accept the suggestion of the Conciliation Officer to withdraw the notice of termination of the award. So the case cannot come under clause (a) and it must come under clause (b) and in this case the proceedings were continued in the file of the Labour Commissioner till 21st of November 1951. I cannot agree with the contention of the company's representative that they were given to understand on 24th of September when meeting was held in the factory premises that the proceedings had terminated. But the file of the Labour Commissioner shows that the conference was held on 25th and on that date no final order was made by him and the matter was ordered to be put up on 27th and thereafter the proceedings have continued as above. I, therefore, find that the company took the above steps of issuing notice of retrenchment on its workers at a time when conciliation proceedings were continuing and that they did it without permission of the Conciliation Officer as enjoined in section 33(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Under these circumstances it was found by the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal in the case of Biswamitra Press in Labour Appeal Cases January, page 32, that orders of the termination of the service under these circumstances cannot be deemed as void, though for non-observance of the above rule the company may be liable to criminal prosecution. The question of retrenchment has, therefore, to be considered on its merits. But as a prelude to that the company must show that the matter was so urgent that it had no time to obtain the previous permission of the Labour Commissioner. In order to show the urgency of such a procedure the company relied upon its statement of sale for the year 1358 B.S. Although the Surgical Cotton Section actually remained closed during the period 1st of October to middle of December, it appears that the stock that had already accumulated was only partly cleared off during these months and the total period of sale during the months of Aswin, Kartick and Agrahayan amounted to Rs. 1 lakh 21 thousand. This no doubt indicates that there had been a huge accumulation of cotton goods and the company is justified in its contention that it was compelled to close down the Surgical Cotton Section due to huge accumulation of the finished cotton products and its failure to dispose of the same due to dull market condition and specially further accumulation of products at a time when it was facing financial difficulties. The provision for this sort of contingency is provided by the company's Standing Order, rule 12, and it comes within the clause "and other causes beyond the company's control." The company was, therefore, entitled to stop this section wholly or partially for any period or periods without notice. Clause (b) also provides that in the event of such stoppage the workmen shall be paid at the discretion of the company. So in exercise of its discretion under the Standing Orders the company was entitled to order that it will pay its workmen during their period of laid off at the rate of Rs. 4 per week per head, and they also required its workmen to register their attendance on week-days between the hour 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. and it terminated the services of the temporary hands with effect from 1st October 1951. On behalf of the union it was shown that on a previous occasion of laying off of some department on account of the scarcity of water the company was pleased to sanction an allowance at a flat rate of Rs. 5 per head and they required its workmen to register their attendance on week-days between the hours 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. and it was contended that inasmuch as on the present occasion they sanctioned only a lesser amount of weekly allowance, the workers did not comply with the term as regards attendance. The company, however, urged that the allowance being at the discretion of the authorities they were justified in reducing the same from Rs. 5 to Rs. 4 per week due to the financial condition of the company. But they contended that inasmuch as the workers deliberately refused to register their attendance, they were disentitled to draw any allowance during the period they were laid off. In my opinion, the company is justified in both the arguments. The allowance being at the discretion of the company, it was justified in reducing the weekly allowance from Rs. 5 to Rs. 4 in view of its financial conidtion, but I would like to hold that the workers were debarred from drawing the said allowance on account of their refusal to register attendance. During the Second Tripartite Conference held at New Delhi in September 1942 the conference recognised the need of giving compensation to workers and decided that a scheme should be framed which should apply to all industries during the war. On the basis of the recommendations of the conference a scheme was framed by the Government of India and was circulated to all Provincial Governments in June 1944. One of the glaring features of the scheme was the condition that was attached to the drawing of these benefits, viz., (a) that the worker must answer the muster-roll once a day at the place of employment, and (b) must not refuse alternative employment offered to him. This scheme of the Government of India was at first of a voluntary character though some employers accepted the scheme and gave compensation according to its terms. In 1946 however a Central Act known as Industrial Employment Standing Orders Act was passed. This Act provides for framing of standing orders by the employers for regulating the condition of employment. It authorises the Central Government in the case of central sphere undertakings and State Government in the case of other undertakings and to frame model Standing Orders and lays down that the Standing Orders framed by the employers should be as far as possible in conformity with the model Standing Orders. Thus the model Standing Orders framed by the State Governments are more or less in the lines of those framed by the employers and they appear to be more or less a replica of the model Standing Orders framed either by Government of India or by the State Government. As there is no express provision in the Standing Order which exempts the employees from daily attendance, the provision as to daily attendance as provided in Government of India rules must be taken as the model and the company was justified in incorporating the same in its notice. Further in the case of Colliery Mazdoor Congress referred to above the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal described this compensation as "idle compensation". Under the circumstances the learned Advocate for the company was justified in arguing that in order to be entitled to this compensation, the workmen must prove that they were idle during the period. But the workmen failed to do that as they have not taken any oath on this point and not having answered the muster-roll of the company they are deprived of the advantage of using the same as evidence in their favour. On the contrary, it appears from the report of the Conciliation Officer that the Management on 3rd August 1951 asked six of these men who were laid off, namely, Ramchandra Misir, Ganesh Chandra Mondal, Sudhir Chakravarti, Ramrup Murai, Ram Goala and Provakar Biswas to resume work in the absence of other men who are affected by the management's decision. The conduct of these men, therefore, leads to the inference that they were not eager for their attendance or for any alternative appointment. They have accordingly failed to prove that they remained idle or that they were prepared to accept alternative appointment offered to them or they also unjustifiably refused to register their attendance during the period in question and as such they must be disentitled to idle compensation.

Issue No. 4.

The case for the company is that for a considerable time the demand of the company's biological product has been decreasing and ultimately when the company's business in the same came down to a very low amount the company could not afford to maintain the rate of production of its biological products, most of which were perishable and had to reduce production and as such it was compelled to effect retrenchment being unable to maintain the surplus staff during critical financial difficulties. The company has filed a comparative statement of sale of these biological goods during the years 1356 to 1358 B.S. The company was asked to furnish figures in terms of the produce but it failed to comply with it. However, this may be due to the fact that compilation of these figures is likely to take up much time. I do not think there is any mala fides on the part of the company or that they intentionally refrained from furnishing it. In the absence of that the sale figures may however be relied on. The company has also produced its unaudited balance sheet showing the position of its finance in Aswin 1358 B.S. and also in Chaitra 1358. The balance sheet is unaudited and so it is to be considered at what it is worth. It shows that according to company's figures it suffered a loss of Rs. 70,000 on 18th October 1951. It then closed down its Toilet and Tablet Department. Regarding Biological Department, Ext. G shows that in all the months from Baisakh to Aswin except Joistha there had been persistently a fall of sale. In Joistha the sale figure in 1356 was Rs. 30,000 and odd, whereas that in 1357 B.S. was Rs. 12,900 and odd and this rose to a figure of Rs. 16,000 and odd in 1358 B.S. Joistha, but even this was about half the figure of sale in the corresponding month of Joistha 1356 B.S. The total sale of the six months in 1357 B.S. amounted to something about Rs. 1 lakh 56 thousand and odd, whereas the total sale during the said months of 1358 B.S. came down to Rs. 91,000 and odd. In view of these figures the apprehension of the company about its critical financial difficulties and also regarding the fact that for a considerable time the demand for the company's biological products have been decreasing are genuine. They are also justified in their statement that ultimately the company's business came down to a very low amount. I also accept their statement that they could not increase the rate of production of the biological goods most of which were perishable. They were justified in taking steps to reduce production and as such to effect retrenchment being unable to maintain surplus staff during critical financial difficulties. In the case of Biswamitra Press reported in Labour Appeal Cases January, page 21, at page 33, the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal has laid down that "the first question to be considered by the Tribunal is where a case for retrenchment has been established, on this question the onus would be on the management; if it fails, its case ends there." In this case I hold that the management has been able to discharge the onus and a case for retrenchment on the ground of economy or other sufficient reason has been established. The next question for consideration would therefore be the extent of retrenchment. Here the matter was to be considered on two sub-heads, viz., (1) when the management in retrenching the workmen is bona fide and (2) whether in determining the extent of retrenchment it acts partly on extraneous considerations or on improper motives. The only extraneous consideration alleged by the union in this case is that the company closed the Biological Department with an ulterior motive to crush the union. The union also stated that the company discharged Sachin Das Gupta by way of unfair labour practice and without any bona fide reason, but what is that unfair labour practice or bona fide trade reason is not stated. They also stated that all the important workers of the union were picked up most arbitrarily, juniors having been allowed to continue in service while seniors were discharged, and that a most glaring specimen of such unfair labour practice is the transfer of Sri Nani Gopal Karmakar, Assistant Secretary of Union, and Sri Arjun Kumar Shaw, Vice-President of the Union, from Surgical Cotton Department to the Toilet Department and ultimately discharging them as member of the said Toilet Department though they served the company in Surgical Cotton Department for 9 years and 13 years, respectively. As against this the company's reply is that the company believes that the discharged employees of the Biological Department had never any connection with the union or had never shown any union activity at least to the knowledge of the company, that Sachin Das Gupta was an ordinary clerk and had been working as a surplus hand, and the company had to terminate his service as maintenance of surplus hand was not possible under the circumstances, that Arjun Kumar Shaw and Nani

Gopal Karmakar the two office bearers of the union were laid off with the rest of the workers of the Surgical Cotton Section with effect from 5th of June 1951, that there was no knowing when the said Surgical Cotton Section might be reopened, that these two persons orally applied for being transferred to the Toilet and Tablet Section and their prayer being granted they were working in that Section from 14th June 1951 till the date of the closure of that department in October 1951 without any objection, that the Toilet Department had to be closed for reasons beyond the control of the company, that the discharge of the workers was affected after duly considering their periods of service vis-a-vis their efficiency. As neither party adduced any oral evidence before me, there is nothing to refute the company's contention that at least 11 out of 13 discharged workers of the Biological Department had never any connection with the union at least to the knowledge of the company or had ever shown any union activity at least within the knowledge of the company. So this contention is to be accepted. If the company had a mind to crush the union it would have taken steps to sack the office bearers on a mass scale but this was never done. There is absolutely no substance in the story that Nanigopal Karmakar and Arjun were transferred to the Tablet Department with the ulterior object of sacking them. These two employees have not pledged their oath on this point. On the contrary, it appears that from 5th to 19th of June 1951 the company was forced to close down the Surgical Cotton Section for want of water. It appears that during that time while the said two workers were thus laid off they had joined the Tablet Department on and from 14th June 1951, and under these circumstances I am inclined to accept the pleading of the company that Nanigopal and Arjun having found that there was no knowing when the Surgical Cotton Section might be required for work must have voluntarily sought for the transfer or at least agreed to that transfer to the Toilet and Tablet Section. The laying off actually continued till some time after 14th June 1951 and in that state of ill-feeling caused by forced unemployment it would not have been possible for the Management to transfer them to the new department if they had not consented to it. Further when the Surgical Cotton Section reopened these two workers did not appear to have made any prayer for being re-employed in the Surgical Cotton Section. The Toilet and Tablet Department was then going on with full force till the end of September 1951. During all these time the said two workers worked there without any objection. There is nothing on record to show that the management had a previous contemplation of closing down that department. The Management closed down that department long after transfer of these two workers on the ground that there has been a huge accumulation of the products of this department. Under these circumstances it is clear that the transfer of the said two workers at a time when they were laid off in the Surgical Cotton Section to this department was for their benefit. On the other hand, there is nothing to show that it has been done by the company with any ulterior motive. If these two workers would have been able to notice any ulterior motive in their transfer they would not have continued to work in this department till long after the Surgical Cotton Section was required for work. So I hold that the contention of the union on this point is airy. The union has also failed to show that the retrenchment of Sachin Das Gupta was without any bona fide trade reason. Sachin Das Gupta has not pledged his oath to explain on what materials the union says that his transfer was without any bona fide trade reason. There is no challenge of the company's version that he was an ordinary clerk and had been working as a surplus hand. According to union's statement this gentleman was a temporary hand working for 3½ years. So I accept the company's Case that it had terminated his service as maintenance of surplus hand was not possible under the circumstances. Besides as Sachin Babu was the only surplus hand in the Audit Section there is no question of application of the principle "last come first go" in his case. From all points of view his retrenchment was, therefore, inevitable. The Union only made a sweeping statement that the discharge of all the 13 discharged persons was an instance of victimisation and unfair labour practice. No such inference can be drawn from the mere fact that these persons were members of the union. There is no substance in the allegation of the union that only important workers of the union were picked up most arbitrarily as the union has not adduced any evidence and the company's statement is the last word on the point. The last contention of the union that the juniors have been allowed to continue in service while the seniors were discharged, comes in only "as the next point for consideration" provided it is found that the management had not acted bona fide in effecting the retrenchment. In the case of Biswamitra Press the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal stated that it is not possible or desirable to give an exhaustive list of cases that would be covered by the second clause. The increase of workload on the workmen retained would be an instance of extraneous consideration. Similarly victimisation, and unfair labour practice in effecting retrenchment would be instances of improper motive. The union has failed to establish any of these grounds. It is only where a case of retrenchment is made out, but at the same time it appears that the management in making the retrenchment has also acted on an extraneous consideration or was actuated by improper motives then and then only the extent of retrenchment comes under the purview of the Tribunal and the Management will have to justify the number retrenched. This principle has been clearly laid down in the Presidency Jute Mills Case also (Labour Appeal Cases, February 1952, page 69). Therefore no inference regarding the first point can be drawn from the consideration of the extent of retrenchment. As regards workload also the union has no definite case. The company's case is that in the Sealing and Filling Section of the Biological Department there were originally 9 persons whose names appear in Ext. E—the attendance register of the month of Baisakh 1351 B.S. It appears that Tarapada, Kashinath, Phani and Sasanka joined in this section respectively in Sraban, Kartick, Agrahayan and Falgoon 1351 B.S. They are, therefore, necessarily juniors in comparison with the others of this department and consequently in their case the company has strictly observed the rule of seniority. Regarding Jiten Chakravarty Ext. E(1) shows that he joined in the Packing Department in Ashar 1357 B.S. The attendance register of Aswin 1358 B.S. discloses the name of 8 persons as Packers and a reference to Ext. E(1) will show that Jitendra was the juniormost amongst them. So in his respect also the rule of "last come first go" has been strictly observed. There is no substance in the story that these persons were picked up by giving go-by to the order of seniority. The union pointed out to me that there were at least 7 names in the pay roll of the month of Aswin 1358 B.S., whose names did not appear in the year 1351 B.S. But the pay sheet does not show that these 7 persons were either men of the Sealing and Filling Department or of the Packing Department or they were men of the Audit Section. So the list does not help the union to prove that the rule of "last come first go" has been deviated from in any of the cases. The necessity of retrenchment having been established it is for the management to determine its labour force and the management would be the best judge to determine the number of men that would be surplus on the ground of economy and other reasons, on which retrenchment can be sustained. As the company has to adjust its production of ampule in proportion to its demand in the market, naturally there will be retrenchment from Sealing and Filling Section as also from the Packing Section. From the sale figure the company was able to show that its sale has fallen by a more than

33½ per cent. in almost every month. Consequently the company was justified in laying its axe on the four persons of the Sealing and Filling Section necessarily also at least one person from the Packing Department and one from the Audit Department. No attempt was made by the union to show before me that thereby any workload, as defined in the case of Kashi Iron Foundry Labour Appeal Cases for July, page 359, was increased. The last man retrenched from this department is one Muhammad Ali. The union contended that this man was the Head Syce and put in about 13 years service. The figures regarding stock of horses in 1357 B.S. as compared with that of 1358 B.S. shows that there was justification of retrenchment of one Syce. In Sraban 1358 B.S. the company purchased 6 horses, since then there has been no purchase of horses during the following 8 months. The maximum stock of horses in the year 1358 B.S. was 44 in the month of Sraban and it came down to 31 in the end of that year. Therefore, in Aswin the company was justified in effecting economy by retrenchment of one Syce on account of the general fall of sale and demand of the Biological goods. On the question why this senior Head Syce was retrenched in preference to junior ones, the company's explanation is that this was done on the report of the departmental head. It appears that one Jiten Banerji who is in charge of the horses reported against Muhammad Ali on 18th Kartick 1357 that this man was asked by him to take special care of horse No. 104 which was sick, but the Syce went out without his knowledge and has not even instructed any one to give the medicine prescribed to the horse. This time the Superintendent warned the Head Syce. Next comes the report Ext. F(1) against him to the effect that he was absent from the compound from 3 p.m. on 6th Baisakh 1358, when horse No. 94 died of collic pain at 6 p.m., but that none of the Syce informed him about the pain of the horse, so he recommended that this Head Syce be degraded to the post of an ordinary horse keeper. He also requested the management to appoint one Dhirendra Babu to look after the horses as the Head Syce cannot be relied on any more safely. The Superintendent warned the Head Syce this time also as he was committing a number of offences. Then followed another offence which was extremely serious in its nature. On 11th Aswin 1358 this man effaced the horse-number from the front wall of the stable of the new horses. As the injections were administered to these horses for the purpose of preparation of serum it was a serious offence to efface the numbers from the front wall and thereby mislead the doctor. This was obviously done out of grudge for his degradation as was stated in the report. This was reported to the Managing Agent as involving a serious offence and under the circumstances, the Management was justified in retrenching him. The rule is well-established that the other things being equal "the last come is to first go". Here the Management was justified in departing from the rule "last come first go" and by doing so there has been no unfair labour practice or victimisation nor was it done with any ulterior or any improper motive. The Head Syce has not come to pledge his oath. Consequently from any point of view the Management has not acted on any extraneous consideration but it acted bona fides in effecting the retrenchment. As I had to scrutinise the matter regarding extent of retrenchment as well in view of the allegations of the union in their written statement that the company was influenced by "other considerations" in effecting retrenchment I further hold that the Management was justified as to the extent of retrenchment as well. The last point remains is the amount of compensation and I will deal with this point while I will consider the case of compensation of the workers of the other department affected by closure.

As regards closure the company's case is that as there was an appreciable fall in the sale of biological goods and loss of the company in dealing with those products, the company decided not to carry on the business of manufacturing the same goods and as such abolished the Toilet Department. On this point the union's contention was that the company did not issue any discharge notice. But this is not true. Discharge notices have been duly served. Company next contended that the discharge of all the persons was an instance of victimisation and unfair labour practice and that the most glaring specimen of such unfair labour practice were the cases of Sri Nani Gopal Karmakar and Sri Arjun Kumar Shaw referred to above. I have already discussed the cases of these two persons and shown that there was no unfair labour practice in their transfer. Nobody contemplated at the time of the transfer that the Toilet and Tablet Department would be closed and even the victims themselves did not apprehend closure of this department till it was actually closed. They have failed to show that the Management had any ulterior motive in getting them transferred. On the contrary, the transfer has been proved to be for their benefit. So the story of the union that their cases were most glaring specimen of such unfair labour practice falls to the ground. There being no other allegation of unfair labour practice it must be held that the union has failed to prove that the closure of the Tablet Department was an instance of unfair labour practice. On the contrary, the company has been able to show that even after the department was closed on the 1st of October 1951 the stock that was accumulated was sold and the sale-proceeds for the next six months in 1358 B.S. amounted to a total figure of Rs. 11,400. The average monthly sale of the produce of this department varied from Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 2,000 in the previous years and hence the stock that was accumulated in the end of September was certainly a huge stock. A comparison of sale figure of these products for the years 1356 to 1358 B.S. will also show that the monthly sales have extremely deteriorated during the year 1358 B.S. from the figures of the previous years. On a consideration of all these I am satisfied that there was an appreciable fall of sale and due to the accumulation of the stock, the company naturally suffered loss in dealing with these goods and they are, therefore, justified in closing this department. The law on the point has been clearly laid down in the case of Metal and Meterological Corporation vs. Industrial Tribunal, Madras, by their Lordships of the Madras High Court to the effect that—

> "the right to carry on business conferred by Article 19, clause (1)(g) of the Constitution of India is not absolute. The State has got right to regulate any business and may impose condition in the interest of general public but it does not mean that the State can compel any employer to carry on the business because several employees may be thrown out of employment if it is closed. The question whether an employer could or could not close down business permanently or temporarily falls outside the purview of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, which assumes the continued existence of an industry. There cannot, therefore, be a dispute between an employer and employees as regards the continuance of the business and any reference of the question to an Industrial Tribunal will be invalid. It is not open to the High Court to canvas the ground which prompted an owner to discontinue his business. There may be an actual loss or apprehended loss. It may be disinclination to run the risk of running the business. (Indian Factory Law Journal Reports, Volume III, page 421)."

In the present case there was, therefore, sufficient justification and the business was closed down bona fide—no matter though thereby several employees have been thrown out of employment. That the company acted bona fide in closing its Tablet Section and also in curtailing business in the other department of the Biological Section by way of effecting retrenchment is also established by the subsequent conduct of the company. When the company reopened its Surgical Cotton Section it called in all the workers by a notice (Ext. 3) and all the workers to that department joined. Thereafter in order to meet the urgent order of the Government the Dressing Department had to work in double shift and for that the company had to engage temporary workers from time to time. The documentary evidence adduced by the company shows that one such recruitment was made on 5th of May 1952 and another on 22nd of July 1952. On both the occasions the company issued a general notice to the Secretary of the union to the effect that if the retrenched workers of the company are willing to work temporarily they are hereby required to register their names to the undersigned on or before certain date. This clearly indicates the falsity of the story of the union that the company retrenched these 13 persons of the Biological Department on account of their union activities or that they had an ulterior motive to get rid of them any how. If that was the object of the company, notices of this nature would not have been served. The union admits the receipt of at least one of these letters, viz., the one, dated 26th July 1952, but there is no explanation why the workers did not turn up in reply to that call. This proves the bona fide conduct of the Management and the futility of the allegations made against them in the union's statement regarding victimisation, unfair labour practice and so on.

I, therefore, finally hold that in this case closure was justified and I have already held that the retrenchment was also justified.

But it is well-settled that even in case of justifiable retrenchment or closure compensation should be given to retrenched workers in order that they may sustain themselves of the period during which they are likely to remain unemployed. Retrenchment compensation is intended in a sense to serve the purpose similar to that of unemployment insurance. In assessing the amount of compensation for loss of employment various factors have to be taken into consideration such as length of service, the ground of retrenchment and the capacity of the employer to pay. They should also be entitled to their Provident Fund money or the gratuity money or the other dues, as the case may be. In the present case by the award of Sri S. C. Chakravarti it has been enjoined that although there has been an agreement that 6¼ per cent. Provident Fund should be opened at once the company has not been implementing the same without any justifiable excuse. So far as the employees are concerned there are to join 6¼ per cent. Contributory Provident Fund and the company must get the fund registered and put in operation within a period of six months from the enforcement of the award. For the period prior to the introduction of the Provident Fund the provision of gratuity as contained in the agreement shall be followed. Those who retire before the introduction of the Provident Fund, they will get gratuity according to the scheme underlying in the agreement and those who remained in service will get for the previous period, i.e., the period prior to the introduction of the Provident Fund, gratuity on the above scale. Thus the company will undoubtedly be bound to return the Provident Fund money including company's contribution as well as interest as stipulated irrespective of the period of service rendered by the employees. With regard to those in which cases Provident Fund contribution has not been so deducted they will be entitled to gratuity at the rate of 15 days' wages per year according to the length of service. Maximum length of service in the present case is 19 years. With respect to those who have been affected by the closure of the business as also those who have been retrenched I do not wish to make any differential treatment. In my opinion, all the 13 persons affected by this issue will be entitled to retrenchment relief as noted below in addition to the dues stated above. I have already observed that on account of the company's policy in not paying the dues of the employees as accumulated the total dues swelled up and now the company has naturally to share a heavy burden to pay up these accumulated dues, and no concession can be made in respect of them as they are simply employees' dues detained by the Management. No doubt the financial position of the company is not very promising and it had to close down one of its departments and to effect retrenchment in others in order to adjust its business according to the demand. But by doing so, the company has recouped to a great extent in the second half of 1358 B.S. As I have already observed that for this position of this company the Management is partly responsible and not its workmen. "But there is yet scope of improvement" to use the words of Sri S. C. Chakravarti "if it be applied judiciously in other departments."

There is, however, no evidence before me that the persons retrenched had been actually sitting idle up till the present time. These persons have not pledged their oath before me, besides these persons are getting something in the shape of their accumulated dues lying with the company. From all these considerations I allow retrenchment relief as noted below: For those who have put in less than six months' service they will get wages for five days including dearness allowance and others having more than six months' service will get wages and dearness allowance for five days only for every six months up to a maximum of two months.

Issue No. 5.

As regards this issue the matter was almost settled before the Labour Commissioner who directed the company to pay up 50 per cent. of the wages for the period of closure from 6th August 1951 to 19th August 1951. The closure was for want of supply of water, over which the Management has no control, and the notice was covered by the terms of the Standing Order regarding which discussions have already been made. As the Company is still agreeable to pay the compensation as recommended by the Labour Commissioner and accepted by the company, my award on this point is that the workers affected should get compensation at the rate of 50 per cent. of their wages, if not already paid. The contention of the learned Advocate for the union that the workers should be paid full wages of this period, cannot find favour with this Tribunal in the face of the financial conditions of the company and its Standing Orders which are binding on both sides. This prayer of the union, therefore, stands rejected and the compensation awarded as above is maintained.

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Popular Press, 5, Simla Street, Calcutta-6, and their workmen represented by the Press Employees' Association, 249B, Bow Bazar Street, Calcutta.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

Sri G. PALIT, District Judge, Tribunal.

Present for the Association: Sri S. K. Dhar, Pleader, instructed by Sri Indu Bhusan Sarkar, Secretary, Press Employees' Association.

The hearing commenced on 29t July 1952 and continued till 31st July 1952 when the argument was conclud ed. The award was reserved.

(2) Bonus for 1950.

(3) Dearness allowance.

(4) Leave system.

(5) Working hours.

AWARD.

4. Before I take up the issues specifically I think it worthwhile to refe to the history behind the dispute. The workmen of this press are said to b members of the Press Employees' Association which is a registered Trad Union. The workmen originally placed their grievances before the Manage ment for redress. Finding no relief there they placed their charter o demands to the Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal, on 16t November 1950. Conciliation proceedings were started by the Labou Commissioner. There were several joint conferences. The Managemen ultimately agreed to implement the award of the Tribunal concerning print ing presses being order No. 4065, dated 26th July 1950, of the Goverumen of West Bengal. But the press authorities later on went back upon this promise and refused to implement the said agreement, dated 1st March 1951, because an appeal has been preferred by the Press Owners' Association in the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India. The Management did not implement the agreement in spite of the Labour Commissioner's direction to make good its promise by implementing the award.

5. The contention of the press employer is that the Association is not competent to represent the employees of this press because only a minority had approached the said Association. Another objection is that no demand in writing has been placed before the Management. As such, the present reference is said to be bad. The employer disclaims any liability to implement the award of the Major Press Tribunal because there has been an appeal against the award which is still pending and because the agreement has lapsed by this reference. The objections of the press regarding the specific claims I shall deal with while I discuss the issues.

Issue No. 1—Scale of Pay.

6. It is the contention of the Company that this issue on scale of pay is untenable in the absence of any reference on the issue of grades or minimum wages. During the hearing the press has taken the stand that in the Pay Book the classification of workers has been made. The press wants to pin down the workers to the said designations because the workers have signed the Pay Book while taking payment of salary. This was introduced in April 1951, as O. P. W. No. 1, the Assistant Manager of the Popular Press, has deposed before me. I have compared the Annexure A of the Association's written statement and the Annexure 1 of the press's written statement, and I find that so far as the designations are concerned, there is very little divergence. So I do not attach much importance to the Association's contention that the designations have recently been changed by the press arbitrarily to avoid giving proper salaries. Now, as these men have been given certain designations and as each such designation stands for a particular category, I do not think there is any difficulty in fixing the scales of pay of such categories. I do not uphold the objection that the scale of pay cannot be fixed unless there is an issue about fixation of minimum wages. When the scale of pay is fixed, the minimum and maximum wages are automatically fixed.

Regarding the scale of wages I accept the award of the Major Press Tribunal for several reasons. This award did comprise the bulk of presses in the State of West Bengal. The wages that were fixed by the Tribunal may be taken to be the wages obtaining in most of the presses and also at a par with the wages of similar concerns in the neighbourhood. At all events, it is desirable that the wages should be uniform in most of the presses in this State. The Tribunal should avoid, as far as possible, fixing a certain wage which is at variance with the wages prescribed for the industry by a Major Tribunal in respect of such industry. That would breed unrest and would certainly not conduce to industrial peace. The employer of this particular press during the conciliation stage also gave the assurance in writing to implement the award of the Press Tribunal. He now wants to shirk the pledge. As a plea to avoid it he contends that there is an appeal pending in the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India. That an appeal is pending is a fact, but the appeal is against the decision of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal. The Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal did not go into the question of wages fixed by the original Tribunal as such or, at all events, did not interfere with it. So I find no point why the employer of the present concern should not redeem its pledge by implementing the award, so far as the scale of pay fixed by the original Press Tribunal is concerned. Why he wants to avoid it is perfectly clear, because he wants to spare himself the extra burden that he would otherwise incur by implementing the award. Now whether this agreement to implement the award is binding on him at the present moment in view of the appeal or not, I am not very much concerned with. Even apart from this agreement I fix the scale of pay according to the award passed by Sri A. Das Gupta in the Press Tribunal with reference to the order No. 4065Lab., dated 26th July 1950, of the Government of West Bengal. I need not refer what would be the specific scale of pay of senior machinemen or of junior machinemen or of junior compositors, etc. That has been given in details in the said award which I accept for the present case.

I need make only one comment in this connection. The press in the present case has divided machinemen into two groups, viz., senior and junior machinemen. It says, it does so with reference to the length of service and efficiency. This matter should be put on a satisfactory basis, as otherwise this may raise a dispute. So I accept the statement of O. P. W. No. 1 that the workers will be called "senior" when they have put in at least 8 or 10 years of service and are found to be efficient. I would ask the press just to promote the junior machinemen and junior compositors to the senior grades on completion of 8 years of service and on proof of their efficiency.

Regarding apprentices some comment is also called for. I find in the Annexure 1 of the written statement of the press that there are many apprentices who have been serving from 1948 or 1949 but they are merely getting some allowance. The allowance, of course, has been periodically increased. From O. P. W. No. 1's statement I have got that apprentices of 3 years can do job work. So there is no reason why an apprentice should not be given salary according to the grade he is working in after three years of apprenticeship. I direct that the apprenticeship should be limited to three years. It may be less but should not be more. During the period of apprenticeship they should get two-third of the minimum wages of the scale prescribed for the posts to which they are attached as apprentices. I do not accept the contention of the press that the apprentices are all mere learners. The press is doing humanitarian work of training people to secure jobs elsewhere. If such a laudable job is in the mind of the owner, it is quite all right. But he should not deny these people their legitimate dues corresponding to the benefit which he is having by their service. So I award as above. The pay scale will come into operation just as the award becomes enforceable.

Issue No. 2—Bonus for 1950.

7. This relates to bonus for 1950. The press has proved balance sheets for the years 1947-48, 1948-49, 1949-50 and 1950-51. These have been marked Ext. C series. They are said to have been prepared with reference to the books of accounts. The account books were placed for inspection by the Association. The press contends that it gave no bonus in 1949-50 because there was loss. In 1949-50 I find that the press sustained losses to the extent of Rs. 3,406-15. In 1948-49 also there was loss to the tune of Rs. 2,955. In 1947-48 there was profit to the extent of Rs. 9,830-10. In 1950-51 there was profit to the extent of Rs. 2,192-4. It is worthy of note in this connection that both in 1948-49 and 1949-50 there was an advance on the score of income-tax to the extent of Rs. 3,000 and odd and Rs. 6,000 and odd. In 1947-48 the amount of income-tax was Rs. 1,762-1. Now this is a proprietary private concern. I do not get the names of the auditors who checked these accounts and prepared balance sheets. So there is a good deal of suspicion which can legitimately attach to such balance sheets. Besides, I do not see why income-tax was reserved so much in 1948-49 and 1949-50 when there was loss while the income-tax in 1947-48 was much less and in 1950-51 no income-tax has been reserved. So the Association can very well contend that by only reserving income-tax for those two years, loss has been shown. To this I do not get any convincing reply from the side of the press. Secondly, in 1948-49 bonus was given to the extent of 15 days' salary though there was loss in 1948-49. The press contends that bonus was given that year in anticipation of profits. But it is admitted that bonus was not deducted in the following year when, as a matter of fact, there was loss. Now, if in 1949 bonus would be given in anticipation of profits, why not in 1949-50? As a matter of fact, since 1950 the press is looking up and the prospect seems to be bright. There was, in fact, profit in 1950-51. So I am inclined to believe the Association's contention that bonus was refused in 1949-50 because the workmen were then agitating their demands through the Press Employees' Association. In this view of the matter and because I cannot place the audited accounts of the employer above suspicion, I allow bonus in 1950 to the extent of 15 days' salary as in 1948-49. This issue is disposed of accordingly.

Issue No. 3—Dearness Allowance.

8. In the Major Press award dearness allowance was allowed at a flat rate of Rs. 22 per month for adults. In appeal it was raised to Rs. 28 per month. Against this matter, of course, an appeal has been directed in the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India. Now, pending the decision in the said appeal, I think I shall be justified in fixing the dearness allowance at Rs. 28 per month at a flat rate. The Press took the stand that it was paying dearness allowance; some portion of the consolidated wages which it was paying did represent dearness allowance. But O. P. W. No. 1 in his deposition before me has stated that he is not in a position to say how much of the consolidated wages represented dearness allowance. So the press was not only deluding the workers by saying that it was giving dearness allowance but was deluding itself. The Tribunal cannot permit this. Even if the Employer cannot split up the dearness allowance during the hearing. I may safely assume that none was being given. So I grant dearness allowance accordingly as above. This will come into effect as soon as the award becomes operative.

Issue No. 4—Leave System.

9. In the written statement the Press contended that it allowed 37 days' leave in a year. Any further leave, if granted, will hamper production and will encourage idleness. During the hearing O. P. W. No. 1 states that he grants 19 days' festival holidays and 15 days' privilege leave on full pay. This leave relates to the leave prescribed under the Factories Act. So it appears that altogether 34 days' leave including holidays is given in a year and not 37 days, as stated in the written statement. So the leave system in this press is anything but happy. I find no reason why the leave system, which was granted by the Press Tribunal and confirmed in appeal by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal, will not be given in the present case. Accordingly I allow privilege leave to the extent of 15 days in a year on full pay to be accumulated for 3 years and casual leave to the extent of 7 days in a year on full pay (non-cumulative) and sick leave to the extent of 10 days in a year on full pay on genuine medical ground on production of certificate from a registered medical practitioner to be accumulated up to 3 months subject to a limit of six months in the whole service. Casual leave is available to the clerks only. This I grant on the lines of the award of the omnibus Press Tribunal. Gazetted holidays in a year, excluding Sundays, will amount to 10 days. The leave system, though, in my opinion, is a bit liberal, should not be grudged in case of these employees because they have to work in lead which is certainly in the long run injurious to health. To use scripts also involves strain of the eye. So the employees of the press stand on a preferential ground than their confreres in other industries. The issue is disposed of as above.

Issue No. 5—Working Hours.

10. The omnibus Press Tribunal has fixed 7½ hours a day during the first 5 days—Monday to Friday—with half-an-hour's recess for tiffin and 4½ hours on Saturday without any recess. So the total hours of work have been fixed at 42 hours per week. I do not like to depart from the working hours prescribed practically for the whole industry. The press at present insists on 45 hours of work excluding recess. So the working hours have got to be curtailed. The press contends that under the Factories Act 48 hours per week has been prescribed as the total hours of work. That is true, but the Factories Act has prescribed only the maximum. It is for the Industrial Tribunal just to fix the hours of work according to each industry with reference to the particular conditions obtaining in such industry. So the Tribunal is perfectly competent to prescribe less hours of work. It cannot be accused of having exceeded its jurisdiction until it prescribes hours of work in excess of what is prescribed as the maximum under the Factories Act. So the total working hours per day and per week in this press are prescribed as above. I leave it to the Management just to fix the exact hour when it would commence work and when it would end with reference to its own convenience and to the convenience of the workers concerned.

11. Before I conclude I must refer to the few legal objections which the learned Advocate of the press has placed before me during the hearing. It was contended by him that the workers in the present case, who have approached the Association to represent them, form only a negligible minority of the total personnel. Whether this is a fact or not, of course, remains to be proved. But I am of opinion that even a few persons can engage the service of the Employees' Association of the industry in which they work to represent them before the Tribunal. It is not necessary that they must form the majority of the total strength working in any particular unit of the industry. Possibly, the learned Advocate had in his mind section 10, sub-section (2) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, when he raised this contention. There, of course, the Government before making a reference has got to be satisfied that the persons applying do represent the majority of each party. That is certainly not the case here. The Government made this reference on the failure of a conciliation proceeding and as a result of the report under section 12(5) of the Act. Section 36 of the Act bears on the matter of representation of parties. There it is stated that where a workman is not a member of any trade union, he can be represented by an officer of any trade union connected with, or by any other workman employed in, the industry in which the workman is employed and authorised in such manner as may be prescribed. Now the Press Employees' Association is a registered Association dealing with Press employees and the workmen who have approached this Association also work in a press. So the present Association is perfectly competent to represent them. There is no dispute that the Secretary of the Association has not been authorised. So the contention is turned down.

Regarding the other contention that no Charter of Demands was placed in writing before the Management in the first instance, and as such there is no industrial dispute. I am afraid, it is equally hollow. I get that the employees placed their grievances before the Management verbally though there is not clear evidence on that point. But this version of the Association seems to be acceptable to me because it is only in the fitness of things that they would do it before approaching the Labour Commissioner and the Hon'ble Labour Minister. In the present case, there has been a conciliation proceeding in which both parties had met and placed their view points. They could not come to any agreed solution on all the points, but there was an agreement which the employer now wants to discard. So there is no room for doubt that there was an industrial dispute between the parties. The Government was satisfied about its existence or it would not have made the reference as it has done. So the contention that there was no industrial dispute cannot stand.

Rules.

1. (i) These rules may be called the Travelling and Daily Allowances (West Bengal Ministers, Ministers of State, Deputy Ministers and Parliamentary Secretaries) Rules, 1952.

(ii) They shall be deemed to have come into force on the 13th day of June 1952, provided that no adjustment of mileage or daily allowance which has already been drawn by a Minister under the rules in force prior to the issue of these rules, shall be made.

2. The Ministers, the Ministers of State, the Deputy Ministers and the Parliamentary Secretaries shall draw travelling allowance at the same rates as are admissible and under the same conditions as are applicable to Government servants of the first grade subject to the following exceptions:—

(a) Journey by railways.—(i) Subject to the conditions laid down in rule 162 of the West Bengal Service Rules, Part II, the Ministers may, at their option, travel in a reserved first class railway compartment on requisition and shall be entitled to railway fares actually paid for not more than four personal servants at lowest class rates, and to the conveyance of all their personal luggage at the public expense, whether taken in the luggage-van of the train to which the reserved compartment is attached or sent by any other train.

(ii) The Ministers shall pay the usual fares for any person travelling with them in the reserved compartment and if Government pays full tariff rates for the reserved compartment such fares shall be credited to Government by the railway. No other travelling allowance shall be admissible for the rail journey.

(b) Journey by steamer.—When travelling by steamer, the Ministers may, at their option, charge their personal bona fide travelling expenses, appending to their bills a certificate as follows:—

"I certify that I have actually paid the amount of this bill and that it does not include any charges for the freight of any stores or goods other than my personal luggage, or any charge for refreshments".

Explanation.—Stores taken for consumption on tour shall be deemed to be personal luggage.

(c) Journey by air.—When travelling by air, the Ministers shall, in cases of urgency, be entitled to the fare actually paid for one attendant, but in that case they shall not be entitled to send any servant by train.

Explanation 1.—For the purpose of this clause "attendant" includes a private servant of the Minister.

Explanation 2.—The Minister's decision whether it is a case of urgency shall be final.

(d) Journey by road.—The Ministers may, at their option, charge at a rate of annas 12 per mile for a journey by road, or in lieu thereof, their personal bona fide travelling expenses, appending to their bills a certificate as follows:—

"I certify that I have actually paid the amount of this bill and that it does not include any charges for the freight of any stores or goods other than my personal luggage, or any charge for refreshments, hotels or staging bungalows".

Explanation.—Stores taken for consumption on tour shall be deemed to be personal luggage.

(e) Daily allowance.—(i) The Ministers, while touring on public business, shall be entitled to daily allowance at the rate of Rs. 15 for the period of absence from headquarters. For halts outside the State of West Bengal, they may in addition draw an allowance of Rs. 10 per day. For the purpose of drawal of such additional allowance, a day shall be interpreted as a period which includes a midnight.

(ii) The Ministers of State, the Deputy Ministers and the Parliamentary Secretaries, while touring on public business, shall be entitled to daily allowance at the rate of Rs. 12-8 for the period of absence from headquarters and at the rate of Rs. 15 for halts in Darjeeling and outside the State of West Bengal.

3. The Ministers, when travelling on tour, may recover the cost of carrying a motor car under the conditions specified in rule 84 of the West Bengal Service Rules, Part II: Provided that Government is satisfied that the car has been employed, for all practical purposes, only as a means of performing, in the public interest, a journey off the line of railway. In cases where the presence of the car with the Ministers has, apart from the advantages to Government of the particular tour or journey, saved them expense in hiring a conveyance or served their personal convenience to an appreciable extent, they shall pay one-fifth of the cost of carriage.

4. When no motor car is carried with them while on tour outside the State, the Ministers are entitled to recover actual hire charges of a motor car if one is hired by them at the place of halt in the interest of public service. A certificate to the effect that the hiring of a motor car was necessary in the interest of public service shall be furnished with the bill.

5. The Ministers, the Ministers of State and the Deputy Ministers shall be their own controlling officers. The signature of a Minister or a Minister of State or a Deputy Minister on his travelling allowance bill or on the railway requisition shall be accepted in audit as an authority for the journey, without requiring any further orders of Government. Similarly, no orders of Government, even if otherwise necessary, shall be asked for in the case of journeys undertaken by the personal staff (orderlies and stenographer) of the Minister, the Minister of State or the Deputy Minister provided it is stated on their travelling allowance bills that the journey was made to accompany or to join the Minister, the Minister of State or the Deputy Minister, as the case may be.

6. Journey to join first appointment.—(a) When a Minister, after his appointment as such, travels by railway to join his post, he may, at his option, travel on the following terms, in lieu of drawing travelling allowance under the ordinary rules governing a journey on transfer:—

(i) Any accommodation which he will be entitled, under these rules, to reserve by requisition after joining his post shall, if practicable, be placed at his disposal.

(ii) The charge for haulage of the reserved accommodation shall be paid by Government.

(iii) The Minister shall pay to Government the fare which he would have paid if no accommodation had been reserved, and shall, in addition, pay in cash to the station-master of the station from which the journey commences full fares for any members of his family accompanying him, whether they share his reserved accommodation or not. When Government pays full tariff rates for the accommodation, all such fares shall be credited to Government by the railway.

(b) When a Minister of State or a Deputy Minister, after his appointment as such, travels by railway to join his post, he shall be entitled to draw travelling allowance under the ordinary rules governing a journey on transfer.

(c) When a Parliamentary Secretary, after his appointment as such, travels by railway to join his post, he shall be entitled to draw travelling allowance as for a journey on tour.

7. When a Minister, a Minister of State, a Deputy Minister or a Parliamentary Secretary travels by railway on ceasing to hold office, within a period of fifteen days immediately thereafter, he shall be entitled, if he so desires, to the concessions described in rule 6.

8. Journey in a foreign country.—When touring on public business in a foreign country, the travelling allowance of the Ministers, the Ministers of State and the Deputy Ministers shall be regulated by specific orders of Government issued in each case. Subject to any special order of Government that may be issued in a particular case, the Parliamentary Secretaries, for tours on public business in a foreign country shall draw travelling allowance at the rate admissible to a first grade Government servant for such tours.

9. Subject to such modifications and adaptations as may hereafter be made in the West Bengal Service Rules, the Controlling Officer referred to in clause (5) of rule 4 of the West Bengal Service Rules, Part II, shall, in respect of a Parliamentary Secretary, be the Minister in charge of the Department to which he is attached:

Provided that in the case of a Parliamentary Secretary not attached to any particular Department, the Controlling Officer shall be the Minister in charge of the Finance Department:

Provided further that in the case of a Parliamentary Secretary undertaking journeys in connection with his duties as a member of the Legislature, the Controlling Officer shall be the Assistant Secretary of the appropriate House of the Legislature.

10. Where Government order is necessary for drawal of any allowance or undertaking any journey by a Parliamentary Secretary [e.g., Journey outside the State, etc.], necessary Government orders shall be issued with the approval of the Minister in charge of the Department to which he is attached and, in case of a Parliamentary Secretary not attached to any particular department, with the approval of the Finance Minister.

(6) Secretary, District Congress Committee, Cooch Behar.
(7) Secretary, Mahila Samity, Cooch Behar.
(8) Janab Maziruddin Ahmed, M.L.A., Pleader, Cooch Behar.
(9) Sri Sarat Chandra Roy Choudhury, Commissioner, Cooch Behar Municipality.
(10) President, Cooch Behar Bar Association.
(11) Dr. Jaladhar Mitra, Medical Practitioner, Cooch Behar.
(12) Sri Jatindra Mohan Singha Sarker, M.L.A.

The manner in which the Committee will discharge its duties is as follows:—

The members will not visit the hospitals individually; the Committee will form itself into groups of not less than three members, each group in turn will, according to a roster to be kept for the purpose, visit the hospital on a fixed day and at a fixed time in each month. In addition to these visits at fixed times the members will pay unexpected visits to the hospitals. Members while paying surprise visit should on arrival at the hospital immediately contact the Superintendent and in his absence his Deputy before entering the wards. If all the three members of the group are not present, the remaining members can go round without the absentee or absentees, as the case may be. The members constituting the group should inspect the internal arrangements and offer such suggestions regarding the administration of the institution as they think proper.

A visitors' book will be kept in the hospitals in which the recommendations of the Committee will be recorded. The Superintendent will note on the margin, the action taken on each recommendation with any other remarks or explanations that he may wish to offer. He will transmit a copy of the entries without delay to the Director of Health Services, West Bengal, for consideration. The Director of Health Services will take such further action as may seem necessary and will bring to the notice of Government any matter which he thinks sufficiently important.

The Committee as a whole will meet at least once a quarter, review the report of the visiting groups and discuss the remedial measures adopted. The Superintendent of the Medical College Hospitals should attend the meeting of the Visiting Committee.

The Committee will send copies of the resolutions passed at their quarterly meetings to the Secretary to the Government of West Bengal, Department of Medical and Public Health, and also to the Director of Health Services who will submit to Government a report of the action taken or proposed to be taken on the points raised in those resolutions.

The members will hold office for three years or until the next reconstitution of the Committee. Any member who fails to visit the hospitals during three successive months without sufficient reason will automatically cease to be a member and Government will appoint a new member in his or her place. Visitors book should be submitted by the Superintendent to Government once every quarter for noting the names of habitual absentees.

By order of the Governor,
P. M. DATTA, Asst. Secy.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Hooghly.—No. 15928L.A.—3rd September 1952.—The following agreement is published under section 42 of the Land Acquisition Act, I of 1894, for general information:—

Agreement.

Memorandum of agreement made this third (3rd.) day of September, 1952, between The Bengal Belting Works Ltd., Company, a Company registered under the Indian Companies Act, 1892 and having its registered office at No. 2, Dalhousie Square East, Calcutta-(here-in-after called the Company) of the one part and the Governor of the State of West Bengal (here-in-after called the Governor) of the other part.

Whereas for the purpose of the construction of buildings and sheds for the expansion of the factory and for the construction of quarters, rest house, recreation ground for the workers and also for the provision of other amenities—directly concerned therewith, the Company has applied to The Government of Bengal for the acquisition under the provision of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 of the piece and parcel of land containing, 4·573 acres or thereabout situate in the village of Mahesh in the District of Hooghly and more particularly described in the schedule here-to and delineated in the *plan here unto annexed.

And whereas the said Government of West Bengal, being satisfied by an enquiry held under section 40 of the said act that the proposed acquisition is needed for the aforesaid purpose and that the said work is likely to prove useful to the public, has consented to acquire on behalf of the Company the piece or percel of land herein before described.

And whereas the said Government of West Bengal has required the Company under the provisions of section 41 of the above mentioned Act to enter into the agreement with the Governor here-in-after contained. Now this indenture witnesseth that it is hereby agreed and declared as follows:—

(1) On demand the Company shall and will pay to the said Government of West Bengal all and every compensation in respect of the said land tendered, paid or awarded or to be tendered, paid or awarded by the Collector under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 or by Court to which a reference under part III of the said Act may be made, or by the Court or courts to which an appeal from the award of the said Court may be preferred and all costs, charges and expenses of the proceedings in the aforesaid Courts, or otherwise incidental to the proposed acquisition or payable in respect thereof under the provisions of the said Act.

(2) On demand made by the said Collector, the obligations of the Company under the last preceding clause not being there by limited, the Company shall and will deposit with the said Collector such sum or sums of money as in his discretion, the said Collector may in anticipation estimate to be necessary for the purposes mentioned in the last preceding clause.

(3) On payment by the Company of all demands under the foregoing first clause, or, in the discretion of the said Government of West Bengal (on deposit by the Company of all estimated amounts as provided in the second clause), but not before possession shall have been taken under the provisions of the above mentioned Act, the Governor shall make over possession of the said land to the Company and shall execute and do all such Acts and deeds as may be necessary and proper for effectually vesting the same in the Company.

(4) The said land shall be held by the Company for the purposes of such a nature or character as is here-in-before mentioned and without the sanction in writing of the said Government of West Bengal first had and obtained for no other purpose what-so-ever.

(5) The said buildings, structures, sheds, rest houses and recreation grounds shall be completed (and fully equipped in all respects ready for use) within 5 (five) years from the date on which possession of the said land shall have been given to the Company.

(6) Should the said buildings, structures, sheds, rest houses and recreation grounds not be completed (and fully equipped in all respects ready for use) within the period stated in the last preceding clause or within such further period as in its discretion may be prescribed or allowed by the said Government of West Bengal or should the said land at any time there after cease for a period of six consecutive months, to be held and used or cease to be required for the purpose or purposes provided for in the fore-going fourth clause then and in any such case, the said Government may summarily re-enter upon and take possession of the said land together with all buildings there on, whether such buildings were erected before or after transfer of the land to the Company, and thereupon the interest of the Company in the said land and buildings shall absolutely cease and determine.

(7) On taking such possession the said Government may sell or otherwise deal with the said land and buildings as it may think proper.

(i) Should the said Government sell the land with the buildings, the said Government after deducting the expenses incurred in connection with the said taking of possession and with such sale shall pay the proceeds to the Company.

(ii) Should the said Government decide not to sell the land and buildings the said Government shall retain the said land and buildings thereon in which case the Government shall repay to the Company, the market value as on the day of re-entry of all the buildings erected by the Company and all sums received from the Company in respect of all and every compensation as provided in the fore-going first clause (less the statutory allowance of 15 per cent and less any amount received on account of trees and buildings which are not in existence at the time of resumption) but will not repay any sums paid and received on accounts of costs, charges and expenses.

(iii) Should the said Government decide to sell the buildings only upon such sale, the Governor shall after deducting the expenses of taking possession and selling, pay the balance of the proceeds of sale to the Company, together with the sum received from the Company in respect of the compensation for the land (less the statutory allowance of 15 percent, and less any amount received from the Company on account of trees and buildings which are not in existence at the time of resumption), but will not repay any sum paid and received on account of costs, charges and expenses.

(8) The public shall be entitled to use the said construction, rest houses, recreation grounds, etc., during the opening hours of the Factory provided they are employees of the Bengal Belting Works Ltd. The Company agrees to provide for the training of at least two nominees of the Director of Industries, West Bengal every year for the next five years, with a view to their absorption in the Company's Technical Staff.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDER.

No. 2568Dis./D/11L-38/52.—15th September 1952.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 362Dis./D/11L-38/52, dated the 16th February 1952, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Shama Biscuit Co., Ltd., 13/2, Raja Manindra Road, Paikpara, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by Shama Biscuit Factory Workers' Union, 22/27, Gun Foundry Road, C/o Kamiruddin Bura, Basak Bagan, Cossipore, Calcutta-2, was referred for adjudication to the First Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal a complaint in writing was received from Pachuram and five other workmen of the said Company, before the said Tribunal alleging that the said Company had altered, to the prejudice of the said workmen, the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of the said proceedings;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, 8, LYONS RANGE, SECOND FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

In the matter of a reference No. 362Dis., dated the 16th February 1952, of the Government of West Bengal of Labour Department, and in the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Shama Biscuit Co., Ltd., 13/2, Raja Manindra Road, Paikpara, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by the Shama Biscuit Company Workers' Union, and in the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, and in the matter of Pachuram and five others (Case No. 65/52).

PRESENT:

SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the complainant: Sri Gour Mohan Ghorui, Secretary of the Union, instructed by Pachu Ram.

For the opposite party: Janab A. Salam, Factory Manager of the Company.

AWARD.

The proceedings started, pursuant to the order of reference No. 362Dis., dated the 16th February 1952, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, were concluded on the expiry of 30 days from the 26th May 1952, on which date the award given pursuant to the order of reference was published under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1457Dis./11L-38/52, dated the 26th May 1952.

The complainants Panchuram, Karimullah, Abdul Wahed, Mamtaj Khan, Sk. Badruddin and Jagadish Chandra Das filed the present petition on 10th June 1952, complaining that they had been made to sit idle by the Management of the Shama Biscuit Company, Limited, from the 1st of March to the 24th April 1952 without any wages and that by this act for which the Management had no permission from the Tribunal as required by the law, the Management had contravened the provision of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950.

The opposite party's case is that the complainants worked in the Packing Department, where the work is carried on under a contract system through the supervisor who engages casual labour on piece-rates as and when there is such work in the Packing Section. This system is alleged to have been going on for a long time before the order of reference and the strength of the casual worker is said to depend upon the volume of work on each day. The opposite party pleads that the complainants could not be provided work for some time on account of shortage of work which led to closure of the Factory during the period.

Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, prohibits during pendency of any proceedings before a Conciliation Officer or a Tribunal, in respect of any industrial dispute, any alteration, to the prejudice of the workmen concerned any such dispute of the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before commencement of such proceedings, or discharge or punishment by dismissal or otherwise of any workmen concerned in such dispute, except with the express permission of the Conciliation Officer, as the case may be.

In event of any contravention of the provision of section 33 during pendency of proceedings before an Industrial Tribunal aggrieved workman or workmen who may file a complaint under section 33A of the Act as amended against such contravention before the Industrial Tribunal before whom the proceedings are pending, and section 33A of the Act authorises the Industrial Tribunal to assume jurisdiction over the industrial dispute arising out of the contravention of section 33, as amended, without a formal reference from the appropriate Government under section 10 of the Act and to adjudicate upon the dispute and to give an award.

Section 10 of the Industrial Dispute Act lays down the general law as to how an industrial dispute and section 33A is a special provision and the conditions under which this special provision may be invoked must be fulfilled before the Tribunal assumes jurisdiction over an industrial dispute without any order of reference from the appropriate Government, as contemplated by the General Section (section 10 of the Act). The conditions are—

(1) That the adjudication proceedings in respect of an industrial dispute must be pending before a Tribunal.

(2) That during pendency of the proceedings there has been contravention of the provision of section 33 of the Act by the employer to the prejudice of the workmen.

(3) That such contravention is in respect of workmen.

Two questions arise in the present case:

(1) Are the complainants workmen of the Shama Biscuit Company, Limited?

(2) Did the Management lay off the workmen of the Packing Section as alleged and does it amount to a change in the conditions of service of the workmen as contemplated by section 33 of the amended Industrial Disputes Act?

According to the Manager Janab A. Salam, the work of the Packing Section of the Shama Biscuit Company, Limited, is being carried on for some time past on a contract system. One Nejamuddin is alleged to employ workers in the Packing Section from time to time according to requirements. The number of such workers is said to vary from day by day according to the volume of work in the Packing Department. Nejamuddin is an employee of the Company. The Manager produced before me the attendance register and the pay roll of the permanent workers of the Company, in which Nejamuddin's name appears. If Nejamuddin employed workmen for the Packing Section and if these workmen were paid through Nejamuddin, Nejamuddin could, by no stretch of imagination, be an independant contractor. He was only deputed by the Management to employ workmen for the Packing Section on piece-rates system and to make payments. He was a Packing Sardar and was responsible for the work of the Packing Section. To discharge the duty efficiently he might employ the workmen of the Packing Section, maintain the attendance and pay them their wages. This system does not make Nejamuddin an independent contractor, or the workmen of the section workmen under Nejamuddin as an employer. The employees of the Packing Section of the Shama Biscuit Company, Limited, although working under the direct supervision of Nejamuddin, are employees of the Company. The preliminary objection of the Company is therefore overruled. I cannot enter into the question whether the complainants or any of them was a permanent workman or not under the Company. This point does not arise in the circumstances of the present case.

Laying off the employees for shortage of work does not by itself amount to discharge or punishment.

Punishment presupposes or signifies some offence committed by the man who is punished. Any action of the employer to the detriment of workman's interest is not punishment so long as no offence is found to have been committed by the workman. Any such action, in the absence of any suggestion of an offence, to the prejudice of a workman may be subject-matter of an investigation as to whether it amounted to any unfair labour practice or not. We are not here concerned with that question. It is sufficient for the purpose of the present enquiry to say that the action of the employers in respect of a workman however detrimental to the interest of the workman is not punishment so long as the workman is not held to have committed an offence or, in other words, so long as the action of the employer is not looked upon by a man of ordinary prudence as punishment.

The next question is whether laying off the workmen of a particular department amounts to a change in conditions of service. From the register produced before me at the hearing, I could understand that the factory was closed from 1st week of March to 24th April. If this closure amounted to a lock-out it was not hit by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act as amended by Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950. If it were a closure, the closure was also not hit by the said section. It was plainly a case of involuntary unemployment, the workmen may be entitled to involuntary unemployment compensation. As involuntary unemployment is a necessary incident of a manufacturing industry, involuntary unemployment during pendency of adjudication proceedings before a Tribunal is not hit by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950. A question arises as to whether refusal of wages to the workmen for this period amounts to a change in conditions of service. For involuntary unemployment, the workers are generally entitled to some compensation and not wages. Nothing could be shown what compensation was payable for involuntary unemployment under the rules of the Company. During the hearing we could understand from one of the complainants, Pachuram, that in last January the workmen of the Packing Section were similarly laid off but at the intervention of the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, the workers were to get compensation of 7 days and they were paid for these days. What was paid to the workers at the intervention of Assistant Labour Commissioner in a particular instance does not establish that the workers were entitled to wages for the period of involuntary unemployment as a condition of service. The complainants are piece-rated workers and are generally employed under the system of "no work no pay" basis. The onus is on the workmen to establish what compensation they were entitled to for involuntary unemployment, and that for involuntary unemployment, during pendency of the adjudication proceedings they were refused such compensation. The scope of the enquiry under section 33A of the amended Industrial Disputes Act is very limited. We cannot go beyond the existing terms and conditions of service. The complaints have failed to discharge the onus and are therefore not entitled to any relief on their application under section 33A of the amended Industrial Disputes Act. I cannot enter into the question what should be the fair compensation for such involuntary unemployment and award to the workmen such compensation as they may be equitably entitled to. Such an enquiry is possible when there is a reference for adjudication under section 10 of the Act but not on a complaint under section 33A of the amended Industrial Disputes Act. In the result, I cannot give any relief to the workmen for the alleged involuntary unemployment. This is my award.

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, 8, LYONS RANGE, SECOND FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

In the matter of reference No. 541Dis., dated the 8th March 1952, of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, and in the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bengal Plywood Manufacturing Company, 36, Foreshore Road, Shalimar, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Katkal Mazdoor Union, 164, Andul Road, P. O. Botanic Garden, Howrah, and in the matter of complaints under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, and in the matter of (1) Chakradhar Jana (Case No. 28/52), (2) Sadhan Kumar Bhattacharjee (Case No. 88/52), (3) Kali Krishna Mukherjee (Case No. 89/52).

PRESENT:

SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the complainants: Sri R. Sen, Secretary of the Union, instructed by Chakradhar Jana and Kali Krishna Mukherjee.

For the opposite party: Sri Chunilal Guha, Officer of the Company.

AWARD.

The proceedings started by this Tribunal, pursuant of the order of reference No. 541Dis., dated the 8th March 1952, for adjudication of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bengal Plywood Manufacturing Co., Ltd., and their workmen has not as yet concluded. The proceedings are still pending.

The three complaints filed by Chakradhar Jana, Kali Krishna Mukherjee and Sadhan Bhattacharjee have been taken up together for convenience, involving, as they do, identical questions of law.

Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, prohibits during pendency of any proceedings before a Conciliation Officer or a Tribunal, in respect of any industrial dispute, any alteration, to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in the dispute, of the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of such proceedings or discharge or punishment by dismissal or otherwise of any workman concerned in such dispute, except with the express permission of the Conciliation Officer or Tribunal as the case may be.

In the event of any contravention of the provisions of section 33 during pendency of the proceedings before an Industrial Tribunal, the aggrieved workman or workmen may file a complaint under section 33A of the Act as amended against such contravention before the Industrial Tribunal before whom the proceedings are pending, and section 33A of the Act authorises the Industrial Tribunal to assume jurisdiction over the industrial dispute arising out of the contravention of section 33 as amended without a formal reference from the appropriate Government under section 10 of the Act and to adjudicate upon the dispute and to give an award.

Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act lays down the general law as to how an Industrial Tribunal can assume jurisdiction over an industrial dispute and section 33A is a special provision and the conditions under which this special provision may be invoked must be fulfilled before the Tribunal assumes jurisdiction over an industrial dispute, without any order of reference from the appropriate Government as contemplated by the general section (section 10 of the Act). The conditions are—

(1) That the adjudication proceedings in respect of an industrial dispute must be pending before a Tribunal.

(2) That during pendency of the proceedings, there has been a contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Act by the employers to the prejudice of the workmen.

(3) That such contravention is in respect of workmen concerned in the dispute pending for adjudication.

The case of the complainant Chakradhar Jana (Case No. 28/52 is that he had been on leave for 15 days from the 7th April on the ground of illness, that on the 21st April, when he went to join his duties, he produced a medical certificate as per order of the Manager, endorsed on his application for leave but that he was not permitted to join. He presumes that he had been dismissed and prays for his reinstatement on the ground, that such dismissal in the circumstances as stated, during pendency of the adjudication proceedings started under the order of reference No. 541Dis., dated the 8th March 1952, without express permission of the Tribunal, was illegal and unjustified.

The opposite party denies the charge and pleads that Chakradhar Jana was directed to produce a medical certificate, and pending submission of the same no leave was granted to him. He, however failed to produce the medical certificate. It has further been pleaded by the Management that Chakradhar Jana was a daily-rated and daily-paid worker and hence a temporary hand.

The complainant Sadhan Bhattacharjee (Case No. 88/52) alleges that in consequence of an injury which he received in course of his duty, he was forced to remain idle for many days, and that by a joint agreement, dated 7th February 1952, before Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, the Management agreed that Sadhan would be allowed to resume his work when he was fit. Sadhan's case is that the joint agreement has not been implemented.

In reply, the Management urges that from the doctor of the Company the Manager could know that Sadhan Bhattacharjee was never under the treatment of the Company's doctor, and that according to the terms of agreement Sadhan Bhattacharjee having failed to substantiate his case was not permitted to join his duty.

The complainant Kali Krishna Mukherjee (Case No. 89/52) says that he had been on leave on the ground of illness for 7 days and that on the expiry of his leave on the 30th June 1952 when he went to the factory with a medical certificate, he was not permitted to join his work. His contention is that in the circumstances as stated his dismissal without the express permission of the Tribunal was both illegal and unjustified.

The opposite party contends that as Kali Krishna did not submit any medical certificate within 3 days from the commencement of his absence as required by the standing orders of the Company, he was not permitted to join.

Now I take up the three cases on the merit, one after another.

Chakradhar Jana (Case No. 28/52).—The combined register of attendance and wages in which Chakradhar's name appears, the payment made for each day was separately entered and separate thumb impressions appear to have been taken from the workers receiving the payments. Chakradhar says that he was paid at the end of the week, but that his thumb impressions were taken against the payment for each of the 6 days in the week. There is no denial on this point. His sworn testimony that he had been working in the Company for over a year stands unrebutted. There is nothing to show that he was a temporary worker. The employer may call each and every worker temporary for some ulterior purpose. That does not justify the discharge of a workman according to the whims of the Management. A temporary workman is one who has been engaged for work which is essentially of a temporary nature likely to be finished within a limited period of time or who is appointed to a permanent job for a limited time. Nothing has been shown to me that the job to which Chakradhar was appointed was a temporary one or that Chakradhar was appointed for a limited time. His sworn testimony is that he was working in the Board Department at the time of his dismissal, and previous to that he was a regular worker of the Drying Department, where there were some casual workers as well. As a regular worker he claims to have received wages for the festival holidays during the last Puja. This has not been denied. On the evidence befort me I am not inclined to believe that Chakradhar was a temporary worker and was liable to be discharged without any notice or compensation. He had been working for over a year and the presumption is that he was a regular worker. This presumption has not been rebutted by the Management. He was ill and he sent an application for leave for 15 days, this application was returned to him by the Management with the direction of the Manager, endorsed on the application, to produce doctor's certificate. Chakradhar's evidence is that he was asked to produce a medical certificate on the date when he was to join, and that on expiry of his leave he took a fit certificate from a doctor but that the certificate was returned to him by the Manager. His further evidence is that he was told that he would get information through the Union. Exhibit "1" is the application of Chakradhar with the Manager's direction endorsed on it. Even if the Manager had not given any specific direction as alleged by the complainant, the direction endorsed in the application should be interpreted in the way Chakradhar understood it. Chakradhar appears to have obtained a medical certificate from a registered medical practitioner on 21st April 1952. In the absence of any suggestion to the contrary, I cannot but hold that his attending physician granted him the certificate on the date which it bears. Chakradhar must have been under the treatment of this doctor and must have obtained the certificate on 21st April 1952. I cannot persuade myself to believe that Chakradhar took a certificate only to keep it in his pocket or took it without the least intention to produce it before the Management to substantiate the ground of his absence. There being no competent witness to deny the sworn testimony of Chakradhar that the medical certificate was produced, and that it was returned to him by the Manager, stands unrebutted. In all fairness he ought to have been allowed to join his work. A man was taken in his place. This proves that he had been dismissed. His dismissal was thus unjustified and illegal, being in contravention of provision of section 33 of the amended Industrial Disputes Act. He must be reinstated to the post to which he was attached prior to his going on leave. He shall be paid full wages and allowances and other benefits, if any, from 21st April 1952 till he is actually reinstated. This period shall not be considered as break in his service. For the period of leave, he shall be entitled to, such allowances or wages as are payable to workers for sick leave under the rules of the Company, Chakradhar shall report himself to the Manager within a week from the date on which this award comes into force. If Chakradhar reports himself to the Manager as directed, he shall be reinstated by the Management to the post he was holding previous to his leave. In the event of default of Chakradhar to report himself as directed he shall lose the entire benefit under this award.

Sadhan Kumar Bhattacharjee (Case No. 88/52).—It appears that he was ill and has been absent from or before 7th February 1952. Either there had been a dispute over Sadhan being permitted to resume his duty or there was any apprehension of dispute. The matter was taken up to Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, and there was a joint agreement. The relevant abstract is quoted below:

> "(2) As regards Sadhan he will produce medical certificate explaining his absence and Management will make necessary enquiries through their medical officer and allow him to resume work as soon as he is fit."

The contention of Sri R. Sen, Secretary of the Union, who appears for Sadhan Bhattacharjee is that when he was fit he reported himself to the Management. He was not allowed to resume his duty. About Sadhan being permitted to resume his duty there was ar industrial dispute up to 7th February 1952. This industrial dispute was settled by the joint agreement. This settlement, according to complainants, has not been implemented. This non-implementation of a joint agreement does not come within the purview of section 33 of the amended Industrial Disputes Act. This may amount to a criminal offence punishable under section 29 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The scope of the enquiry under section 33A of Industrial Disputes Act is, as I have already mentioned, limited and under section 33A of the Act I cannot assume jurisdiction over this alleged non-implementation of the joint agreement. Hence my award is that the complaint of Sri Sadhan Bhattacharjee (Case No. 88/52) shall be dismissed as not maintainable.

Kali Krishna Mukherjee (Case No. 89/52).—His case is that he had been on leave on account of illness for 7 days and that he was directed to produce a medical certificate on the date he would resume his duty. But when he went to join his duty on the 30th June 1952 with a medical certificate, he was not permitted to join. His case is that the action of the Management was neither justified nor legal.

The opposite party's case is that the complainant Kali Krishna did not submit any medical certificate within three days of the commencement of his absence as required by the Standing Orders of the Company and that having contravened the rules of the Company, he was liable to be dismissed. The Management further alleged that he was previously suspended. Kali Krishna has examined himself before this Tribunal. He admits that he had been absent since 23rd June 1952. His case is that he attended the Company on 23rd June 1952 but that as the doctor came late and as he could not wait, he went home. Accordingly he came to the factory doctor on 25th June 1952. Kali Krishna's evidence is that the doctor gave him a throat paint and gave him a prescription, which is marked Ext. 3. This was on 25th June 1952. On the same date Kali Krishna submitted an application for leave and the Manager endorsed his direction on it "Produce Doctor's Certificate". No date appears to have been fixed for submission of the doctor's certificate. The sworn testimony of Kali Krishna is that the prescription of the factory doctor Ext. 3 was shown to the Manager. Manager does not come forward to deny this. The application for leave is Ext. 2 and the prescription of the doctor of the factory is Ext. 3 and Ext 5 is the copy of a medical certificate from a registered practitioner. Kali Krishna went to the factory on the 30th June 1952 to resume his duty. Hajira Babu refused him to join his duty unless there was a settlement with the Manager (Ext. 6) on the following date. Thus on 1st July 1952, Kali Krishna again went to the Hajira Babu and the result was the same (Ext. 6A). Then Kali Krishna approached the Union and the medical certificate was forwarded to the Manager by the Union with a forwarding letter (Ext. 4). This medical certificate was received by the Management. A typed document purporting to be the Standing Orders of the Company has been filed before me. This is Ext. "A". The sworn testimony of the workers examined before me is that there was never any Standing Order of the Company. The copy Ext. "A" does not indicate if this Standing Order was at all certified according to Law. There was a reference in the written statement filed by the Management about Standing Order. My impression is that the typed document has been prepared for the purpose of this case. On the evidence before me I am definite that Kali Krishna went to resume his duty on the 30th June 1952 with prescription of the Company's doctor and a medical certificate from a registered medical practitioner, and that he submitted these to the Manager but that these were returned to Kali Krishna. Then it was sent through the Union, and the Manager who had no courage to deny to have received this medical certificate, introduced story about the Standing Order for the first time. Even if there was any Standing Order duly certified, there is no evidence that such Standing Order was explained to the workmen and posted on the notice board for their information. Exhibit 2 is in English. Unless and until it is explained to the workers in their respective mother tongue, there cannot be any value of the Standing Order. The order of the Manager endorsed on the application of Kali Krishna may reasonably be interpreted that the applicant was to submit a medical certificate when he would report himself to duty. I accordingly award that Kali Krishna is entitled to be reinstated. He will report himself for duty within a week from the date of enforcement of this award. On his reporting himself within the time-limit he shall be reinstated to his original post by the Management. The period from 30th June 1952 to the date of actual reinstatement shall not be break in the service of Kali Krishna Mukherjee. He shall be paid full wages and allowances and other benefits for this period, as if it were not a break in his service on account of his forced absence. As regards the leave period he shall be paid such pay and allowances as are payable under the rules of the Company for sick leave.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, made by Hariprosad Gupta and others of the Kankinarrah Jute Mills, during pendency of proceedings based on reference No. 5984Lab., dated the 10th October 1950, read with orders Nos. 7355, dated 21st December 1950 and 2555, dated 25th April 1951 of the Government of West Bengal.

PRESENT :

SRI S. K. NIYOGI, District Judge, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the wrokmen : Sri S. K. Acharyya, Counsel.

Present for the Company : Sri K. B. Basu, Counsel, assisted by Sri D. Basu Thakur, Solicitor of Messrs. Orr Dignum & Co., Solicitors.

AWARD.

This matter has arisen out of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, as amended in 1950, by 31 workmen headed by Hariprosad Gupta of the Kankinarrah Jute Mills complaining that the Kankinarrah Jute Mills, hereinafter referred to as the Company, dismissed the said 31 workmen without any justifiable cause and without taking the permission of the Tribunal during the pendency of the abovementioned adjudication proceedings. It is alleged that the applicants were the spokesmen of the workmen whose legitimate grievances were all along voiced through them, that the Company all along bore ill-will against them and dismissed them on false and frivolous grounds, and that the acts of dismissals are unfair, unjust, arbitrary, high-handed and amount to victimisation. The prayer is that these workmen should be reinstated and paid compensation for the period of their non-employment.

The reference was in respect of an industrial dispute between the Kankinarrah Jute Mills and their workmen regarding pay for the lock-out period of 2½ days in June 1950. The dispute was originally referred to Sri M. C. Banerji. Subsequently, as his services ceased to be available, the dispute was referred to Sri S. N. Modak, I.C.S., Retired, for adjudication, under Government order No. 7355, dated 21st December 1950. Eventually, the dispute was referred to me for adjudication by the Government of West Bengal order No. 2555Lab., dated 25th April 1951.

By order No. 5521Lab., dated the 25th September 1950, the Government of West Bengal set up a major Jute Textile Tribunal of which Sri S. N. Modak, I.C.S., Retired, was the Chairman. The present application was filed during the pendency of the proceedings before him. The Company in its statement in opposition, filed before Sri S. N. Modak, I.C.S., Retired, stated that it had already applied for permission from the Jute Textile Tribunal set up under Government order No. 5521Lab., dated 25th September 1950, to dismiss under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act all the 31 persons except 14 mentioned in Annexure A, and that in none of the cases there was any violation of section 33 as alleged by the Union.

On these statements the proceedings were pending when the original dispute between the Kankinarrah Jute Mills and their workmen was referred to me for adjudication and with it the present complaint under section 33A of the Act was also transferred to me. On 30th August 1951 the complaining workmen filed a petition stating that the employers had already obtained permission for dismissal of the 14 persons mentioned in Annexure A to their written statement, as also 9 other persons, without their knowledge, and they prayed for an adjournment to enable them to move the Jute Textile Tribunal for rescinding the order passed by that Tribunal in respect of the aforesaid 14 persons. I understand that after a long time had elapsed the workmen made an application before the Major Jute Textile Tribunal for setting aside the said orders but with no favourable result. Ultimately, the present application under section 33A of the Act was heard with respect to the 17 persons mentioned below, out of the 31 persons named in the application, both parties having admitted that the Major Jute Textile Tribunal had not made any final orders under section 33 in respect of these persons and that their cases are still open for adjudication by this Tribunal.

(i) Of the abovementioned 17 persons, the cases of (1) Hariprosad Gupta, (2) Bhowgaban Das, (3) Bashudeo, (4) Fathe Singh and (5) Bedia are based on charge-sheets, Exts. F, F1, L, L1 and L2, respectively. The charge-sheets disclose that these 5 persons were placed under suspension with immediate effect, pending investigation of the charges and final decision in the matter. In the charge-sheets, Exts. F and F1, relating to Hariprosad Gupta and Bhowgaban Das it is mentioned that the suspension was not by way of punishment. Hariprosad and Bhowgaban have denied that any charge-sheet was given to them. But the Labour Officer Sri N. K. Chatterjee has deposed that the charge-sheets were handed over to them by him personally in presence of others on the afternoon of the 9th October 1950, that they received the charge-sheets, but did not acknowledge the same in writing, and that disregarding the order of suspension communicated to them they forcibly worked on their respective machines. Exts. G and G(1) are relevant entries in the Muster Rolls showing that they worked forcibly for 2 days in spite of their suspension on the 9th afternoon. That they were given charge-sheets and placed under suspension pending enquiry on 9th October 1950, will also appear from the Company's letter to the S.D.P.O., dated 11th October 1950 [see Ext. H(1)]. It is clearly mentioned that amongst others these two men were suspended on 9th October 1950 pending enquiry and were also informed repeatedly that they were not to enter the Mills except to give reply to their charge-sheets, but yet they were continuing to work forcibly in their respective jobs. I have not the least doubt that they were served with charge-sheets and suspended pending enquiry, but they continued to work disregarding the employer's order of suspension pending enquiry and took no notice of the charge-sheet to which they never replied. Enquiries were made into the charges laid against all the five persons including Hariprosad and Bhowgaban, but in the case of the last mentioned two persons the enquiries were made ex parte as they had submitted no explanation. In all these 5 cases the Management decided to dismiss the workmen concerned, but as proceedings were pending before the Tribunal they further decided to obtain permission of the Tribunal under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act for their dismissal. So from the charge-sheets it is clear that none of these 5 men was actually dismissed as alleged in the application. Nor does the Company's witness say that any of these 5 men charge-sheeted was actually dismissed after they were placed under suspension pending enquiry. It is now a common case that the Jute Textile Industries Tribunal has not made final orders under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act granting or refusing permission to dismiss these men. The fact that the Company has applied for permission to dismiss them is on the other hand relevant to show that they have not been dismissed. Hariprosad's evidence is that he was arrested by police and kept in jail for 26 or 27 days, and that after his release he offered himself for work but it was refused. This refusal on the part of the Company,—assuming that it was a fact,—was justified because he was under orders of suspension pending final decision of the matter. It does not give rise to the inference that he was dismissed. In the circumstances, I am unable to accept the contention of the workmen that these 5 persons, Hariprosad Gupta, Bhowgaban, Bashudeo, Fathe Singh and Bedia were dismissed as alleged in the application. They were undoubtedly suspended pending investigation and final decision, but the complaint is not in respect of the order of suspension, but in respect of acts of dismissal which have not yet happened. Be it mentioned that the charges were serious. Hariprosad had undertaken a "fast unto death" after having circulated a printed pamphlet (Ext. A) which was calculated to work up the feelings of the workers against the Company. During the hunger-strike which lasted from the 26th to the 29th September, he remained always within the mill premises in front of the Manager's office, attracting workers who poured in numbers and gathered around him. The object of the strike was, besides gaining cheap popularity, obviously to coerce the Company to concede to the demands of the workers for their lock-out pay regarding which conciliation proceedings were pending in the Labour Directorate.

His act of strike was highly objectionable. It encouraged the workers in leaving their work and joining the demonstration in breach of discipline and in violation of orders. This was followed by a similar second hunger-strike undertaken by some men and women workers, whose line of action must have been influenced by the demonstration made by Hariprosad. Fathe Singh, Bedia and Bashudeo stood charged for having violated the Company's orders and caused disruption of smooth running of the Mill, and also for having committed criminal trespass by participating in the so called hunger-strike. They practically admitted the guilt and made excuses for that. As the evidence goes, Hariprosad and Bhowgaban caused various officers of the Mill and also the Assistant Labour Commissioner to be surrounded and wrongfully restrained by other workers of the Mill led by them on more than one occasion. Hariprosad is also said to have publicly shouted in a crowd for a gun so that he could teach a lesson to the members of the Management. In the circumstances, if the Company had acted according to their decision to dismiss these persons, I would think that the Company could not be blamed as having done an improper act. But that is another matter, and I am not called upon to decide it, the applications under section 33 in respect of these persons not being before me. I need only point out that these persons have not been dismissed, they have been placed under suspension by way of a security measure pending enquiry and final decision which rests ultimately with the Tribunal.

It has been held by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Jute Workers' Federation, Calcutta, and Clive Jute Mills, reported in 1951 L.L.J., Vol. II, page 344, that punishment presupposes some offence or misconduct. But suspension pending investigation of a charge, which is generally adopted as a security measure, or as a matter of precaution, during the pendency of the enquiry, cannot be looked upon as a punishment for the simple reason that the offence or guilt for which it may be inflicted as a punishment is still under enquiry and has not been established. The same view has been taken in several cases by the West Bengal Tribunals. Reference may be made to the awards published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 28th September 1950 and dated 13th December 1951, page 3221, in the case of complaint under section 33A against the Hindusthan Development Corporation, Ltd., and Champdany Jute Mills and certain workmen. It is sufficient for the present purpose to say that the act of the Company in suspending these 5 workmen from duty, pending investigation of the charges laid against them, is not in contravention of the provisions of section 33 although the suspension orders have been unfortunately in force for a long period to the detriment of the workmen concerned. The matter cannot be said to be finally decided so long as permission sought for from the Tribunal under section 33 is not granted or refused. The original proceedings which have since terminated by the publication of the award, were pending when these five men were placed under suspension pending enquiry. But as section 33 is not attracted by the act of suspension pending enquiry on the part of the employer, it was not necessary for the Company to obtain previous permission of the Tribunal for the purpose. I am accordingly to hold that the present complaint is not sustainable so far as Hariprosad Gupta, Bhowgaban Das, Bashudeo, Fathe Singh and Bedia are concerned. I make my award regarding them accordingly.

(ii) As regards Dwarka, Kailash Shaw, Darogi Das and Peyaria, they ere absent without leave from 12th October 1950.

Santo Sardar, Deonath, Banwari Pandey, Nawal Kishore and Sippal haw were absent without leave from 16th October 1950.

The Company's case is that they were absent without leave for more than 10 days, and as they did not report for duty thereafter they should be deemed to have quitted their employments. The case made out for these men is, on the other hand, that they were arrested by the police and kept in hajat for 2 weeks; and after their release they approached the Labour Officer Sri Chatterji when they were refused employment on the plea that their cases were pending with the Tribunal and could not be considered before the Tribunal's decision. As already mentioned, Hariprosad Gupta had resorted to a hunger-strike from 26th September 1950 to 29th September 1950. After that there was a second hunger-strike started in the Mills by several men and women workers. By the letter (Ext. M), dated the 11th October 1950, the Company informed the Officer-in-charge of Jagatdal police-station about the said hunger-strike with a request for necessary action being taken in the matter. In this letter there is mention of six persons alleged to have started the supposed hunger-strike within the Mill premises. Five of them have been specifically named and regarding the 6th it is said that his name is unknown. From this letter it is seen that the Company did not initiate police proceedings against any of its workmen other than the alleged 6 hunger-strikers, none of whom is amongst these 9 workers with whom we are concerned at the present moment. Three of these nine persons have been examined, namely, Banawari Pandey, Darogi Das and Peyaria. They do not say that the fact of their arrest by the police was within the knowledge of the Management, though their evidence is that they were arrested within the premises of the Mill while some women and men workers were on hunger-strike. It is gathered from their evidence that there were about 3,000 men assembled in the Mill maidan from amongst whom about 12 persons, including these 9 workers, were arrested by the police. It was suggested to Sri Chatterji that the fact of this arrest was known to him, and he has denied it. In the circumstances I have so far mentioned, it is more likely that Sri Chatterji and for the matter of that the Management, were not aware of the fact of arrest of these 9 workers from amongst a large number of workmen assembled at the time. The case of these workers is that they were kept in hajat for 2 weeks. It is thus obvious that they were absent for more than 10 days as the Company has stated. Banawari Pandey has given evidence to the effect that he was in the hajat for about a month. There was a criminal case against him with the result that he was fined Rs. 25, which he paid recently, i.e., about 3 months before the date of commencement of the hearing. Darogi Das was in hajat for about 20 days on his own statement. Peyaria, P. W. 5, at first admitted having been in hajat for 4 weeks. But in cross-examination she tried to reduce the period to about 15 days. At any rate, they were all absent without notice to the Management and without leave for more than 10 days, and they were accordingly guilty of misconduct under rule 14(c)(v). Rule 14 provides that no order of dismissal is to be made unless the workman concerned is informed in writing of the alleged misconduct and is given an opportunity to explain the circumstances alleged against him. But, before such a step can be taken by the Management, the workman concerned must appear and report for duty. Unless that is done by the workman concerned, the Management is left with no other alternative than to treat him as having resigned or quitted his service. Evidence has been led by P. Ws. 3, 4 and 5 that after their release from the hajat they went back to the Mill and offered themselves for their respective employments, but they were not allowed to join on the plea that their cases could not be considered until the Tribunal's decision was received. As I have already mentioned, this is the case that has been suggested with respect to all these 9 persons. Sri N. C. Chatterji to whom this suggestion has been made, has denied that all these 9 persons had approached him for their jobs. His evidence is that only 2 or 3 workers met him in September or October 1951 and asked for reinstatement. They were told by him that already applications had been filed to the Tribunal in respect of their cases. Prior to that, he says, none had turned up and asked for reinstatement. These 9 persons were absent from the 12th October and the 16th October 1950. The Major Jute Textile Tribunal was set up on 25th September 1950, and the dispute between the Kankinarrah Jute Mills and their workmen was referred to the Tribunal on 10th October 1950. So there were pending adjudication proceedings before the Tribunal when these 9 workmen were discharged from hajat, if they were really discharged after about 2 weeks of their arrest. But it does not appear that there was any proceeding under section 33 in respect of these men pending before any of the Tribunals at about that time. The applications made by the Company under section 33 of the Act were, I am told, made before the Major Jute Textile Tribunal long after the relevant time. Assuming that there were Tribunal proceedings pending at the time these 9 persons were likely to have returned from hajat, it does not necessarily follow that they immediately approached the Management for reinstatement. The exact time when these men had asked for reinstatement could not be mentioned by any of these men. According to the 3 witnesses examined, the Management was approached by them each on a different occasion. In this state of things I am to accept the evidence of Sri Chatterji which gives some definite idea as to the point of time when they turned up and asked for reinstatement. He says that it was in September or October 1951, by which time the Company had instituted cases against individuals. The answer which he admittedly gave to those men who had approached him for reinstatement also tallies with his above statement as by that time the Company had started specific cases regarding individual workmen and was awaiting the Tribunal's decision thereon. I am accordingly of the view that these 9 persons who were admittedly absent without leave for more than 10 days, failed to turn up and report for duty within a reasonable time after the expiry of that period, so as to induce the Management to believe that they had left their services with the Company. In the circumstances they may reasonably be deemed to have voluntarily left or quitted the Company's service, and if they were treated on that footing by the Company, I cannot find that it acted wrongly or without justification. I hold that the cases of these 9 persons are not cases of discharge or dismissal in contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, and so this application under section 33A of the Act is not maintainable. I make my award with respect to the abovementioned 9 persons accordingly.

(iii) Morari Oria (Ticket No. 15500), Bhagabat Shaw (Ticket No. 1731) and Gajendra Mahanta, Mistri.

As regards the first two, the Company maintains that there are no workers of these names with ticket numbers mentioned against them. Regarding Gajendra Mahanta the Company says that no trace can be made without the ticket number. At the hearing the Union failed to give any particulars for proper identification of these men. So it is not shown that the Company has violated the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act with regard to these 3 persons. The Union filed a petition long after the hearing had concluded giving certain particulars regarding Morari Oria and Gajendra Mahanta which are very different from the particulars mentioned in the original application. It is yet unknown that the particulars are correct. The hearing concluded with no case having been made out in respect of these 3 persons, and the case was closed after a full and protracted hearing. It cannot be reopened now. It is open to the workmen in question to come with a fresh reference in respect of the alleged dispute regarding them, if they really have any grievance on the score of their being dismissed without sufficient cause. I hold that the present application fails for want of a case being made out in respect of them.

In the result, I direct that the application under section 33A of the I. D. Act be dismissed.

And whereas the said First Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, 8, LYONS RANGE, SECOND FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT:

SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Judge.

For the employers: Sri S. Sen, Pleader, instructed by Mr. E. K. Day, Branch Manager and Sri S. K. Ghosh, Accountant.

For the employees: Sri Sadhan Gupta, Counsel, instructed by Sri P. Ghosh, General Secretary of the Federation of Mercantile Employees Union.

AWARD.

The following points have been referred to me for adjudication:—

(1) Revision of dearness allowance.
(2) Puja Bonus for 1951.
(3) Accumulation of leave.
(4) Medical facilities.

Before I enter into the merit of the several items of dispute under reference, I should do well to discuss, in brief, the economic position of the industry. The Company is an advertising Agency with its Head Office in London and Branches at Calcutta, Bombay, Madras and Karachi. The main activities of the Company may be classed under 4 broad heads:—

(1) Insertion of advertisements in newspapers,
(2) display of advertisements on wooden boards by the side of public thoroughfares,
(3) display of advertisements by cinema slides, and
(4) broadcasting advertisements through the medium of radio.

For carrying on the business efficiently, the Company has to maintain a Printing Department and a Process Department. For these two departments, the Company maintains such a staff as is generally required for a Printer and a Block-maker. The duty of such staff is to prepare blocks, to lay out the details of advertisements, to book spaces in newspapers, to arrange the insertions, to check up the insertions and to prepare the bills. The main source of income of this industry is the commission received from customers. I could understand that previously the commission was 25 per cent. of the cost of the advertisements as billed for by the different newspapers. This commission was subsequently reduced to 15 per cent. of the total bill. This reduction was gradually enforced after the formation of the Indian and Eastern Newspaper Society in 1946. From the Auditors' statement attached to the Profit and Loss Account for the year ending 31st December 1949, it is clear that the commission has been restricted to 15 per cent. at least since 1949. The advertisement charges have also increased, although we are not aware when. It would be seen from the following table that decrease in the commission is more than counter-balanced by the increase in the charges for the advertisements:—

ANNEXURE A1.

Wage levels of employees drawing basic wages above Rs. 250 indicating total amounts under different slabs (based on Exhibit 4).

Basic wages.	Number of employees.	Total amount under 1st slab of Rs. 100.	Total amount under 2nd slab of Rs. 100.	Total amount under 3rd slab of Rs. 200	Total amount under 4th slab of Rs. 400.
(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)	(6)
Rs.		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1,025	1	100	100	200	625
950	1	100	100	200	550
850	1	100	100	200	450
675	1	100	100	200	275

The employees have filed a comparative table to show the increase in the jobs in 1951 as compared with those of 1949.

Increase in workload.

Department.	1949.	1951.
Studio	1,059 jobs.	1500 jobs.
Production	850 bills made	1425 bills made
Print	310 jobs.	356 jobs.

In all these departments the number of staff remained unchanged in this period.

Numerical increase in the jobs does not indicate prosperity to ascertain whether there has been a corresponding increase in the prosperity of the Company, it is desirable that the magnitude of the jobs and their value should be looked into with scrutiny. For this purpose the Tribunal has neither the competency nor time. From the balance sheets filed by the Company, I find that there has been a gradual increase in the turnover. From this increase in the turnover a corresponding increase in the commission may be presumed. The following table may explain the position:—

Year.	Turnover.	Probable commission at 15 per cent.
	Rs.	Rs.
1948	55,53,638	8,33,046
1949	58,11,351	8,71,703
1950	64,53,612	9,68,042
1951	68,84,569	10,32,685

These figures are for the entire business of the Company in the Presidency Towns of the Indian Dominion and in Karachi in Pakistan. It may be noted in this connection that although the Company maintains separate accounts of the receipts and disbursements and the net profits for the different branches, there is only one consolidated balance sheet. It is only in this consolidated balance sheet the assets and liabilities of the Company have been detailed. In spite of the increase in the turnover, there was not much improvement in the profits. On the other hand the profits gradually declined since 1948 till 1950 when the Company incurred a loss of Rs. 57,880. In 1951, however, the Company was able to make some profit. The financial position is indicated below:—

Profit and Loss in rupees after deducting depreciation and reserve for doubtful debts.

The reasons for the fall in the profits as assigned by the Company are (i) reduction in the rates of commission, (ii) gradual increment in the wages of the workmen and other employees on account of time-scale increment in the dearness allowance and improvement of other amenities, (iii) rise of the cost of materials.

I have already indicated that fall in the rates of commission has been more than counterbalanced by the increase in the advertisement rates. Hence the first reason assigned by the Company cannot be accepted. About the second reason there is some truth. In most firms, the senior members of the staff gradually retire and the junior members step in. The retirement of the senior members of the staff works generally as a check in the financial burden consequent on time-scale increment of the junior members of the staff. But as it appears from the list of workmen filed by the Company (Ext. 4) the oldest employees were recruited in 1935, and it is presumed, as usual, that an employee is superannuated after 30 years' service. Thus there will be no retirement before 1955. The rate of retirement will also be slow and is not expected to be commensurate with the promotion which the junior members are expected to get. I have prepared a rough estimate of the increment in the wage bill of the employees in the Calcutta branch in 1951 on account of increment actually given to the employees. Ten of these employees including members of the subordinate staff did not earn any increment in that year. These 10 employees will earn increment in the year 1952. The higher officers were not included in this list. On a rough calculation I find that leaving out the higher officers and the 10 employees who did not earn any increment in 1951, the total additional expenditure on account of increment in the basic salary in 1951 in the Calcutta branch was Rs. 17,316. This was one of the items of additional expenditure in 1951 as compared with the preceding year. The basic salary paid in 1951 together with the increments in 1951 represents the basic salary of the employees in the beginning of 1952 for the purpose of calculating increment in that particular year. The expenditure incurred in 1951 on account of the basic salary of the employees will be further augmented by the increment that may be given to the employees in 1952. The grades and the rates of increment for the workmen other than the subordinate staff in the Company are as follows:—

Categories.	Grades.
	Rs.
Departmental Heads	200—15—500.
Senior Assistants	150—10—300.
Assistant Special	85—7½—200.
Assistant General	70—5—150.

In 1951 the Company appears to have given liberal increments in the basic salary of the employees without strictly adhering to the grades and rates of increment as specified above. Even assuming that in 1952 the Company will keep itself within the limits of increment in the respective grades of the employees the Company will have to incur an additional expenditure of nearly Rs. 10,000 on account of the annual increments to the members of the subordinate staff and the members of the clerical staff drawing up to Rs. 500. This is detailed below:—

Grades.	Particulars.	Total No.
Rs. 200—15—500	Number of employees drawing between Rs. 200 and Rs. 300 who were given increment of Rs. 15 or more in 1951.	8
	Number of employees drawing above Rs. 300 but below Rs. 500.	11
		19
	These 19 employees are entitled to get a minimum increment of Rs. 15 per month in 1952. Thus the total additional cost on this account will be Rs. 285 per month.
Rs. 150—10—300 — —	Number of employees drawing between Rs. 150 and 200 who get increment of Rs. 10 or more in 1951.	17
	Number of employees drawing above Rs. 200 up to Rs. 300 who were given increment less than Rs. 15 per month in 1951.	6
		23
	These 23 employees are entitled to an annual increment of Rs. 10 per month in 1952. This will cost Rs. 230 per month.
Rs. 85—7½—200 — ..	Number of employees drawing between Rs. 150 and 200.	3
	Number of employees drawing between Rs. 85 and 150 and who were given increment of Rs. 5 or more in 1951.	5
		8
	These 8 employees are entitled to an increment at the rate of Rs. 7-8 per month in 1952. This will cost Rs. 60 per month.
Rs. 70—5—150	Number of such employees	32
	These 32 employees will get increment at the rate of Rs. 5 per month in 1952. This will cost Rs. 160 per month.

To this must be added the increments that would be paid to the menials. The additional cost for increment to the menials will be roughly Rs. 804 per annum. If to this amount we add the annual cost on account of the increment earned by the menials.

than Rs. 15 per month which is paid to employees drawing up to Rs. 500. At this rate the total increment in the expenditure under this head will be Rs. 2,520. In any event the total expenditure incurred under this head in 1951 is likely to be increased by at least Rs. 12,148 in 1952. This does not include any increment in the dearness allowance which may result as a consequence of the increment in the basic wages.

In matters involving financial commitments, the Company, as I could understand, proceeds on the consolidated accounts of profit and loss for the 4 branches in India and Pakistan, and, in fact, the employees did not demand that this Tribunal should proceed in the present case, concerning as it does the employees of the Calcutta branch, on the separate accounts of profit and loss for the Calcutta branch alone. This, in all equities, cannot be demanded by the employees for in the year 1949 when the Calcutta branch incurred a loss of Rs. 35,883, the Company allowed the employees of the Calcutta branch a bonus on the consolidated profit derived from all these 4 branches. I may be permitted to mention here that the Trading Accounts are not the only thing that has to be considered in awarding benefits to the employees involving financial commitments. The balance sheet with the details of assets and liabilities and reserve fund has got to be considered. The Company does not maintain any separate balance sheet for the Calcutta branch alone. This is another reason why I cannot proceed on the Trading Accounts of the Calcutta branch alone. This much I must impress upon the workmen that their demands should not, in all equities, exceed the profits derived from the Calcutta branch. In all fairness, to the consolidated liabilities and reserve fund which have no separate existence, the Calcutta branch must make a fair contribution, and there must be a fair margin out of the profits of the Calcutta branch to meet the consolidated liabilities and to build up a consolidated reserve fund.

The Company does some business in India and Pakistan for clients in the United Kingdom. Previously, that is, up to February 1948, the profit derived from such business was retained in India. Since February 1948, the entire profit has been credited to the London accounts. Prior to February 1948, the Indian branches, in addition to the commission on the London business were given Rs. 3,000 per annum as service fees. Since when the entire commission was credited to London accounts the service fees were increased to Rs. 16,000 per annum. It has been contended on behalf of the employees that the fall in the profits in the branches in India and Pakistan does not really indicate any deterioration in the economic position of the business. The reduction in the profit in India and Pakistan, as Sri Sadhan Gupta contends, is really an addition to the profit in the London branch. It has been submitted on behalf of the Company that prior to independence of India the business of the clients of the United Kingdom done in India was of very casual nature. At that time there was practically no difficulty in imports from the United Kingdom. After the independence of India, London business had to push imports with a view to compete with the sister countries. This necessitated advertisements in India. In 1949 Mr. S. H. Benson who had a separate Agency in London purchased major shares of Messrs. D. J. Keymer & Co., Ltd., and Messrs. D. J. Keymer & Co., Ltd., obtained considerable business through Mr. Benson, who had to be paid a good portion of the commission for procuring the works. According to the Company all the creative works were done by the London offices. This is conceded by the employees. Sri Sadhan Gupta further conceded that for the works received from the United Kingdom, the English Company prepares the advertisements. For the block-makers bill the Company retained the commission on the block, but the commission on the advertisements are entirely credited to the head office in the United Kingdom. According to Sri Sadhan Gupta the spaces in the newspapers are booked here and the insertions are checked up by the local staff. There is no sufficient material on the record to enable me to ascertain the real state of things. It has been had not been shown separately in the Trading accounts of the several branches in India bonus cannot but be paid on the financial position as indicated by the consolidated accounts. But for such benefits as are connected with the economic position of the State in which the branch is situated, the employees should be given such benefits as are justified by the economic position of the branch in which they work. I have already indicated this.

Sri Sadhan Gupta contended that there had been an increase in the work-load in 1951 as compared with that in 1949, and in support of his contention the following figures were placed before me:—

Increase in workload.

Department	1949.	1951.
Studio	1,059 jobs	1,500 jobs.
Production	850 bills made	1,425 bills made.
Print	310 jobs	356 jobs.

In all these departments the number of staff remained unchanged in this period.

In 1949, there was a fall in the turnover in India. This is indicated below:

Turnover.

Year.	India.	Karachi.	London.	Total.
1951	62,85,719	5,65,657	33,194	68,84,569
1950	59,55,094	4,03,348	95,170	64,53,612
1949	53,90,232	3,09,190	1,11,929	58,11,351
1948	55,41,800	11,838	50,244	55,53,638

The turnover does not always indicate prosperity. I could understand that jobs had to be done over and again till the clients were satisfied. This means loss of materials the price whereof has considerably gone up. The comparison of the jobs in a particular year with those in a year in which there was a fall in the turnover as also loss in the Trading accounts does not warrant a conclusion that there has been a rise in the workloads. On the other hand, the presumption would be that the workload in 1949 was inadequate. So far as the Calcutta branch is concerned, the profit earned by this particular branch in 1951 should guide us to adjudicate upon the demands of the employees involving financial commitments. We cannot speculate nor can we assume that the Company will earn higher profits in 1952.

Calcutta branch of the Company is a member of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and it has been urged on behalf of the employees that the service conditions including pecuniary benefits available to the employees of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce should be extended to the employees of this concern as well. Bengal Chamber of Commerce is an association of business firms. The business which the member firms carry on is diverse in nature and the source of their revenue which is dependent on the nature of their business also differs widely. Some carry on business of export or imports, some are agents of foreign goods for sale in India, some are Engineering firms manufacturing either goods of everyday necessity or machineries or parts of machineries, some are insurance firms, some are banking concerns, some are solicitors' firms and some are firms of Accountants. It is, thus, obvious that the source of revenue of all these firms cannot be the same, and it does not require any explanation that the revenue cannot be uniform in all these firms. These firms carrying on business of diverse nature became members of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, presumably for such objects as are calculated to promote their interest, to obtain statistical information and legal assistance and to aid commercial legislation. Co-membership has no significance beyond this and does not imply uniformity of profit and cannot be made a ground for demanding uniformity of terms of service involving financial commitments. The Mercantile Tribunal, of which I happened to be the Chairman, had, on account of the diverse nature of the constituent firms of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, to deal with the constituent firms separately and to give separate awards. Attempts were, however, made to lay down uniform service conditions including wage structure, scales of dearness allowance, old age benefits, etc. But this was not possible in a number of cases, and the standard laid down in the award for the Bengal Chamber of Commerce published under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 347Lab., dated 8th February 1949, had to be deviated from in a number of cases. Those firms which have to depend upon others for their business and above all on a fixed commission on such business should not be confused with those others which are catering to the daily increasing needs of the people, who can increase their production to meet the increasing demands of the people, and raise the price of their products directly with the rise in the demand and who had not to depend upon others for securing their business. Scarcity and high price of raw materials is generally a common factor for business of all types. The present Company has to depend on others for their business and on the fixed commission received for such business. In this view I may be permitted to compare this Company with the renowned firms of solicitors, Messrs. Orr, Dignam & Co., Ltd., and Messrs. Sandersons & Morgans. The Mercantile Tribunal gave an award for these two firms of solicitors which was published in the Calcutta Gazette under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2586Lab., dated 27th May 1949. The staff of these two firms could not be given dearness allowance according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale. The dearness allowance as awarded for these firms was as detailed below:—

	Rs.
Salary up to Rs. 100	45
Salary up to Rs. 150	50
Salary up to Rs. 200	65
Salary up to Rs. 250	70
Salary of Rs. 300 and above	90

In awarding any benefit to the employees of a particular firm, we should not isolate this particular benefit from other conditions of service existing in the said firm. The entire service conditions must be considered before a Tribunal can have any say about particular benefit demanded. Without a full survey of the overall picture, a "pick-and-choose" policy cannot be justified In considering the insufficiency or otherwise of dearness allowance paid by a particular Company to its employees we must take into account the basic salary and the rates of increment. The following is a comparative table about the grades and scales of pay of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Messrs. D. J.

The existing grades of Messrs. D. J. Keymer & Co., Ltd., were introduced as early as in 1944, whereas the existing grades of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce was introduced by the award published on the 8th February 1949. Prior to the award the Bengal Chamber of Commerce introduced grades and scales for its employees not long before this award. In revising the then existing grades and scales of pay in the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, we increased the salary of the clerical staff drawing up to Rs. 250 by Rs. 10. It is thus seen that the grades and scales of increment for the clerical staff of the present Company are much better than those in Bengal Chamber of Commerce. Besides, by the time, the existing scales and grades of pay were introduced in the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, the clerks of the present Company earned several increments over the minimum basic salary in their respective grades which was more favourable. The maxima of the several grades are much higher than the maxima of the corresponding grades in the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The increments are automatic and a higher rates of increment and higher maxima will enable an employee in the present concern to earn much more at the fag end of his service than an employee doing a similar job in the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. It will be clear from Exhibit 4 that the Company did not adhere to the scheduled rates of increment of pay. Considering the efficiency of the clerks, the Company allowed increment much higher than the scheduled rates. These facts must be taken into account when we consider the demands of the employees under adjudication.

The employees have placed before me two awards given by the Bombay Tribunal for Messrs. Listas & Co. and Messrs. J. Walter Thompson Co. (Eastern), Limited, Bombay. Messrs. Listas & Co. is an associate firm of Messrs. Lever Bros. (India), Ltd., Bombay. Messrs. Lever Bros. (India), Ltd., Bombay, have many-sided activities some of which are connected with production of consumer goods which have captured the market ousting similar products of other concerns. Messrs. Listas & Co. does the business of Messrs. Lever Bros., Ltd. It has no outside customers. Whatever costs are incurred for the staff of Messrs. Listas & Co. are distributed among the other departments of the manufacturing concern. So long as the parent concern is flourishing it can afford to be liberal to the employees engaged in pushing the products by advertisements. This Company cannot be compared with the present concern. About Messrs. J. Walter Thompson Co., Ltd., I may mention that the employees of the concern are not paid any separate dearness allowance. The total emoluments they receive include dearness allowance. I had occasion to consider the pre-war cost of living and the rise in the cost of living index since then in Bombay and Calcutta, while adjudicating the industrial disputes in Messrs. Burmah Shell Oil Storage & Distribution Co. of India, Ltd., published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 1st March 1950, and I found that the cost of living in Bombay in the pre-war days as also in 1950 was much higher than that in Calcutta, and I refused to introduce the wage scales and dearness allowance obtaining in the Bombay branch of the Burmah Shell Oil Storage & Distributing Co. of India, Ltd., in Calcutta branch of the same concern. The cost of living index in Bombay may be lower than that in India. This index does not necessarily lead to a conclusion that the cost of living in Calcutta is higher than that in Bombay. It only represents the ratio of the rise as compared with the pre-war cost which is taken as the base. Without reference to the base figures, the cost of living index cannot warrant any conclusion either way. We are not aware how much of the total emoluments payable to the employees of Messrs. J. Walter Thompson Co., Ltd., in Bombay represents the basic salary and how much is paid as compensation for the rise in the cost of living index. I am not accordingly in a position to attach any intrinsic value to these awards.

I have summed up all the materials that have been placed before me in considering the demands of the Union and I shall consider these demands against the background as detailed above.

1. Revision of dearness allowance.

The grievance of the workmen is that they are being paid a very insufficient amount of dearness allowance which is hardly commensurate to the rise in the cost of living index and that the employees find it difficult to make both ends meet, and that as a result they are being involved in debts. In the written statement it has been stated that between September 1949 and February 1952, the amount of loans taken by the employees from the Co-operative Credit Society came up to nearly 41,000 rupees. This figure is disputed by the Company and in the reply to the Union's written statement the Company says that the correct figure of loans up to February 1952 is Rs. 36,570. There is not much difference between the figure supplied by the Union and the figure supplied by the Company. The Union demands dearness allowance for the clerical and subordinate staff according to the scheme of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce linked with middle-class cost of living index. The following chart will show at a glance the dearness allowance given by the present Company to its staff from time to time:—

Salary range.	Before April 1948.	After April 1948.	June 1948.
For the 1st slab Re. 1 to Rs. 100.	25 per cent. of the basic salary subject to a minimum of Rs. 25.	Rs. 10 added to the then existing dearness allowance.	Minimum raised to Rs. 45.
For the 2nd slab above Rs. 100 up to Rs. 200.	Additional 10 per cent. of the portion of the salary falling within these slabs.	No change ..	Ditto.
For the 3rd slab above Rs. 200 up to Rs. 500.	Ditto.	Ditto.	No change.
For the next slab above Rs. 500.	Additional 5 per cent. of the portion of the salary falling within this slab.	Ditto.	Ditto.
Subordinate staff ..	Rs. 25	Rs. 30 ..	Rs. 30.

The latest figure about the cost of living index for the middle-class in Calcutta area which we have from the Government of West Bengal, Statistical Bureau, relates to March 1952. I have mentioned, in annexure B to this award, the figures from October 1951 to March 1952 as published by the Government of West Bengal, Statistical Bureau. It has been indicated in the said annexure that the average was, in the last quarter of 1951, 378·2 and in the first quarter of 1952, 359·1. I have accordingly taken the average figure for the first quarter of 1952 as representing the cost of living index, for the purpose of calculating dearness allowance to the employees. This is 359·1 or, in other words, the average cost of living index for the first quarter of 1952 falls within the slab 350 and 360. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale of dearness allowance for a cost of living index 350 and 360 was as detailed below:—

an increase in the dearness allowance and that on the 6th December 1951 the Company made the following offer:—

(a) An increase of Rs. 20 in the dearness allowance for employees drawing up to Rs. 100 as basic salary per month.
(b) An increase of Rs. 15 in the dearness allowance for employees drawing between Rs. 101 and Rs. 200 as basic salary per month.
(c) An increase of Rs. 10 in the dearness allowance for employees drawing between Rs 210 and Rs. 300 as basic salary per month.
(d) An increase of Rs. 5 in the dearness allowance for employees drawing between Rs. 301 and Rs. 500 as basic salary per month.
(e) Peons and bearers' total pay to be equalised with Chamber's scales.
(f) Machine room boys—increase of Rs. 10 in dearness allowance.

According to this offer, the total additional burden, on account of increase in the dearness allowance for the employees drawing up to Rs. 500 other than the subordinate staff will be about Rs. 13,260 and that on account of increase in the dearness allowance of the subordinate staff will be about Rs. 5,200. The total additional burden will thus work out to Rs. 18,460. There is some anomaly, as the Union contends, in this scheme, viz., those who are getting Rs. 100 will get an additional amount of Rs. 20 as dearness allowance, but those who are getting Rs. 101 would get an additional allowance of Rs. 15 as dearness allowance. This seeming anomaly will not be found if we consider the total emoluments, for the next stage above Rs. 100 is Rs. 105 in the salary scale. Similarly, above Rs. 200 the next stage is Rs. 210. The only anomaly under this scheme will be that those who are getting Rs. 105 as basic salary and those who are getting Rs. 100 as basic salary will get the same total emolument, namely, Rs. 165. Thus those who are getting Rs. 105 as basic salary will not get any benefit from the increment in the basic salary from Rs. 100 to Rs. 105. To avoid this position I lay down the following scheme:—

(a) The members of the subordinate staff shall get dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 48 per month. (None of the members of the subordinate staff in the present Company gets less than Rs. 30.)
(b) The Machine boys, at present 3 in number, shall get an increase of Rs. 10 per mensem in the dearness allowance, or, in other words, they will get at the rate of Rs. 55 per month.
(c) Employees other than the subordinate staff drawing up to Rs. 200 shall get an increase in the dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 20 per month.
(d) Employees drawing between Rs. 200 and 300 shall get an increase in the dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 15 per month.
(e) Employees drawing between Rs. 300 and 500 shall get an increase in the dearness allowance of Rs. 10 per month.

The total additional burden on account of the increase in the dearness allowance will be as follows:—

	Per month. Rs.
For members of the subordinate staff (25 in number)—Rs. 18 × 25 ..	450
Machine boys (3 in number)—10 × 3	30
Employees getting up to Rs. 200 other than Machine boys—subordinate staff (59)—Rs. 20 × 59	1,180
Employees drawing between Rs. 200 and Rs. 300 (at present 13 in number) —Rs. 15 × 13	195
Employees drawing between Rs. 300 and Rs. 500 (11 in number)— Rs. 10 × 11	110
Total ..	1,965 × 12
	23,580 per annum.

The Calcutta branch earned a profit of Rs. 57,508 in 1951. I have already indicated that in the year 1952, the time-scale increment for employees drawing up to Rs. 500 will throw an additional burden of Rs. 9,621. Thus out of the profit that may likely be earned in 1952 by the Calcutta branch a little over Rs. 33,000 will be absorbed by the time-scale increments in the basic salary and increment in the dearness allowance for the employees drawing up to Rs. 500. I have left out of account the employees drawing more than Rs. 500. In all fairness they also deserve some increment at least in the basic salary. About the profit for the year 1952 I am not in a position to speculate and I cannot but assume that the Company will earn a profit in 1952 similar to that in 1951. This issue is awarded accordingly.

2. Puja Bonus for 1951.

I could understand that hitherto the Company paid Puja bonus in a particular year on the eve of Puja before finalisation of the accounts of that year in anticipation of profit. This procedure the Company wants to discontinue as financially unsound. The financial year of the Company is from January to December. The bonus was paid to the members of the Calcutta staff on the basis of the consolidated profit of all the branches in India and Pakistan. This procedure is not disputed by the Union. Although in 1949 the Calcutta branch incurred a loss of nearly Rs. 36,000 the employees of the Calcutta branch were given a bonus of Rs. 5,429. However, in that particular year the Indian branches earned a profit of Rs. 22,728 and the consolidated profit from the branches in India and Pakistan amounted to Rs. 24,527. In the year 1950, the branches in India incurred a loss of Rs. 51,334 and the consolidated loss from the branches in India and Pakistan was Rs. 57,880 although the Calcutta branch earned a profit of Rs. 1,25,397. In that particular year the employees of the Calcutta branch got a bonus amounting to Rs. 15,293. This bonus was paid at varying rates depending on the expectation of profit. The following table will show at a glance the position—

Bonus.

Year.	Menials.	Basic pay Re. 1 to Rs. 100.	Basic pay above Rs. 100 to Rs. 300.	Basic pay above Rs. 300 to Rs. 550.	Total.

1950 ..	One month's basic wages.	Basic pay up to Rs. 250, 7½ per cent. of basic pay.	Above Rs. 25, up to Rs. 1,000, 5 per cent. of basic pay.		15,293

Their Lordships of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal have laid down a scheme in the Full Bench case of the Mill Owners' Association, Bombay, reported in Labour Law Journal, 1950, Volume II at page 1247 the principles

5. The Full Bench of this Tribunal in the case of The Mill Owners' Association, Bombay, reported in Labour Law Journal, 1950, Volume II at page 1247, laid down certain principles regarding the payment of bonus. The principle, in short, is that the claim of the employees for bonus would only arise if there should be a surplus left after making provision for (a) prior charges and (b) a fair return on paid-up capital and on reserves employed as working capital. The prior charges are in respect of amounts of money that would be necessary for replacements, modernisation of machinery, for payment of income-tax, etc. Then it has also to set apart an amount that would be necessary for paying a reasonable dividend."

In view of the principles laid down by their Lordships of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal I cannot but direct the Company to pay bonus to its employees according to the principles laid down by their Lordships of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal which shall be calculated on the actual profits of a particular year and pay to its employees on the eve of the following Puja. In 1949, the Company earned some profit, although such profit was very small. Out of this profit some bonus was paid to the employees of the Calcutta branch. In 1950, the branches in India and Pakistan incurred a loss of over Rs. 57,000. In spite of the loss the Company paid its employees of the Calcutta branch Rs. 15,298 as bonus. This amount was paid in bona fide belief that there would be some profit. On the trading accounts of 1950 the employees might expect some bonus on the eve of the Puja of 1951 but no bonus was paid in that particular year. I cannot award any bonus for 1951 on two grounds, firstly, there was a loss in the year 1950, secondly, some bonus has been paid in the year 1950 and adjusted against account of that particular year in expectation that the Company would earn some profit in that year. I am not called upon to enter into the question of bonus for 1952. But I hope that in view of the fact that the Company would earn some profit in the year 1951 and in view of the fact that the Company expects some addition to the service fees from the London office for the year 1951, the Company will favourably consider the demands of the employees.

3. Accumulation of leave.

The Company grants 14 days' privilege leave per year. The Union demands that the employees may be permitted to accumulate leave for three years. The demand of the Union is not altogether unreasonable. At present the Company does not allow its employees to accumulate their privilege leave. Under the Shops and Establishments Act of 1950 the privilege leave admissible to an employee may be accumulated up to a maximum of not more than 28 days. I accordingly direct that the privilege leave shall be allowed to accumulate up to a limit of 28 days.

It must be understood that the claim of the employees for leave is always subject to the exigencies of business. The Company may, for this purpose, prepare a scheme notifying to the workmen the maximum number of workmen of each category that may be permitted to be on leave at a time.

4. Medical facilities.

For medical facilities some contributions are taken from the employees. The rates are:—

Categories of employees.	Contribution.
Menials	Annas 4.
Clerks drawing up to Rs. 100 as basic salary ..	Annas 8.
Employees above that	Re. 1.

A doctor attends the establishment three days in a week. In the office the employees are treated free. Doctors visiting the residences of the workmen have got to be paid half fees by the employees, the other half being borne by the Company. For special treatment the entire expenditure are said to be borne by the Company. Free medical expenses have been provided for the covenanted members of the staff and their families. This benefit appears to have been extended to the covenanted members of the staff at least since 1948. The workmen before this Tribunal are paid much lower salary than the covenanted members of the staff. The covenanted members of the staff are in a position to bear the medical expenses of themselves and members of their families. I fail to understand why the benefits should not be substantially extended to the clerks and members of the subordinate staff who get much less and whose income is not sufficient to leave any margin for medical treatment of themselves and members of their family. As a first step towards improvement of the terms and conditions of service of the workmen I award the following:—

(1) For employees of all categories the medical treatment shall be free.

(2) For members of the family, viz., the wife and children of the employees, the Company shall pay half the fees of the doctor attending them. For the purpose of the treatment of the members of their family the Company may issue necessary instructions to its doctor or doctors or may nominate doctors in different localities for treatment of the workmen and members of their family. So long as this is not done the employees will be at liberty to call doctors of their own choice provided the fee for such doctors is not more than Rs. 4 per visit. I may be permitted to impress upon the workmen that the member of covenanted officers is small and that what is possible for a small number of employees may not be fully possible for a large number of employees. My award on this point must be understood to be entirely on an experimental basis, and both parties will be at liberty to move the Government for modification of this scheme after the scheme has worked for one year.

Sri Rakshit that caused the dispute. On this point, therefore the learned counsel cited an award of Caltex India, Ltd., Calcutta, published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 24th April 1949, in which I had been an Adjudicator. Similarly, Sri Das Gupta's award in Bathgate had also been referred. Those decisions are no longer good law, in view of the High Court ruling in the Indian Paper Pulp Company's case, dated 24th September 1949, in which Justice Chakravarty observed as follows: "English definition of workmen requires that he must be a person who has entered into or works under a contract with an employer. If in spite of this definition, dispute about dismissal can be a trade dispute as held in Rex vs. National Arbitration Tribunal ex-parte Horatio Crowther & Co., Ltd., 1948, 1 K.B., 425, a dispute can be a trade dispute, as decided in the above case, I am of opinion that there is no difficulty in holding under a wider definition in India that even where a dismissal has occurred without any prevous dispute, there can be an industrial dispute about such dismissal." I hold, therefore, that even if the dismissal of Sri G. K. Rakshit caused the dispute, it will be nevertheless an industrial dispute within the meaning of Industrial Disputes Act.

Issue No. 2.—Is Sri Rakshit a workman?

It was urged that Sri Rakshit had not been employed to do manual or clerical work. The Company's case is that he is an officer, or at any rate, something other than a workman engaged to do clerical work. Let us now enter into the evidence to judge what was his position. Sri Rakshit contends in his letter, dated 18th December 1946, Exhibit 3, paragraph 3, that he was an Assistant Manager in Assam. It is significant that he has deliberately mentioned that he was a clerk. The Union contends that word "staff" has been used in Exhibits 4 and 5 (this document is not admitted by the Company) and "staff", it is urged by the Union, means clerical staff. In my opinion, the word "staff" connotes all members employed by the Company, unless a separate prefix like "clerical", "subordinate", or "supervisory" is used as a prefix to the word "staff", the word "staff" by itself does not mean only clerical staff.

The Provident Fund Rules of this Company, which apply to all Provincial Assistants, Provincial Engineers, members of General Clerical Staff, etc., describe the Fund as "General Staff Provident Fund," but the Union contends that since it is the General Staff Provident Fund, it means its members are all clerks. I cannot agree, for provincial Assistants and Engineers are also entitled to be subscribers to the Fund. So, general staff does not mean only clerical staff and subordinate staff, as the Union contends.

Then there are some documentary and intrinsic evidences, which shows that Sri G. K. Rakshit's job was not a clerical one. Reference may be made to Exhibit B, certificate granted to Sri G. K. Rakshit by Mr. West, Manager, Steel Bros. & Co., in which it is said that "Rakshit was placed in charge of the preparation of monthly accounts". Then comes Union's letter, Exhibit 6, to the Labour Commissioner, in which it had been reported in paragraph 1 that Sri Rakshit had been posted as Assistant to Shillong office and that house allowance allowed to other Assistants was not extended to him. (He was, however, getting Rs. 50 as house allowance.) All through conciliation proceedings, Sri Rakshit's case was that he had been an "Assistant", and as such, an officer. His complaint was that junior officers had been kept in service. On reading the Conciliation Officer's report, it is evident that he was fighting his case not as a clerk but as an officer. In the written statement of the Union also (paragraph 9), it had been stated that "there are Assistants junior to Rakshit".

On reading the evidence of Sri Rakshit in cross-examination, it is evident that he admits that there were clerks under him and that he had to supervise the work of clerks placed under him. It is further deposed that in none of the four clerical grades in this Company, the starting pay is Rs. 300. It is to be remembered that Sri G. K. Rakshit's starting pay in Calcutta office was Rs. 300. He further deposes that he was told that he would get dearness allowance on the basis of the two other Assistants, Sri Sakluna and Sri Lakshmanan, and that they are of the same status as he. Along with this, we read the evidence of Mr. Dent, the Manager, who says that Sri Rakshit was appointed as an officer and not as a clerk and that he would call Sri Rakshit an officer. It is also in evidence that it was Sri Rakshit's job to supervise the works of clerks under him and to see that necessary statement of the cloth business of the Company was compiled. Sri Rakshit had to do some correspondence himself. That does not take away his character as an Assistant, for in a big department Assistants have also to do some correspondence. It is also deposed by Mr. Dent that Local or Provincial Assistants do not get over-time. Sri Rakshit was a Local Assistant, and he never got over-time, which is only meant for clerical employees. The Provincial Assistants and Local Assistants are of the same rank. This is admitted by Sri Rakshit as well. It is further evident from the award of the Mercantile Tribunal (Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th September 1949—Steel Bros.) that Local Assistants do not belong to the clerical staff. In this award, the dispute was between Steel Bros. and their clerical and subordinate staff in their office. No provision of pay or dearness allowance, etc., has been made for the Local Assistants. If they belonged to the clerical staff, some provisions should have been made, in the award.

Mr. Dent's evidence is that there is no special grade clerk and that the dearness allowance of special grade clerks would have been according to Bengal Chamber of Commerce. They would not be entitled to house allowance. The claim of house allowance for clerical staff was rejected in the award. Sri Rakshit used to get Provincial Assistant's dearness allowance and house allowance. This shows he was an officer and not a clerk.

The true test of judging if Sri Rakshit was a clerk or not would be to find out the essential nature of his employment. It is to be seen if clerical work is the substantial nature of the job or was it accessory or incidental to his employment. The fact that Sri Rakshit might have himself to prepare some statement would not per se make his employment clerical. Even the top man has to do that sort of work occasionally. Much capital was sought to be made out of the statement of Mr. Dent that Sri Rakshit's work was more or less of a routine nature. But reading the entire evidence, it is clear that what he means is that as an officer his work was more or less similar every day and did not involve taking any decision or policy. He was primarily engaged to supervise the work of the clerks under him and also the job done in connection with cloth, and he would do the correspondence himself. He was primarily engaged to supervise the works of the clerks under him and also supervise the jobs done in connection with cloth. If any clerical work is incidental with a job, that would not make the employment clerical. (Reymonds case Appellate Tribunal, 1951, 1 L.L.J., page 167, also page 690 of the same volume.)

It has been sufficiently established that Sri Rakshit is an Assistant and now the question is if the Assistant is an Officer. On this point, much light has been thrown by the eminent counsel, Sri K. B. Basu, who was of great assistance to me in exploring the intricate points of law in this case. Sri Basu draws my attention to the fact that under the Gravabsand Piers Act (English Act) the Corporation was empowered under section 18 of the Act to appoint clerks, treasurers, collectors and such other officers or assistants as they may think fit. The section was—

> "That it shall be lawful for the said Mayor jurats and common Councillors from time to time to nominate and appoint one or more persons to be their clerk or clerks, treasurer or treasurers Collector or Collectors and such other officers or assistants as the said Mayor jurats, etc., shall think necessary."

The word Assistant in the above section was construed by Court as synonymous to officer Hawkins vs. Newman: 4 Meeson & Welsby, page 613. Per Baron Parke at page 613—the word Assistant seems to be merely another name for officer. Also at page 615, the words officers and assistants are synonymous and apply to officers who are to assist in the execution of the purposes of the Act.

It was contended by the Union that only Provincial Assistants are officers, as they help in the managerial functions and Sri Rakshit did not execute any managerial function. On this point, the Labour Appellate Tribunal in Appellate Tribunal Cases for May 1952, observed that "an officer or a member of the managerial staff" cannot answer the description of a workman. Even if Sri Rakshit did not execute any managerial function, he could still be an officer. The Appellate Tribunal makes a distinction between officers and members of the managerial staff.

The Union also relied on the definition of a clerk in Oxford Dictionary—"a person employed to make entries, keep accounts". This does not prove to be helpful, because Sri Rakshit says he had to supervise the work of the clerks under him, though he prepared some accounts.

Reliance was also placed on the account book, in which in the Puja Bonus Payment Sheets of 1947, Sri Rakshit's name finds a place under heading clerical staff. In my considered opinion, this was obviously a mistake. Sri Rakshit had only joined in March 1947. Subsequent Puja Bonus Payment Sheet for 1948, 1949 and 1950, does not contain the name of Sri Rakshit under clerical staff. It also appears that all Provincial and Local Assistants, Clerks or Typists are mentioned in the same sheet without any distinction.

Judging all these circumstances and evidence in this case, it is quite clear that Sri Rakshit was an officer, and as such, he is not an workman employed to do any manual or clerical work, as contemplated in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Issue No. 3—Was the dismissal of Sri G. K. Rakshit justified, and if he is entitled to be reinstated or to any other relief?

According to Sri Rakshit, he has been discharged unjustly and illegally and that men junior to him had been retained and that he had been unjustly discharged as a surplus. According to the Management, his appointment was purely temporary and that he had not been at all a permanent hand in Calcutta.

Regarding the appointment of Sri Rakhsit, it is admitted that he was first appointed in Shillong office with effect from 1st January 1944 on a monthly pay of Rs. 300, inclusive of all allowances in connection with the Company's Assam Government Agency. According to Sri Rakshit, he held same appointment under this Company in Burma and that after Burma Evacuation, he came to Shillong office. Whatever that may be, definite evidence regarding the service of Rakshit at Shillong is only available and the evidence—oral and documentary—show that his appointment at Shillong was a temporary one inasmuch as the Company secured an Agency business which terminated on the 30th June 1946. A circular had been issued by the Company to the entire staff to the effect that the staff except the Accounting staff shall be discharged after 30th June and will be given one month's pay in lieu of notice. So far as the Accounting staff is concerned, of which Rakshit was a member, it was directed by that circular that the Accounting staff in Shillong will be maintained until the Overhead accounts with Government will be completed which was expected to be done by 15th of August. In that circular it had been directed that if the Company could not offer employment in future, the Regional Employment Exchange would secure a suitable job. So purely this was a notice to discharge all the workers in view of the fact that the Agency terminated. Rakshit was working in Shillong and, according to the circular, would have been kept up to 15th August 1946, but he was allowed to continue up to October after which he went on leave for some days. The next document, Exhibit 2, which is the letter addressed by Mr. West on behalf of Steel Brothers & Co., Ltd., shows that the Company was thinking of future employment of Rakshit. The letter runs thus: "I am prepared to remit you salary for December in due course and trust you will be successful in finding employment elsewhere." This letter is dated 3rd December 1946. Rakshit replied to this letter—vide Exhibit 3. His reply would have been if he was a permanent hand that he cannot be discharged as he is not a temporary hand. But Rakshit submits therein that the news of discharge is quite unexpected and sudden, so far as Mr. West's decision to pay him off is concerned. He does not assert that he is a permanent hand. In that letter Rakshit also writes that he gave an indication to accept a post in Chittagong or Assam on a reduced scale of pay, should the Company fail to find a post for him at his present scale of pay. All this indicates that he was a temporary hand and not a permanent one. Had he been so, these submissions would have been out of place and he should have very much insisted that inasmuch as he is a permanent hand his service should not be dispensed with.

Necessarily no question of securing any job arises if he is a permanent hand. By Exhibit C, dated the 4th January 1947, the Company replied to this letter of Rakshit. Mr. West writes:—"If therefore nothing can be done for you..... I am prepared to consider your appointment on a temporary basis at a reduced salary to be agreed upon, etc., etc..... I would of course release you immediately for a suitable post elsewhere, the object of the offer being to afford you temporary financial assistance in "the interval." Rakshit accepts this offer, i.e., re-appointment at a reduced salary. Rakshit himself also deposes that he joined Gauhati office about the last week of January 1947 and got his pay from that date but no pay from 31st December 1946 till the last week of January when he was re-appointed purely by way of temporary financial assistance. So it is clear that his appointment was a temporary one and was terminated in December 1946 by the Company which was gracious enough to provide him by way of financial assistance and re-appointing him by the last week of January 1947. This shows that the Company dealt with him most leniently and kindly. It is also clear that the Company gave a certificate—Exhibit B—to Rakshit to help him in securing employment elsewhere and also helped him to secure a job elsewhere. Certainly this is not a case of dealing with a permanent employee. On this point Rakshit's evidence is that Mr. West in 1947 told him that he was trying hard for a job himself and asked him also to try for the same. Rakshit applied for a job in March 1947, under Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Peat for which Mr. West had given him a certificate. Exhibit G(2) shows that Rakshit was still employed in a temporary capacity in this office. Rakshit was brought to Calcutta. Exhibit G(1), dated 29th March 1947, is the relevant letter written by Mr. Massey to Mr. West at Gauhati:—"As we shall in all probability be able to employ him for at least a year from now, I am writing to Messrs. Price, Waterhouse, Peat & Co. accordingly". This envisages that Rakshit's appointment in Calcutta was also temporary. Nothing has been produced by Rakshit to show that he was a permanent man at Gauhati, or that he was appointed permanently in Calcutta. On the other hand, instrinsic evidences are strong to show that he was a temporary hand.

The Union contended that Rakshit's appointment at Calcutta was permament inasmuch as he was allowed to join the Provident Fund in July 1947, i.e., three months after his appointment in Calcutta. The fact of his joining the Provident Fund does not prove that he was permanent because by clause (2) of rule 5 of the Provident Fund Rules of this Company, a discretion is left in the Company to allow employees of any category other than the above to become members and also to waive the qualified period of 12 months' approved service as a condition precedent to joining the Provident Fund. That fact that Rakshit was allowed to join the Provident Fund after three months shows that the Company used its discretion and accepted Rakshit as a member of the Provident Fund though he did not complete 12 months.

Even assuming that he was not a temporary but a permanent hand, his retrenchment was justified inasmuch as it is always the Management who is to determine the labour force and it is the Management who will be the best judge as to who will be considered as surplus on the ground of economy or other reasons. The true test is if the Management acted bona fide. If there is no lack of bona fides, then the number of retrenchment should be accepted [Biswamitra Press—(1952), 1 L.L.J. (February), p. 181]. In this case the Company acted bona fide and tried hard to secure a job for Rakshit when he was discharged at Shillong and was always anxious to see that he is provided. There is nothing to show that the Company acted mala fide, but evidence is overwhelmingly strong to show that the Company was seriously thinking about Rakshit's future and was anxious to see that he is not out of employment.

So, in my opinion, even if Rakshit was a permanent hand, his discharge should be taken to be bona fide.

On reading Mr. Dent's evidence, it is quite clear that Rakshit was taken in for a particular job which the Company secured in March 1947. It was the Agency work for the Indian Tea Association on account of Indian Textile Association, as a temporary measure. This Agency was limited to two years. Rakshit's employment in Finance Department was purely in connection with Textile work which the Company had undertaken. Indian Textile Association work continued for only two years; on termination some time was required for winding up and the work went on up to the end of 1949. Rakshit would not have been discharged then and there because the Company, having some work in connection with reorganisation of Import work, placed Rakshit there temporarily. But when that job was finished, the Company was not at all in a position to provide him further. Rakshit was appointed to keep accounts of cloth in this Department and was in charge of that particular work which terminated in 1949. There was no cross-examination of Mr. Dent on this point. So, the evidence goes unchallenged.

It was next argued that after Rakshit's discharge, a new hand had been taken. But the evidence on this point is equally unconvincing for the total of the Department has not increased. No new recruit of Rakshit's category or otherwise had been engaged. The Staff Register shows that only one B. B. Roy, a "A" grade permanent clerk with longer service than Rakshit has been selected for promotion as a Provincial Assistant when Godfrey, a permanent Provincial Assistant, resigned in June 1950, when Rakshit was in Import. As to Roy's selection for promotion, Mr. Dent at page 2 in cross-examination says,—"He was in our permanent service for some years. His qualifications, etc., were noted and he was just the kind of person we would like to encourage for these posts." Rakshit was about 51 years old, but Benode Roy had longer service, which is admitted by Rakshit. The only clerical appointment in the chain of vacancy caused by Benode's promotion was of Sudhir Ch. De in "B" grade. This had no bearing on any event of Rakshit's post. If Rakshit's grievance is that the Company has been appointing "B" or "C" grade clerks in preference to him, certainly Rakshit would not be prepared to accept "B" or "C" grade clerkship. His case is of reinstatement to his own category, i.e., Local Assistant with basic salary of Rs. 350 plus special dearness allowance and house allowance.

It was next argued that the Company recruited a new Assistant—An Anglo-Indian—in the Finance Department after Rakshit was sent to Import. No evidence has been given by Rakshit about this or as to who this Anglo-Indian is. The Staff Register also shows no such new Assistant.

It is also alleged that there were Assistants junior to Rakshit in the Finance Department. On this point, the position is that there were covenanted (Provincial) Assistants. One of them was transferred to Rangoon in September 1947, and another was recruited. The other covenanted Provincial Assistant left in 1948 and another was recruited in his place. On this point, the evidence of Mr. Dent is important. "When Mr. Rakshit came to Calcutta, the two Provincial Assistants were Mr. Secluna and Mr. Lakshmanan. We engage young people to train them up." These appointments or recruitments were in 1947-48. Necessarily this does not much help Rakshit. A Provincial Assistant's service is transferable all over the East. Young recruits are taken for training. Rakshit was about 50 years at that time.

Rakshit's next contention is that one Mr. Lakshmanan had been brought from Rangoon. But it is in evidence that Lakshmanan was already an old Provincial Assistant when Rakshit was in Calcutta. Shortly after, he was transferred to Rangoon in 1947. In September 1951, he came back from Rangoon on transfer. No one was appointed even to replace him at Rangoon. After his arrival here, George who was appointed in 1947, was transferred to Gauhati.

Finally Rakshit says that two Madrasis were appointed after his discharge. But he has not mentioned their names nor Mr. Dent is asked about it. The Staff Register shows no such appointment. The only Madrasi names after the discharge of Rakshit in the Staff Register are:—

(1) 1951 September Mr. Lakshmanan.—The circumstances under which he came to Calcutta have been stated already. He was a Provincial Assistant.

(2) 1951 December K. Govind, a "C" grade clerk.—This is not a new appointment. He was a clerk already in Rice Department.

On reviewing the entire evidence, it is clear that Rakshit's appointment was temporary and that the Company bore no grudge or ill will or malice against this officer, for whom the Company tried to secure a job and, with a view to giving him financial assistance, was always eager to extend a willing hand. This clearly shows the bona fides on the part of the Company. It is difficult to believe why the Company should go out of its way and should retrench this officer for whom they felt so much and did everything possible to keep him as long as circumstances permit. In my opinion, therefore, there cannot be any reinstatement in the circumstances.

The next question that arises is whether he will get compensation. The question of compensation always arises where there is a foul play or where there is illegal or unjustified dismissal but, inasmuch as he was a temporary employee, no compensation should be granted. He had only completed three years nine months' service. But as his appointment was purely temporary and as his discharge was justified, I do not think any compensation should be allowed. However, as a matter of grace, two months' salary in full may be given to him purely as a financial assistance, which I suppose the Company will not grudge. I make my award accordingly.
